

Debbie Dean

d. March 31, 2008

Debbie began her career in theater as an actor, dancer and singer. In the mid-1990s, Dean started working as a stage manager for the Civic Theatre of Central Florida, managing production teams that included actors, designers and backstage crews. When the Civic Theatre partnered with UCF and became the Orlando Repertory Theatre in 2000, she became the full-time box-office manager and continued to manage shows for Orlando Repertory and other local theaters.
