

Paul Wegman

1945-2004

Paul was an accomplished director, performer, and female impersonator. His talents blessed the stages of Central Florida from 1975 and during his lifetime he performed in more than 100 plays. They include Bent, The Elephant Man, A Christmas Carol, Othello, On Tina Tuna Walk, Little Shop of Horrors, A Midsummer Night's Dream, and Love, Valour, Compassion.

His most infamous role was that of the bawdy "Miss P" spanning over 25 years at the Parliament House Resort. His playful banter on stage at The Footlight Theater left the audience crying out "Pussy" and "Roll" and his shout of "Put your hands together!" always created an on-cue clap from the audience.
