The library is made up of stories: history, fiction, and your stories too!. Please share with us what it has been like for you while the library has been closed. These stories will be displayed in our NEW Covid Stories From Our Patrons virtual exhibit beginning in July.

Return this form, or a separate piece of paper, when you return your books or pop it in the mail.

You may also email your story to us using the email listed to the left.

I can't live w/out books. When covid shot life down I had a stash of books for when I had time to read them. Grad school work cut down on reading time. I also could get books sent to me from Foyler. I began to realize ~~that~~ <sup>that</sup> many books I wanted to read were in Bangor Public Library. When I was able to get a card online I felt like I'd won the lottery. Plenty to read & create content for my book review blog. I'll be online for school this fall--no bus commute, no job! I have a project that will interest anyone wanting to read more about race & related issues: a 263 (4 growing) semi-annotated bibliography of picture ~~to~~ adult books. I'd be happy → to send it & for the link to my 9-year-old blog (over 1,700 books) if you email me at beaniebabylover@gmail.com <sup>picture to adult</sup>

I just like telling people about good books.
