

This was a documentary photography project I put together during the beginning of the Covid lockdown. The images are designed to be a full installation, but I selected a few pieces that pair well together without the installation. There are letters at the end of each file name to help you pair them together, ie A with B, C with D, etc.