MESSAGE TO THE SENIORS

FROM THE

-- SUPERINTENDENT AND PRINCIPAL

This commencement, to which you have looked forward for eleven years, marks the attainment of your goal and the end of your high school career. I hope that you will continue to practice many of those fundamental principles of life, which your faithful teachers have taught you.

Many of you have heard that this marks your entry into life. Rather, you've been living and enjoying life and will not depart from the things that contribute to the success of those who have the will and the perseverance to apply them.

One of the prime requisites of success still is hard work. I hope you are not afraid of it. Don't be misled into believing that the world owes you a living. The boy who believes that will wake up one morning finding himself working for another boy who did not have that belief. In the terms of the would-be piney-woods philosopher, you have been told that someday you were going to have to take your number 'levens out from under Dad's table and shift for yourself. Don't give up if at first you do not succeed; keep trying. There will always be a way for the boy or the girl who does not know now to accept defeat. This is not THEORY; it is FACT.

You have been a good group of students; and as we congratulate you we feel a lump in our throat and a tingle of regret and sorrow as we see you leaving the portals of the old Nederland High School. I wish you well. Come back and visit us every time you have an opportunity.

Sincerely,

C. O. Wilson

You Seniors have been assisted by your parents, friends, community and society as a whole during the eleven years of your public free school life. How well you succeed in future endeavors depends largely upon your acquired ability to cooperate. Thus far on the journey it has been mainly a one-sided affair. You have done the taking, whereas in adult life you must give as well as receive. Most of you have acquired the ability to cooperate with your teachers and fellow students, and I predict a full and successful life for you.

The road to success is not always easy. You have passed some of the difficulties and there are others to come. If you have the right kind of determination you can accomplish whatever you desire. There are still those who will tell you opportunities are not as great today as they once were. I am of the opinion there are greater opportunities today because we have a scientific world in which to prepare for life.

The Seniors of the present class have been a very desirable group to work with. I shall miss you next year.

Very sincerely yours,

G. Matthews

HISTORY OF THE NEDERLAND SCHOOLS

Firmly believing in the principles of education as set forth in our State Constitution, whereby provisions were made for the establishment of a public educational system, with equal privileges to all, the early inhabitants of Nederland put forth a united effort to establish such an educational system. In keeping with this policy, one of the first things accomplished by the Dutch settlers, brought to Nederland by the Port Arthur Investment Company in 1887, was the setting up of a school. According to the reminiscences of older citizens of today, this school was a one-room frame building, first used as a store house for the old three-story hotel, located on the present site of the Yentzen home.

This building was destroyed by the great storm of 1900. Some years later, a two-story frame building was erected on the present site of the C. E. Gibson home. This building did double service--that of church and school.

By 1911 the population had increased to such an extent that a larger building was necessary. The Langham School was built. This building met the needs of the community for several years.

But Nederland soon outgrew this building, largely because of the development of the oil industry, so that by 1924 it was necessary to provide more room. Our present High School building resulted. According to vast sources of information, there was quite a lively political fight centered around the selection of the location and the construction of this commodious building. But the town still continued to grow so that in 1928 it was deemed necessary to add a gymnasium and additional class rooms. At the present time all available space is being used in both this building and the Langham School.

So far, we have discussed only the physical features of the school. More important than these is the mental and spiritual development of the system. We now have thirty-one and a half affiliated college credits. Our teachers are all college graduates, and the curriculum has been broadened to include many cultural courses not formerly comprised in traditional academic subjects. Students and parents alike are proud of our school. They feel that it is one of the most important agencies in the community for the development of honest, patriotic, intelligent citizens.

BOOK TWO

THE CLASS

CLASS HISTORY

After interviewing every senior and going through the office records, fighting cobwebs, rats, and roaches, we finally got to the bottom of our class history; moreover, we vouch for the authenticity of every sentence of it.

The musty old files reveal that out of sixty-two Seniors, thirty-one started off to school together in the first grade. About fourteen joined us in Junior High, some coming from Kentucky, Georgia, Louisiana, Alabama, Oklahoma; others from various Texas towns, such as Mertens, Palacios, Orange, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Kirbyville, and even Port Neches, though they were a little shy in admitting the last named place.

We came into high school fifty-nine strong, with only one addition in our freshman year of football. Bootsie Gibson and Maurice Harvill were Prince and Princess this year in the Coronation of the Queen at Halloween. Can you remember when we used to have such celebrations? During our freshman year, we had two sections. Juanita Lumpkin was president of section A, and Joyce Hamilton of section B. Our motto was "Just Budding". Miss Estelle Wood was our home room teacher.

In our sophomore year, B. G. Weeks, Elaine Brister, Virginia and Wallace Erwin, Irma Crisman, Monroe Findley, and Bill Fuller joined our ranks. Dan Rienstra was president of Class A, and Zelna Gunn of Class B. Bettie Gene Goss and Maurice Harvill were Duke and Duchess in the Queen's Coronation. Our motto this year was "Don't try dying, but die trying". Our home room teacher was Miss Frances Earle. Those lettering in football this year were Herbert Foster, Laris Broussard, and Clarence Peter Bourque. This was another year that Port Neches fell before us.

In September, we entered school as Juniors. Dow Wynn joined us this year. Bill Hickman was president of the class, and the motto was "Try, try again." We had our first experience at putting out The Announcer, with Dow Wynn as editor. Juanita Lumpkin was elected Band Sweetheart. Do you remember the style show we put on in the gym to raise funds to elect her? Leslie LeBlanc joined our ranks. Three Junior girls were maids this year; Louella Biermordt, Lillie Mae Cessac, and Juanita Lumpkin. Seven of the boys lettered in football, one of which, Herbert Foster, made All-District rating. The other six were: Laris Broussard, Bill Fuller, J. W. Roberts, John Ware, J. D. Stark, and Clarence Bourque. Two yell leaders were selected from our class: Maurice Harvill and Bootsie Gibson. Miss Bess Man was our home room teacher.

Our Senior year has been the most eventful and enjoyable of all. Space forbids listing all who have been honored; such as lettering in football, sponsor and maids, music, declamation, and dramatic work; several students from the Senior class played in the champion band, some of

SENIOR CAST HONORED WITH DINNER

Miss Edson Mac Johnson was hostess at a dinner given for the senior play cast at the Enterprise Cafe in Beaumont. The hostess presented the girls with beautiful corsages and the boys with boutonnieres. In appreciation of her untiring efforts in directing the play, the cast presented Miss Johnson with a sight-saver pin-up lamp.

Those attending the dinner were Misses Mann, Bernhard, Pinkerton, Johnson, and Dow Wynn, Bob Ingram, John Ware, Maurice Harvill, Ellis Thompson, Juanita Lumpkin, Marie Lockett, Mary Louise Jordan, Peggy Wilson, Irma Crisman, Zelna Gunn, and Alma Jean Whitmire.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS ENJOY OUTING

Two Camp Fire groups enjoyed an over-night outing at the Poco

Club Saturday, May 6. They enjoyed cooking, dancing, and swimming. The Camp Fire guardians are Misses Bernhard, Simms, and Pickett. Sixteen girls attended this outing.

BAPTIST LADIES ENTERTAIN SENIORS

The Baptist ladies complimented the Senior Class on Thursday evening, May 4, at the Church with an informal reception.

Mrs. Troy Brooks was in charge of the program. Mrs. J. H. McNeil, accompanied by Mrs. B. F. Pace, illustrated a clever story with selections from popular songs. Voy Strother gave several good impersonations. The guest speaker of the evening was Rev. Moore of Proctor Street Baptist Church, Port Arthur. He spoke convincingly on Christians Education.

Delicious punch and cakes were served to about seventy guests-graduates and high school teachers.

SPANISH CLUB ENJOYS ANNUAL BANQUET

The Spanish Club enjoyed a banquet at Smart's Dairy, April 19. Mr. C. E. Doyle, County Superintendent, was the guest speaker. He gave an interesting discussion of customs and places of interest in Mexico. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Mathews, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Wilson, and Misses Pinkerton and

THINGS TO COME

THE SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

Imagine! Hubert Green is a baby specialist.

Clarence Bourque, who is disappointed in love, is now writing a column warning youthful lovers to beware the charms of women.

B. G. Weeks has discovered perpetual motion--his wife's tongue.

Ralph Matte is making a life-study of the natives of Africa.

Nettie Humble is head of the department of Girls' Sports at Vassar College.

Wallace Erwin is a prominent lawyer in Nederland.

Maurice McInnis is a rising politician. He is ably assisted by his wife, the former Juanita Lumpkin.

Charles Hayslette is head of the distribution department of The Saturday Evening Post.

Henry Franke is in Beverly Hills, and enjoys a large chicken farm for recreation. Julia Nita feeds the chickens.

"Tut" Biermordt has succeeded in making a "go" of her drug store. Of course her husband, Steve, helps some.

Solway Molling has gone a long way in her career. You'll find her at Sak's, Fifth Avenue, modeling hats and hose.

Levada Siau has married an electrician whose specialty is Neon signs.

Who? Minnie Ethel? Oh, she's married to Steve, of course.

Bert Van Oostrom has a large horse farm in west Texas.

Mary Lockler is demonstrating cosmetics and "Magic Mud" for a leading cosmetic concern.

Olin Clotiaux is playing ball for the Detroit Tigers---salary, $20,000 a year.

Starling Sandefur is chief scout executive of the Texas Boy Scouts.

Zelna Gunn is happily married and lives in Port Neches.

Peggy Wilson is a featured chorus dancer in the Ziegfield follies.

Irma Crisman is proclaimed by New York dramatic critics as a second Sarah Bernhardt.

Maurice Harvill is now a traveling evangelist and singer.

Virginia Erwin is a model for "Shorty" Brookner's store.

Warren Hawkins is a noted baritone under Nelson Eddie's instruction.

Gone Champagne is manager of the Sport's Club in New Orleans.

We always know Dow Wynn would do something with all that excess knowledge of his. He has written the sequel to How to Win Friends and Influence People.

Adel Schon is in Paris creating styles for tall thin women.

Mary Lou Goss is a floor walker for the White House.

Kenneth Shorer is another Bob Feller in the big leagues.

Lloyd Williams is the manager of the Jefferson Amusement Company.

Roland and Terrell Bernard have organized a Bernard Brothers Band, both swing and classics.

Ellis Thompson is on the Enterprise staff. He is chief Snoop or No. 1.

Gerling Irby has received her Master of Arts degree at Baylor (Continued page 39).

THE SHIPS THAT PASS IN THE NIGHT

AN EDITORIAL

Like the proverbial ships that pass unseen in the dead of night, the four years have come and gone, with never a blast heralding their approach or departure, but only a silent wake by which to distinguish them from the tide; thus the years come and go. There has been nothing very spectacular in our four years, nothing extraordinary enough to quicken the gleam in observant American high school life. But as the Seniors look back over the course, they are struck by the fact that the seemingly long struggle against sometimes torrential, sometimes calm seas, has really been a short one; that the voyage has not been too turbulent for a safe passage. That the tireless efforts of our parents and teachers have served as oil on troubled waters is all too apparent, and it is principally to them that we owe the supreme debt of gratitude. And, although we have looked forward to safe anchorage in the Port of Graduation, we are all, deep down in our hearts, struck with the significance that those have been the best and happiest years of our lives; and we are, in short, joyously sad to bid our own dear Alma Mater a final adieu. We shall do all in our power to profit by the knowledge we have attained in these four years, and shall strive never to bring shame or disgrace upon the name of the school we love so well. Working to keep our records straight, we shall faithfully remain the loyal sons and daughters of N. H. S.

them in the clinic band. It is enough to say that every day and hour has been filled with profit and pleasure, and that we are loath to leave the scene where we have spent such happy days.

But whate'er may be our mission,
We shall ever loyal be.

And our thoughts will oft be turning

Dear old high school, back to thee.

TRY THIS

Take your house number and double it. Add 5. Multiply by half a hundred. Then add your age. Add the number of days in a year. Subtract 615. The last two figures will be your age; the others, your house number. It works!

---The Masonic Herald

The average man takes about  $5\frac{1}{2}$  pounds of solid food and liquid each day, or a little more than a ton a year.

MYSELF

I have to live with myself, and so
I want to be fit for myself to know.

I want to be able, as the days go by,

Always to look myself straight in the eye.

I don't want to stand with the setting sun,

And hate myself for the things I've done.

I don't want to keep on a closet shelf

A lot of secrets about myself,
And fool myself, as I come and go,
Into thinking that nobody else will
know.

The kind of man I really am.

I don't want to dress myself up in sham.

I never can hide myself from me;

I see what others may never see;

I know what others may never know.

I have to live with myself, and so,

Whatever happens, I want to be Self-respecting and conscience-free.

Under the capable direction of Miss Mildred Lomax, the Grammar School Choral Club has accomplished much this year. Because of their diligence and cooperation their achievements have been gratifying to those who have observed their work. Throughout the year this has been an outstanding service group in our school organization, always being willing to do their part on any program.

They have enjoyed four well-deserved trips out of town. These have been educational, in that they were new experiences for the group. They sang over Station KPAC, Pt. Arthur, February 16, and again at an elementary assembly program; and were guests of the South Park School for the day.

Their best trip was to the State Music Competition-Festival at Huntsville on March 18. There they won a Division II rating with favorable comments from the judges. On this trip they visited the Houston Memorial, Houston's grave, and the three Huntsville divisions of the state prison system.

During graduation week they sang for high school baccalaureate and for the grammar school promotion program.

Review Of The Seasons In The Sports World

FOOTBALL, BASKETBALL HOLD THE LIMELIGHT

In response to the call for practice, forty or so candidates for grid positions turned out in the fall of '38. The raw team was gradually weeded out and narrowed down to twenty-three men, who dug their toes into the earth and got down to "brass tackles". The team, composed largely of inexperienced men, soon blossomed forth into a fair squad, under the expert tutelage of Coach I. B. Griffith. The season opened with the team not quite up to par, and the Bulldogs managed to eke out a close victory over Liberty, to the tune of 6-0. This decision was followed closely by a victory over Buna by a 14-0 count. The first defeat of the season was suffered at the hands of the Class A Orange Tigers, who romped over the Canines to the tune of 14-0. In the remaining few minutes to play, the 'Dogs scored six points against Saratoga to win their fourth game. Silsbee fell to the invading Bulldogs the following week, 12-0; likewise did Port Acres follow suit, this time to the tune of 19-0. This was the opening game of the conference season, and our squad tasted the fruits of victory with relish. They next tore into the Pasadena Eagles, and by smooth playing, took the game with a 12 to 0 margin. Then out of a clear sky, the dark clouds came rolling, in the form of the tiny French Buffs, who won the game by the count of 7-0. The Port Neches Indians, our traditional rivals, followed up with a 12 to 0 attack that laid the Bulldogs low, finishing the season. (Continued on page 31)

GIRLS' SPORTS ASSOCIATION

February 27 was the date of the high school girls' intramurals in basketball. The games were very exciting. The seniors came out victorious, winning a hard struggle over the juniors and also defeating the sophomores.

The volleyball team played two games with Port Neches, losing one and winning the other. They entered the interscholastic meet at South Park and placed second.

The girls have also taken interest in baseball this year. They have organized three different teams: the Catholic team, Methodist team, and the school team. The girls will continue playing through the summer.

THE FIGHTING SMILE

The finest battles a man can win,
Where the winning is better than gold,
Is the battle that leads to a sunny smile,
When the tongue's inclined to scold.

In fighting the battles of life,
my friend,
Has it ever occurred to you,
That the man who wins when others
fail,
Is the man with a pleasant word?

The folks that we like to see the best,
And the ones we count worth while,
Are the folks that always come to the front,
With a good old fighting smile.

---Harry Brokaw

REVIEW OF SPORTS.....

Next came a fast and furious basketball season. Port Acres fell before the invading Dogs as did Port Nechos, twice in a row. The highly touted French Buffs kept their slate clean by whitewashing our boys decisively in both appearances, thus winning the district title for themselves, with Nederland finishing second.

Intramural games followed, with the Seniors winning top honors, as is their just dues. Independent teams played several games in the gym which were of great interest to students who witnessed them. John Ware won the most valuable player award, which he richly deserved. Johnny captained the team to second place, and was the favorite of many a fan.

Track was soon to follow. Mr. Shepard coached the boys, and surprisingly enough turned out the best team since the days of O. S. Johnson. This team was not too successful, and placed on the short end in every contest. However, quite a few boys turned out and worked to the best of their ability, and thus, the Bulldogs placed in County Meet. Outstanding on the team was Tom Wills, winning the 880, and Clifford Broussard. This closed the sport season for 1938-39. All in all it was a fair season.

Next year's schedule is a tough one for the returning grid candidates. However, there are eight letter-men returning, and Coach thinks there are possibilities for this next year's squad. Those returning lettermen are: Charles Bailey, Garford and Clifford Broussard, Bob Graham, L. J. Nunez, Turrance Redditt, Dewey Guilbeaux, and Tom Wills. Joseph Concienne and Albert Van Oostrom are likely-looking prospects. With the right amount of determination, courage, and "stickability," we feel certain the Nederland Bulldogs of 1939 will go places in a big way.

SINGULAR PLURALS

We'll begin with box and the plural is boxes,
 But the plural of ox is oxen, not oxes.
 The one fowl is goose, and two are called geese,
 Yet the plural of moose should never be meese.
 You may find a lone mouse or a whole lot of mice
 But the plural of house is houses, not hices.
 If the plural of man is always called men,
 Why shouldn't the plural of pan be pen?
 If I speak of a foot and you show me your feet,
 And I give you a boot, would a pair be called beet?
 If one is a tooth and a whole set is teeth,
 Why shouldn't the plural of booth be beeth?
 If the singular is this, and the plural is these,
 Should the plural of kiss be nicknamed keese?
 The one would be that and three would be those,
 Yet hat in the plural would never be hose.
 So the English, I think, you will all agree,
 Is the most wonderful language you ever did see.

Lis'n, Lila!

A SHORT STORY BY SOLWAY MELLING

Lis'n, Lila! Don't you ever tell me again hearts can't break. They can, I'm here to tell you, and mine has. Broke, I mean. Well, broken then, Miss Smart. What's a little bad grammar when one's life lies practically in ruins about one?

What's it all about? Why I'm telling you! It's Lola's engagement! No, not mine, Lila. Lola's! My twin sister's, L as in lotto, O as in oyster, L--well, anyway, Lola is engaged and you'll never guess to whom--whom--Good gracious, how this thing called grammar can hamper one! Never mind the grammar. Thanks, darling. So kind of you. Come on out to the kitchen and we'll make some fudge while I tell you. There are some cookies around somewhere and a whole raft of sandwiches left over from Lola's tea.

Yes, I said tea, Lila. T as in--well, never mind--Lola's tea for Frederick. Frederick? Darlin'! I'm telling you.

Lis'n, Lila, I forgot you've been gone, too, all this last week. You can't imagine what I've been through! You know I'm not vain or conceited. I never thought I was prettier than Lola--even if my hair is golden where hers is just plain blond; or if my eyes are blue--deep violet blue, darling, while Lola's eyes are a kind of a greenish--gray or versa visa, as Miss Lucas is always saying.

You know yourself, Lila, everyone has always thought Lola the smart twin instead of the pretty one, although there are a lot of catty people who pretend they can't tell us apart.

Yes, I know I'm telling about Lola's tea. Don't rush me. You see it was this way, Lila.

Last Monday one of us had to attend Mrs. Morgan's Flower Show. Mother promised to go, but she had a headache and insisted on us--all right, Lila, our, then, going in her place. You know how I feel about flower shows, Lila. Nobody there but a lot of old--no darling, I was not going to say hens. I practically never speak disrespectfully of the past generation, even if they are about as "deadly as the dodder," as Miss Lucas said the other day. Now please, Lila! How can I tell you of the tea if you keep correcting me? Dodder or Dodo--can't I use poetic licentiousness if I want to? Oh, my pious grandmother's parrot. Is that wrong, too?

Lis'n, Lila, I'm telling you this in the strictest confidence. Lola, my own dear twin, has practically ruined my life! Never, never would I have thought if of her. She has always seemed so devoted; but she has, in my hour of need, cruelly failed me. I would have gone to the flower show if she had insisted--er--harder. I was nearly there when Patsy Davis caught up with us and asked us to ride out to the farm with her. Lola knew I shouldn't have gone off with Patsy. It was the mistake of my life! For after we got out to Patsy's, I telephoned mama for permission to stay over the week-end. Mama adores Mrs. Davis, and she said I might, and I has a perfectly poisonous time. You know Patsy--but how--I ask you--was I to know Frederick would be at the flower show? Or that Lola would be the only other young person there? And of course they were practically thrown at each other's heads--so to speak--right in the middle of the flowers and everything. And he fell for her--hard

NEDERLAND HIGH BAND SCORES HIGH HONORS IN STATE AND TRI-STATE MEETS

The Nederland School Band began its activities in the fall by playing and marching at the football games in Bulldog Stadium. The colorful uniforms, and peppy, spirited music added much to the school spirit and to the enjoyment by the public.

The Lamar-Nacogdoches game at South Park next found the Band participating in the activities and maneuvers at the half. Soon after this they took part in a parade and concert contest at the Fair Grounds. As a result, they came home with top honors, and incidentally, forty dollars in cash.

At Christmas, the Band sponsored a Fun Night program. This was the most original and enjoyable program given.

At different times during the year the Band has won merited applause as it appeared in four parades--two in Beaumont and two in Port Arthur. On March 17, the Nederland Band competed with a large number of East Texas bands in a Music Festival. This meeting was also held in Port Arthur.

On March 29, the Band scored a big hit in its annual Spring Concert. The drum majors were presented in a trucking-twirling number, and "The Nederlanders," a newly organized orchestra, came in for much favorable comment.

In the Huntsville meet, May 1, the Band placed first in both concert and marching contests. Sherill Smith and Evelyn Chester won medals in the twirling contests.

Our next public appearance was in Beaumont in a parade for the East Texas Chamber of Commerce. Winning first place on this occasion entitled the Band to be designated as the "Chamber of Commerce Band for East Texas for 1940."

Members of the bands experienced their greatest thrill in the trip to Abilene, where they took part in the National-Tri-State Meet. Although the journey was fatiguing, and the players were not at their best, they came through with second ratings in both concert and marching.

This year's record has been quite an enviable one. Much of the credit for success goes to Mr. C. R. Sory, our capable director. But the parents also deserve commendation for their loyal support.

GRADUATING EXERCISES

The graduating exercises for the High School will begin with the Baccalaureate sermon in the auditorium on Sunday, May 21st at 8 P. M. The sermon will be delivered by Reverend R. E. Day, of the First Baptist Church, Port Arthur, Texas.

Mr. H. J. Lutzer Stark, of Orange, will deliver the Commencement address Tuesday, May 23rd, at eight o'clock. This event will be held in the gymnasium. Dan Rienstra will deliver the valedictory, and Mary Louise Jordan the salutatory address.

The Grammar School graduating exercises will be held in the gymnasium on the night of Monday, May 22, at eight o'clock.

An interesting program will consist of a pageant called "Our Progress"; valedictory address by Hazel Ruth Greer; salutatory address by Betty Gene Sanderson; presentation of diplomas and honors by Superintendent C. O. Wilson and Principal J. A. Floyd; and songs by the Choral Club. The pageant is directed by Misses Floy Pinkerton, Mildred Lomax, and Barbara Pickett. Miss Lola Mae Fuller will be the accompanist, and Gloria Langham will do the reading.

Spring is here in all her glory--
In the flowers and the trees.
And once again the same old story:
Another class of seniors leaves.

Perhaps ours was a small showing,
But we're proud of the race we've won.

Our schools are rapidly growing,
There are bigger and better things to be done.

We say goodbye to friends so dear,
Friends we will always remember.
And then we'll scatter far and near.
We'll not be back in September.

The Juniors fill the place we va-

Juniors, there is work to be done.
There is lots of responsibility
at stake.

It can not be shouldered with fun.

POINT OF VIEW

The story is brought back by a traveler returning from the Far East, of an Englishman and an American who were introduced to a local Rajah. Addressing the Englishman, the potentate smiled and said:

"I note that you are a British subject."

The Englishman proudly admitted as much, whereupon the ruler turned to the American and remarked.

"And you sir, are a subject of the United States?"

"Subject nothing," bellowed the Yankee, "I'm one of the owners."

Haizlip. There are forty-five members in the club. The group was the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Smart and the Wolf Brand Company, who graciously furnished the menu. This consisted of Mexican food and ice cream. The occasion ended with group-singing of Mexican folk songs.

Beauxart Dance

Vonnie and Voy Strother were host and hostess at a dance given May 9, at the Community Hall in Beauxart Gardens. The guests were members of the Senior Class. Lyman Bernard and his band played for this occasion. Refreshments were served to approximately fifty seniors.

Surprise Birthday Party

Vera Mae Virgilio was honored by a group of her friends at a surprise birthday party at her home on May 3. Refreshments were served to approximately forty guests. Games and dancing were enjoyed by all.

Rose Maxey Gives Tea

Rose Maxey entertained the Senior Class with a tea on the lawn at her home in Pure Oil Row on Saturday afternoon, May 13. Those assisting with this lovely affair were Mrs. A. C. Thompson, Mrs. C. R. Maxey, Lillie Mae Cessac, Mary Louise Jordan, Peggy Wilson, and Juanita Lumpkin.

Bob Ingram Entertains

Bob Ingram was host to a number of friends at the Poco Club on Friday night, May 5, swimming, dancing, and "eating" was indulged in by about forty guests until a late hour.

Methodist Tea

The ladies of the Methodist Church will give a tea to the Senior Class on the lawn of the James McNeill home, Saturday afternoon, May 20.

FINAL CHAPTER

It's strange how one's mind wanders so, running reminiscently over the memories of by-gone days; it's particularly strange that your mind choses your busiest day on which to do its wandering. With a start, you come back to the present, with the knowledge that time is flying, and that you must hurry if you wish to get the dear old Announcer, and also strangely enough, you are not the least bit happy at the prospect.....in less than a month, you will be out of high school, out in the world of life, some of you.....you sigh, rather bewilderedly, as you recall the good old times that are receding rapidly into the past.....those gay escapades, hooky-playing with John Ware, Mac, and unmentioned others.....the fun in Peterson's tank, and the discomfort of the study hall seats during the six-day extra session that followed..

...Bird-dog Weeks' first date, with a certain Junior.....Strother, Fuller, Wynn and Company's perambulations.....Laris Broussard.....the sweet football season that could have been better but could also have been worse... ..the Band trips to Huntsville and Abilene, and a couple of night-owls on the latter.....Elmer McInnis.....Professor R. A. Ingram telling the world that he knows everything about everything .....

...the experiment of fermentation in the lab.....the now-disbanded Boys' Glee Club, singing "Trees" at last year's commencement exercises.....thumbing to Beaumont without permission from the principal and serving time for the same.....the sleep that overtook us in certain classes, no doubt caused altogether by the heat, and not the subject or the teacher.....that good old trig session, presided over by Mr. Wilson, which has been by far my best class in eleven years of walked home with her, and dated her for every minute of the weekend. Nora said he practically camped on our door step, but that, of course, was just her crude way of putting it.

Anyway, Mama is simply maudlin about it. She keeps mentioning some kind of tree. Ancestral! Yes, that's it. And last night she gave Lola her tea for Frederick!

Where was I? Why, Lila, you don't think I'd intrude myself on my own twin sister's affairs! Specially after that first evening after I got home from Patsy's. Mama came in and told me everything. Lola was engaged! She almost drooled, she was so pleased.

When she was gone, I decided not to wear the twin-sister dress as usual. I dug out a swanky one mama didn't know I had. It was one Aunt Ethel had left me for theatricals. I tried a new hair-do and piled on the rouge and mascara thick! Honest, Lila, I looked just like Lyrna Moy, you know--chick. No, Lila, I don't mean sheik. That's a desert lover or something. I went down early, and if I live a hundred that will always be my great moment! There he stood, my dream hero and just like that, I knew I was in love. Please, Lila! Don't beat the fudge now, I know it's ready. Here, put the nuts in and let it wait a mo---.

For one long beautiful moment we stood looking at each other, and I could see the amazement in his eyes. And then Lola came in and I knew too late that this was Frederick. Do you get the picture, darling? There was Lola looking pract--I know, Lila--but it's a good word. There are others? Well, name three--looking positively childish in that new little-girl frock mama bought us, and there was I--lis'n Lila, I know I may have looked a little odd beside Lola, but he needn't have laughed! Quick, Lila! The fudge! I'm starving.

Elaine Brister is a barker at the South Texas State Fair. We always knew her talkativeness would get her somewhere.

Fern Jefferson is president of the Women's Literary Society in Beaumont.

Lucille Spoor is dramatic coach for a group of Shakespearan actors in Houston.

The best barber shop in Nederland is run by J. W. Roberts.

Bill Fuller has been promoted from "Mess" boy to steward on the liner "Bettie".

Dorma Lee Hughes is a featured midget in Ringland Brothers' Circus.

Alma Jean Whitmire has taken advantage of her experience in the Senior Play and is house-keeper at a summer resort.

We find Voy Strother, last but not least, devoted to horses!

CHUCKLES

Spring fever got into Ellis Thompson's blood during Typing class the other day, and the following gem of poetic fancy rolled from his trusty "Royal":

Well, spring has come,
And winter has went.
But it were not
No accident

The birds have flew,
As you have saw.
And spring has come
To Arkansaw.

Lillie Mae: "I'm always tired on the first of April."

Possie: "Why?"

Lillie Mae: "Who wouldn't be after a march of thirty-one days?"

This is the way a vegetable farmer proposed to his girl:

"My darling sweet potato, do you carrot all for me? My heart beets for you alone. You are a peach, with your radish hair and your turnip nose. You are the apple of my eye, but if we cantaloupe now, then lettuce be married soon, for I know we will make a happy pear."

A squirrel looked at a freshman,
His mother's eye did meet.

"Yes, darling," said his mother,
"But not the kind you eat."

I trusted you;
I thought you knew.
I copied your paper;
Now, I flunked, too.

The spinal column is a collection of bones running up and down your back to keep you from being legs clean to your neck.

Laris: "My girl told me she weighed 115 the other night."

B. G.: "Stripped?"

Laris: "Yeh; she was in an evening gown."
