Dedication

The honor of this year's dedication could not be given to a more deserving man. The understanding and guidance that he has shown toward the students at P.H.S. will long be remembered.

He was a dedicated teacher for five years. For the past ten years, he has served as principal of P.H.S. In addition to the duties as principal, he has given a great deal more of himself by being a friend to all students.

Because of his devotion throughout the past years, we gladly dedicate the 1970 Panther Annual to Mr. William F. Coker.

THE WORLDS OF PORTLAND HIGH

Today's world is a modern complex of people, places, and events. In order to keep pace with this rapidly changing society, the students at Portland High School actively participate in all phases of school life. By meeting the challenges in school today, they are preparing themselves for tomorrow.

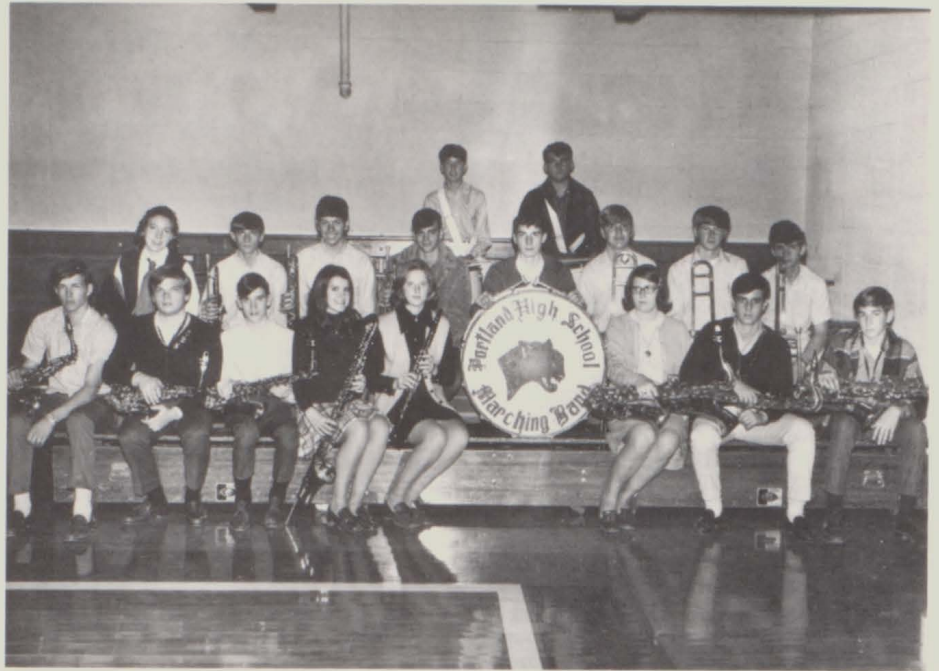

In presenting this yearbook the PANTHER STAFF wishes to show each phase of school life as being a part of the World of Portland High School. We now invite you to visit the many Worlds of P.H.S., 1970.

The pep band makes our pep rallies more livelier as the students get the rhythm and join in on the cheers.

The World of Activities

Extracurricular activities play an important part in diverting the students from the daily routine of classes. Participation in the many clubs and organizations results in an awakening of unknown abilities, an expression of new ideas, and a stimulation of present interests. In addition, they offer opportunities for forming friendships with those who have similar interests and similar goals.

The World of Academics

Since the greater part of a student's school years is spent in class, skills which can be applied now and in future occupations are put into practice. Many and varied are the subjects which are taught at Portland, but all have one thing in common—preparation for the challenge of life in the world of tomorrow.

Seniors eagerly listen as our Senior play is being explained to us.

The World of Leisure

Always to be treasured are those blissful recollections of laziness, laughter, and leisure. Though the moments may seem few, the students still find time to be light-hearted and to have fun amidst the hurry and worry of the school day.

The World of Sports

*Girls' Captains
Trudy Parks and Deborah Ferguson keep their team in the spirit of things during the games and practice sessions.*

Spectators enjoy two thrillers as both squads come out on top over the Lafayette Tigers.

*Boys' Captains
Luther Bratton and Robert Link keep that ball moving on the court and during practice as they guide the rest of the team in great ball playing and sportsmanship.*

The numerous aspects of sports are all important as major factors in encouraging enthusiasm and school spirit at P.H.S. The thrill of witnessing a winning play becomes just as exciting as being a participant in it. All students, spectators, and players alike, become involved in the games and develop the admired quality of good sportsmanship.

Members of the ADMINISTRATION of PORTLAND HIGH SCHOOL continuously strive to prepare students for participation and leadership in their future occupations.

In teaching these essential skills, faculty members stress high ideals and excellence of achievement.

Trips to the office aren't as bad as some people think.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

As you peruse this book, you become more aware of the many worlds of P.H.S. This realization will bring to some of you remembered moments of satisfaction or frustration, to others disappointment and anger. Others will give no more than a fleeting glance to this book because these worlds were, and are still, unknown to them.

To be part of and to gain from a world is not to view it as some distant star, but is to make the world you and you the world—to know no bounds or limitations except those you place on yourselves and to realize that nothing is beyond reach if you will take the time and initiative to work toward solutions, sustaining many temporary failures along the way.

As man has conquered the moon, may you conquer your own moons and always keep before you the frontiers on man's horizon. Profit from your own mistakes and those of others; be not dismayed in not finding a tree to cut down or land to discover and settle because you are entering a decade in which you can no longer be concerned with the minds of men.

Mrs. Bernice Green serves as P.H.S. Secretary—a job that has to be done.

Office Staff: Kay Patton, Lyn Shaub, Brenda Key, Janice Clouse, Sandy Collins. Seated: Sandye Coker, and Anita Stori.

Mrs. Joe Wiseman gives her time, effort, and understanding as she tries to guide us in our everyday life and our future plans. She is serving P.H.S. as our Guidance Counselor.

Coach Carl Fussell serves not only as Girl's Basketball Coach, but also as P.H.S. Vice Principal! We commend him on a job that has to be done, but one that is not frequently mentioned.

Faculty Officers: Mr. Myers, President; Mrs. Wiseman, Vice President; Mrs. Pruett, Secretary; Mrs. Holt, Treasurer; and Mrs. Hunnicutt, Building Representative.

Most students, at one time or another, think that the teachers are out for us with all the homework and words of advice; kids think twice, cause we really don't know what "they" go through. And after it is all over with, we really appreciate what they have done, even though we don't admit it. "THANKS" go to the faculty.

Maintaining a fine record in football and basketball, the Panther athletes excel in both fields of sports. Through very vigorous competition in various games, camps in summer, clinics, and tournaments, participants learn the art of good sportsmanship. The program of ATHLETICS at Portland Senior High comprises a beneficial curriculum to develop healthy bodies and to provide education and practice in friendly competition.

FAREWELL

The Freshman year . . .

—Those first classes,
never to be forgotten;

The Sophomore year . . .

—Long, so very long,
but more settled;

The Junior year . . .

—A feeling of anticipation,
worry, suspense, preparation;

The Senior year . . .

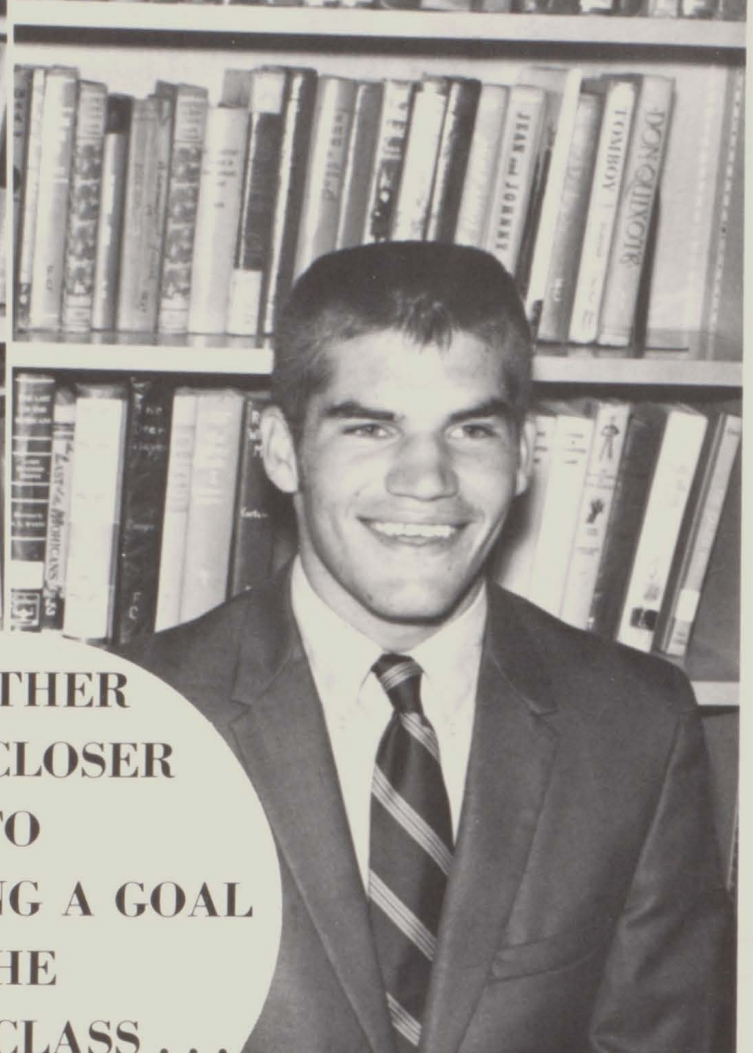

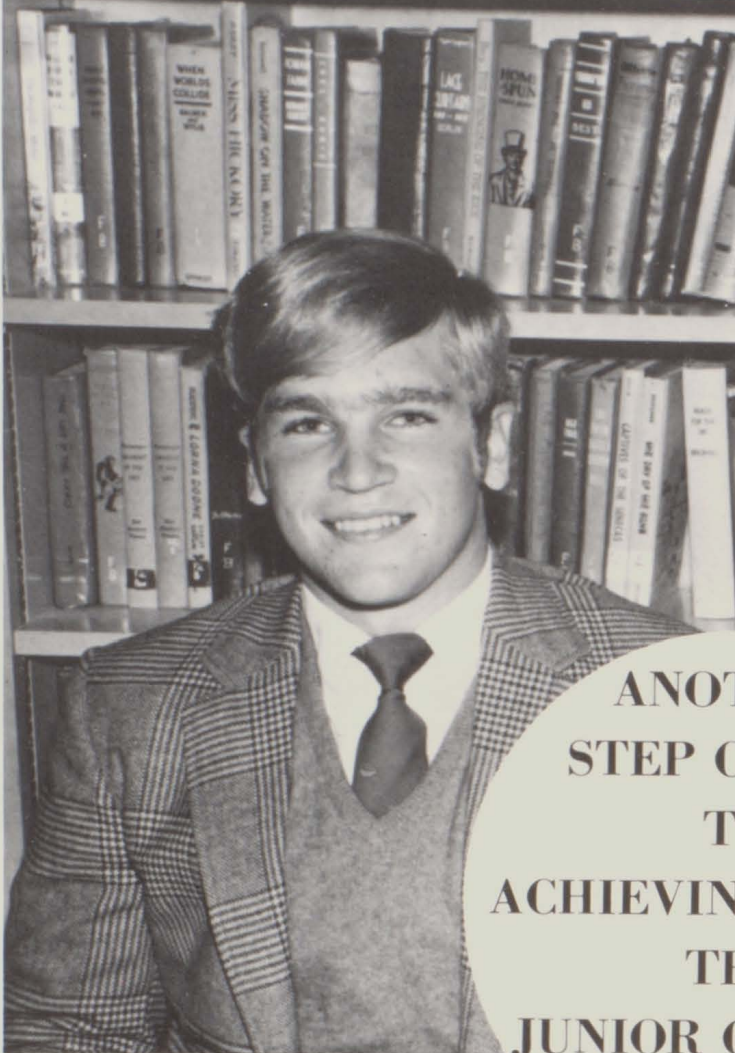

—Satisfaction, a job well-done,
memories, a hurried, last,
Good-bye.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

The junior high years are characterized by many leading educators as being the most important years of a student's schooling because of the vast amount of mental, physical, emotional, and social development that occurs during these years.

The World of Junior High has unlimited horizons. Reach for the stars in academic training and extra-curricular development. At the same time, set your goals high in the development of human understanding, cooperation, honesty, dependability, and responsibility.

To those students who progress to senior high next year, I wish for you the greatest of success in your continued education. Those students who are still a part of the Junior High World will have the opportunity to occupy one of the finest new schools in this area of the country.
