Ever wondered what's in an owl pellet?

When you sign up for this program and pick up your owl pellet bag, a Forest staff member will greet you with your bag and a live owl!

Join us for an interactive program about owl pellets on June 12 at 10:00 a.m.! Owls eat insects and small rodents like mice. The parts of their diet that they cannot digest such as fur and bones are then regurgitated as a pellet. During this program, you will be able to dissect an owl pellet of your own!

All registrants will receive an owl pellet bag, which will include two owl pellets and other fun materials for the program. Participants will pick up the bag the day prior to the program. A Forest staffer will greet you with your owl pellet bag and a live owl!

The program will be streamed live via Zoom on June 12. Participants will also be able to watch and interact with a Fontenelle Forest Raptor Recovery as they dissect an owl pellet live via Zoom.
