

William “Bill” Miller

In an age when being gay or operating a gay business was dangerous if not life-threatening, Bill Miller was instrumental in opening several gay clubs like The Palace, Diamond Head, and most notably, The Parliament House. His shrewd business sense provided a safe place for gay men and women to meet, to flirt, and above all to be themselves.