

NANYANG
TECHNOLOGICAL UNIVERSITY
SINGAPORE

Master Programme in Museum Studies and Curatorial Practices

NTU School of Art, Design and Media and NTU Centre for Contemporary Art Singapore inaugurate a new Master Programme in Museum Studies and Curatorial Practices

Apply
Now!

Start in August 2018

Application period: 1 September 2017 – 30 April 2018

The MA in Museum Studies and Curatorial Practices has been designed to prepare graduates for professional positions in the highly complex and diverse museum landscape in Southeast Asia and the ever-expanding field of Contemporary Curating and Contemporary Art. This requires specific knowledge, experience, and creativity going beyond the conventional. Thus, this new study programme places great emphasis on addressing theoretical and practical challenges in working with art historians, curators, and experts with local, regional, and international experience on historical and contemporary art.

For more information go to:

www.adm.ntu.edu.sg/Pages/MA.aspx