

Responsibility

If we see a wisp of smoke
Where it shouldn't be,
What is our responsibility?

Were we never taught
A wisp of smoke has dangers fraught?

On a peak far away
There's a Forest Ranger.
He can't always see
Where there is new danger.

See a wisp of smoke
Let two girls ride horseback to a phone.
Let the Forest Ranger know
he's not alone.
This is not a joke.

Organize help to dig a trench
Where the tree can fall,
Then bury it all.
But there still will be quite a stench.

A wisp of smoke need not make
A forest fire if you take Responsibility.

Virginia T. Mosley
Tenafly, New Jersey