Blacksburg High School
South Main Street
Blacksburg, Virginia
24060
Vol. XLIII

An unexpected backdoor visit from a former principal began your career at Blacksburg High School. Since that day in the '40's when you deserted your ironing board to become a member of the B.H.S. faculty, you have rendered valuable aid to thousands of students.

Few of us realize that, upon graduating with a degree in home economics from Radford College, you became a governess to a family in Kentucky. Returning to your home in Blacksburg one year later, you married and reared a daughter, Ginger, who is presently an instructor of chemistry at Colorado A & M in Denver. When requested to fill the vacant position of librarian at B.H.S., you eagerly returned to school and gained the needed qualifications. The task was not an easy one, but guided by your husband's ardent encouragement, you successfully made the transition from housewife to librarian.

Having an insurmountable amount of energy, you have given the most of yourself to Blacksburg High School. Sponsoring the active library club is just one of the many activities that you are involved in. No Laurel Chain could ever have been constructed without your very able assistance, for who else would have the patience so carefully to separate the laurel leaves from their branches. In the past, you have even assumed such duties as selling ice cream in the library to raise money for athletic uniforms and substitute teaching when needed.

For many years you have given your capable assistance to all who have walked through the library doors. Your ability to find redeeming characteristics in those you meet has brought you many lasting friendships with students. Because we realize that Blacksburg High School means everything to you, we want to express our deep appreciation for your endless devotion by dedicating this 1973 POW WOW to you, Mrs. Phoebe Wall Linkous.

"Bottom's up! Coffee is the staff of life."

You People Have Got To Get Quiet!

"Don't you dare drink those fattening cokes!" says Mrs. Linkous, the unofficial President of the B.H.S. Weight Watchers.

The library wouldn't be the library without Mrs. Linkous.

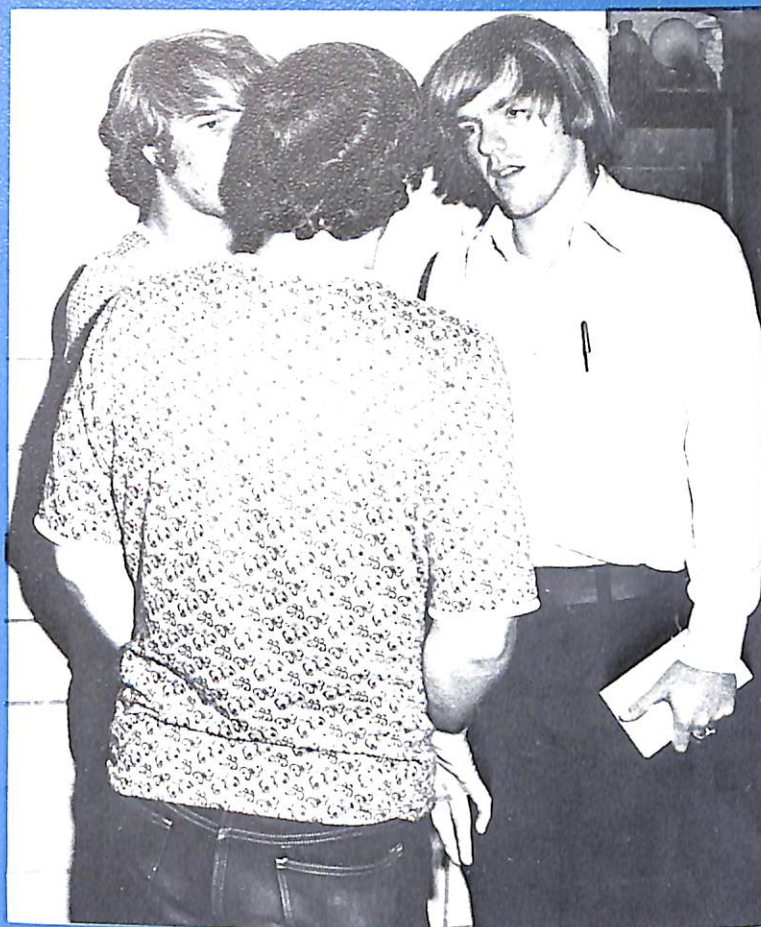

If you don't get quiet this instant . . .

Blacksburg police enforce the above sign this year due to greatly increased traffic and a petition by the class of '72.

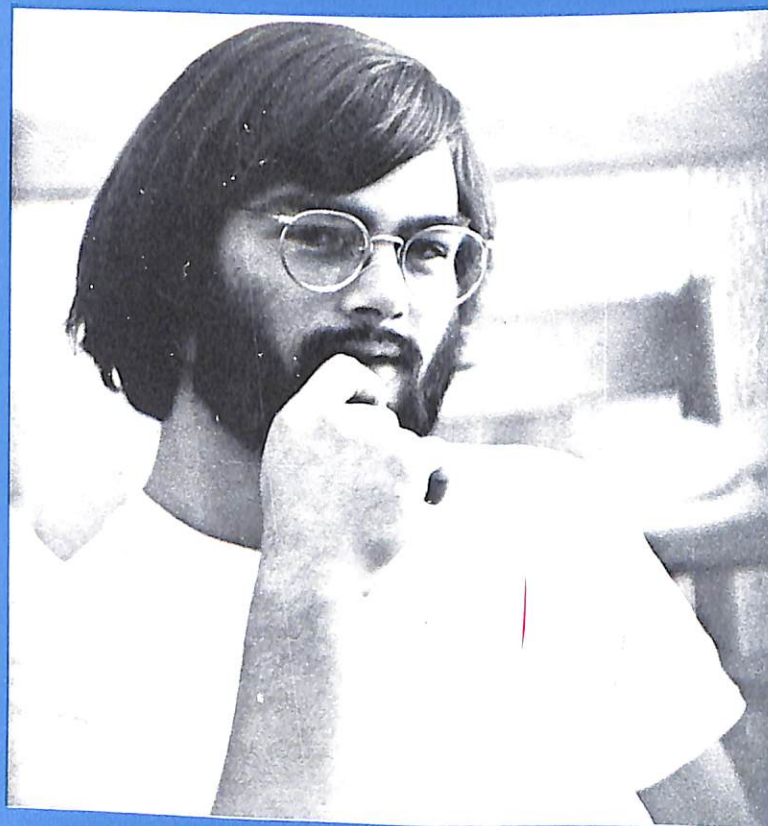

Mike Dye, Mike Cole and Bill Pavlik find a rare quiet moment for conversation in a usually noisy hall.

Fourteen into Nine: the Dilemma Is Not Unique

Today more than 1400 students study in a building designed for 900.

Blacksburg High School's dilemma is not unique. Numerous schools across the country face overcrowding and the need for expanded facilities. The present Blacksburg High School building opened for classes in 1952. Its planners were farsighted and predicted that it would not long be adequate. Many county residents were not. Early bond issues for construction of a new school were proposed and defeated.

Freeman Marvin ponders the BHS dilemma.

In an overcrowded situation, teachers rarely find time to help students individually. Here Mrs. Roberta Minish aids Janie Sheppard.

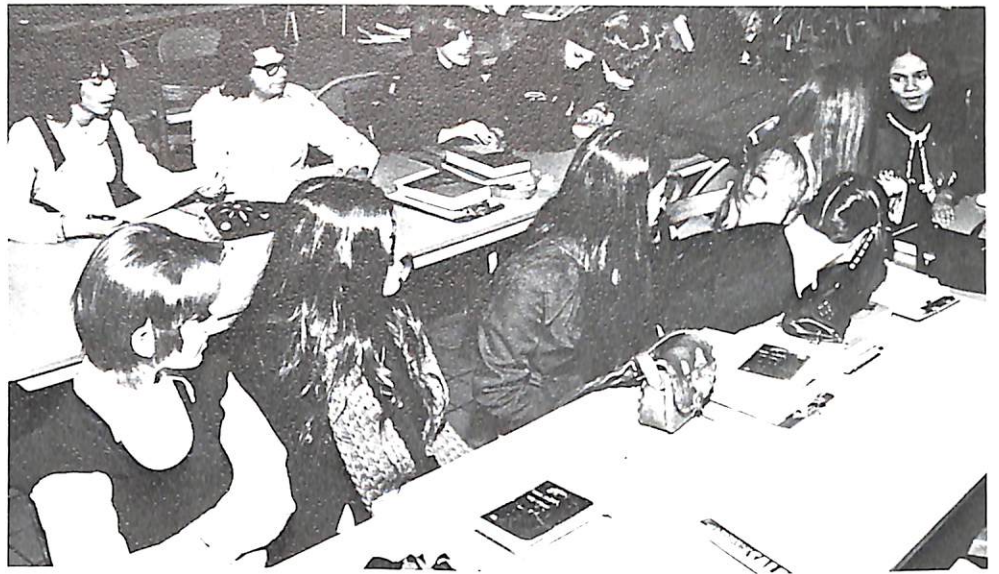

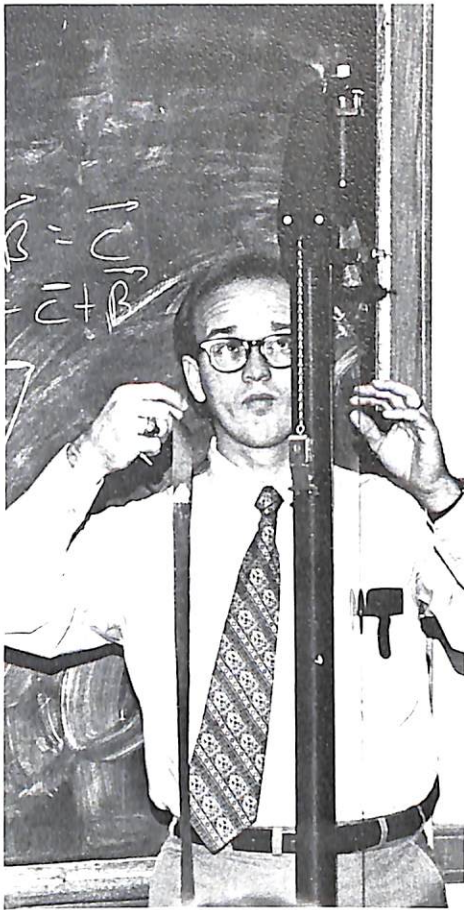

Coach Bill Brown gives last minute instructions to some varsity squad members during the Blacksburg-Narrows game. The team competes on an improved and redesigned field this year.

Upper Right: Speech and Drama, which meets in the cafeteria, and Pow Wow, which meets in the cafeteria hallway (right), are both looking forward to having a classroom next year. Meanwhile, Dr. James Bond (above), yearns for the well-designed scientific laboratories that the new school will offer.

The new Blacksburg High School, now under construction on Patrick Henry Drive, should open in 1973.

Students often gather in the main hall to discuss the plans for the new school.

The Anticipation: NEW Is Perfect

A new Blacksburg High School will open for the 1973-74 school term. Its coming has been the theme of this year at BHS. Students, faculty and townspeople alike anticipate its opening with a near-religious fervor.

Students glamorize the TRANSITION from a five-year high school to a four-year one as a mark of sophistication. Teachers expound on the generous and up-to-date equipment and materials which will enhance their instructional programs. People of the community expect an unrivaled education for their children in a building already credited with perfection.

Marcia Dubose daydreams about the future.

Principal A.C. Gray, who has worked diligently for many years to gain support for a much needed high school facility, will see the fulfillment of his dreams next year.

The 1973 Pow Wow attempts to bring the arrival of The New High School into a better perspective than that outlined on the preceding pages. The school year 1972-73, the finale for the old BHS, has demonstrated more than any other that the quality of an education is not measured by the size of a building or the number of people crowding its halls. Unlike previous anticipatory years, 1972-73 has been marked by a mature TRANSITION from the old to the new with an appreciation of the present experience and its ability to enrich the future one.

The class of '73 is the 20th to graduate from BHS.

1972-73: The Transition Is Mature

Eighty percent of the students at BHS are bused from a radius of 25 miles.

The next graduates will be 8th-graders.

Industrial arts students spend much time working on projects during the year.

The cafeteria serves over 658 students daily.

Due to a fantastic effort by the Athletic Foundation BHS has a new football stadium.

Dreams of Tomorrow Are Interrupted

BHS students, like others across the nation, wore P.O.W. bracelets, and waited for the day when the man, whose name they wore, would return home.

Nineteen years ago, B.H.S. students experienced the same transition that 1973 students will encounter next year. Those students and faculty members moved from the old Blacksburg High building, which had been constructed in 1909 and was located on Draper Road, to the present school facility.

On a cool day in January, students and teachers alike, loaded with books, boxes and other paraphernalia excitedly made trip after trip between the old and new buildings. Only heavy equipment, such as desks, were moved on trucks.

The new high school offered more math, science and music courses, along with new Industrial Arts, D.E. and I.C.T. programs. However, as with most things there were drawbacks. The school had no cafeteria, no P.A. system, and no cold water fountains. Only a minimum amount of heat was provided. A constantly improved academic program, has seen the growth of the faculty from 25 in 1954 to 73 in 1973.

Beyond the boundaries of Blacksburg, in 1954, the first atomic submarine, the Nautilus had just been launched. The world was relatively quiet. Today, the U.S.A. is just beginning to see the start of peace once again. A ceasefire in Viet Nam went into effect on January 27, 1973. On February 12, millions of Americans wept with joy as they witnessed the arrival of the first P.O.W.'s at Clark Air Force Base in the Phillipines.

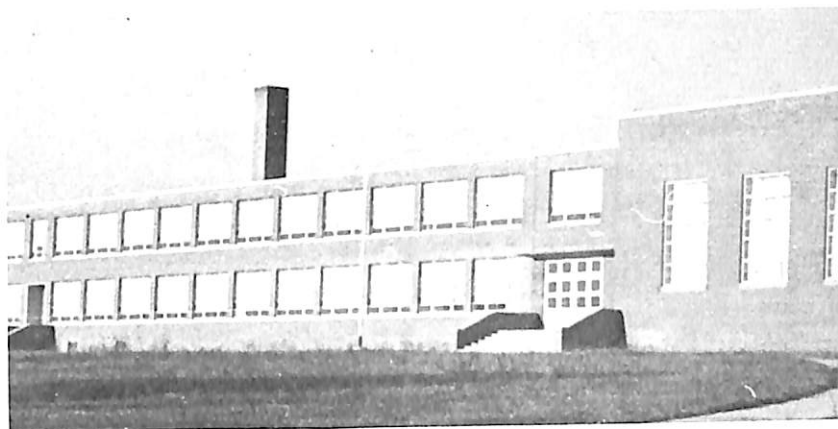

Mr. A.C. Gray (1961 — present) and Mr. R.T. Hale (1953 — 1961) share the honor of serving as the principals of the present BHS. Both feel that the greatest credit to the high school is the quality of its graduates.

This year 18-year-olds were given the right to vote, but it was not a requirement in the mock election shown here. Ruth Hynton, Roger Ellmore, and Kathy Mook registered voters as they came to the polls. The mock election, like the national one, showed President Nixon as a victor.

by Memories of Yesterday . . .

Pictured above are mementos of the last TRANSITION year, 1954. From left, dedication program, 1954 Pow Wow (look closely and spot some familiar faces), graduation program, and two commemorative issues of the Tattle Tale.

Opening day at BHS in 1954 showed the front lawn bare of bushes and trees, and a sidewalk under construction. The halls were, as they are now, overcrowded to a less degree, having 200 more students than the building was built for.

The opening of the present BHS showed the scene the same, but many different faces. However, some are familiar to us now. The front row shows Mr. Bob Brown, Mr. Dave Surface and Mr. Don Kelsey as students, as they were when the school opened. The back row has Mr. R.T. Hale, who was principal then, Mrs. Phoebe Linkous, Mrs. Susan Turner, Mrs. Virginia Hummel, Mrs. Ruby Pace, Mrs. Ruby Scott, Mr. Bill Brown, and (right) Mr. B.G. Cromer, who were teachers during the grand opening.

Administrators Coordinate School Activities

Essential to an effective school system is efficient leadership. Mr. A. Curtis Gray, with the valuable assistance of Mr. Lawrence C. Heiskell and Mr. Linden P. Colley, coordinates school activities, corrects various problems that may arise, and represents the interests of the students and faculty in the community.

Mrs. Gaynelle Rice and Mrs. Betty Lamp sort and store the endless stream of records and files which sift through the main office the entire school year.

Principal A. Curtis Gray is a W.C. Fields' fan.

Secretaries Mrs. Betty Lamp (left) and Mrs. Gaynelle Rice aid Mr. Lawrence C. Heiskell in encouraging student attendance

Guidance counselor Mrs. Carolyn Linkous advises Ricky Johnston.

Senior Counselor Mrs. Doris Abraham discusses college prospects with Diana Rolison.

Above: Guidance personnel Lucas, Abraham, Pendleton, Brown, Linkous, Scott, and Cole. Right: Mrs. Claire Cole frequently phones parents.

Mrs. Jane Lucas and Mrs. Mary Pendleton keep track of students' progress.

Guidance Counselors Monitor Progress

The guidance department offered advice and consultation to students during the year. Counselors' tasks included administering tests, reviewing permanent records and four-year plans, and preparing class schedules for the upcoming year.

Pamphlets and bulletins were available for students interested in colleges and additional information was provided on vocational studies opportunities.

Movies, Audi-Visuals Enhance English Classes

The general aims of the English department this year were to help students strengthen their personal writing abilities, learn to interpret literature and improve their grammar. These objectives were carried out by emphasizing themes, term papers, speeches and textbook material. Students however, were not restricted to the mere use of textbooks in the classrooms. Audio-visual equipment often provided the diversity that was needed in the classroom to keep students interested. Along with the regular activities of the department, movies such as Mary, Queen of Scots were seen to bring a cultural atmosphere to the classes. Teachers in this department also sponsor the Cue & Curtain, Forensics and Thespian Clubs.

Mrs. Jane Carr explains term paper techniques and instructs all students to write on some aspect of Huck Finn.

Poe read to eerie music is among the unique lessons of Marie Wilson.

Mrs. Peggy Moore spices her classes with descriptions of her trip to Hawaii.

Mrs. Susan Bell (above) and Mrs. Anne Amos (below) sponsor the B.H.S. literary publications.

Cultural Arts Have International Flavor

Foreign languages, music, band, speech and drama, and the library were the basis for the BHS cultural arts program. Cultural arts helped students to find new and exciting ways to express themselves.

Latin, French, and Spanish made it possible for in-depth cultural studies of several countries, as well as oral pronunciation, translation, and mythology.

The Concert, Freshman, and eighth-grade choirs along with the Madrigals worked diligently forming programs suitable for many types of audiences. In addition to numerous performances, these choirs attend various choir festivals.

Field Shows, marching competitions, concerts, and all regional band tryouts headed the main festivities for the Warrior Band. The Stage Band, and Cadet Band were also groups of the band program.

Speech and drama helped students to build creative talents, and to make them more confident while speaking in front of an audience.

Imagination played a large part in art courses. Students tested their artistic ability in such areas as enameling, making pottery, painting, and drawing.

The library aided students with available reading and reference materials.

Miss Patricia Woodford lived and studied in Valencia, Spain.

Mrs. Phoebe Linkous (above) is caught in a rare moment of rest. Mrs. Susan Turner (below) wears a hat to show her school spirit.

Mr. Ernest Thomas works many hard hours to develop excellent bands.

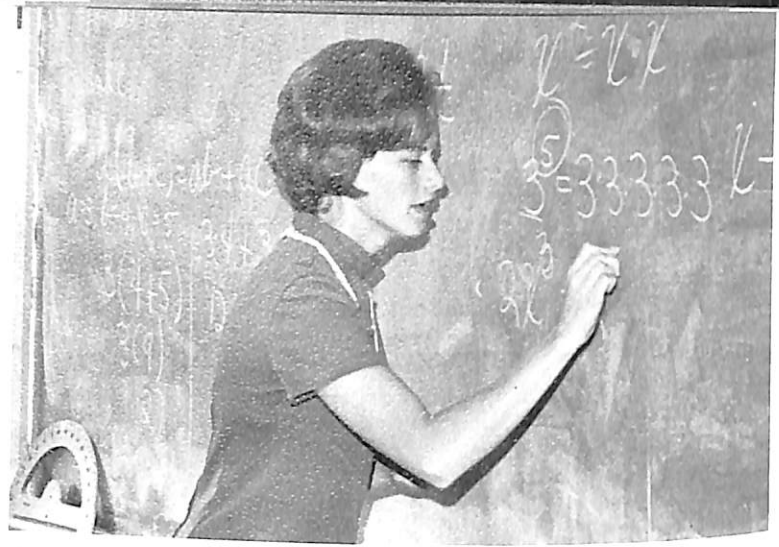

Mrs. Ruby Pace teaches the challenging and demanding advanced math course.

Mathemagicians Intrigue Challenge Students

"Mathemagic" was the theme of the 1972-73 mathematics program at Blacksburg High School. In addition to regular studies through the math 8, algebra, geometry, trigonometry, and advanced math sequence, students pursued such fascinating topics as: psychosychers (super hard problems given to students as bonus work); computer science, which utilizes a mini-computer on loan from the V.P.I. & S.U. chemistry department; complicated calculations whose solutions are facilitated by the use of two new electronic calculators; and games such as the sophisticated Pit-fall, Yuke and Jeopardy.

Seniors Diane Frederick, David Herndon, and Bob Miller placed third in the regional mathematics contest held at Radford College.

Sailing with her husband and dog, Reb, occupies Mrs. Joan Hooper's weekends.

Accuracy is the rule for mathematicians (front) Miller, Howerton, (back) Dixon and Peters.

Mrs. Sarah Howerton encourages future teachers through the F.T.A.

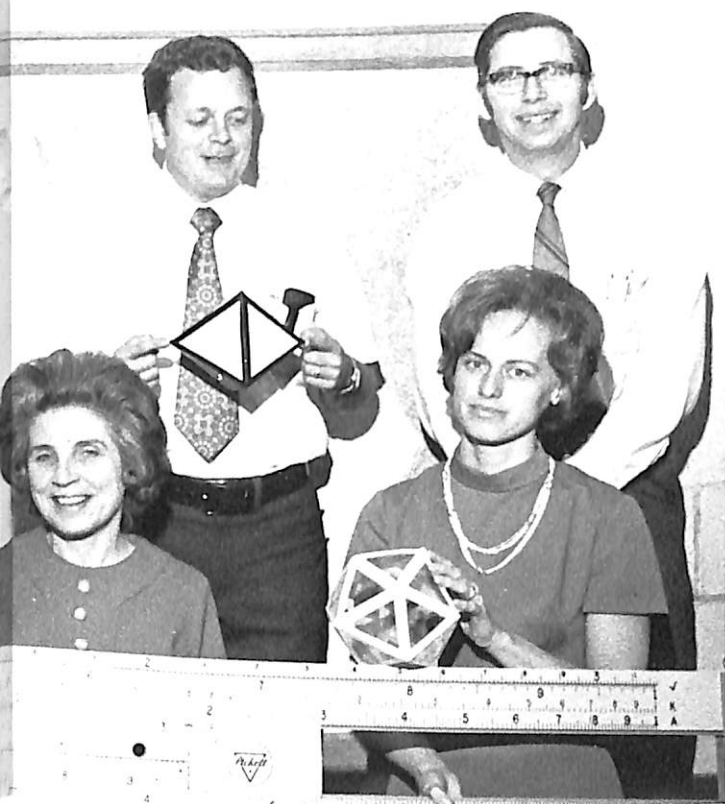

Mr. Donald Kelsey plays a few rounds of golf to relax after teaching.

Business math has a new dimension this year as Mr. Ben Eichelberger instructs students in computer science.

Teachers (front) Pace, Hooper, (back) Kelsey, Eichelberger illustrate concepts with the slide rule and geometric figures.

Bicycling claims the spare time of Mrs. Virginia Dixon.

Mr. Tom Peter's classes feature homespun jokes and problems.

Phaedra, the cat, is Mrs. Virginia Miller's favorite character outside of class.

Students Become Aware of the World

Dr. James Bond reminds his classes that "Chemists are physicists who didn't quite make it."

Mrs. Betty Semones (above) and Mrs. Patricia Burleson (below) emphasize the scientific method in their laboratory courses.

Testing hypotheses is the speciality of scientists Burleson, Lenker, Fay, and Bond.

Around Them

The apparatus collected by experimenters Semones, Wilfong, Surface, and Domermuth is interesting, to say the least!

Five new teachers in the Science department brought varied, valuable and unique backgrounds to Blacksburg High School. Academic preparations included Clemson University and Messiah College. Interests ranged from Dr. Bonds' showing American saddlebred horses to Mr. Surface's one time job in a logging camp.

The scientific approach consisting of hypothesis, observation, experimentation, and conclusion was emphasized in all science courses from Introductory Physical Science and Earth Science to Chemistry, Physics, and Biology.

Nabeel Adra, Meggin Wright, and Dennis Allen manipulate the computer (above). Mrs. Jane Wilfong is a blonde (below).

Mrs. Thomasa Fay (above) and Mr. Dan Surface both enjoy instructing the science of life.

Mrs. Sandra Sumner has a prize poodle named Bomantique.

Mrs. Jane Rivers' love of travel spices her lectures.

Working crossword puzzles is a past-time of Mr. Zimri S. Holmes.

History Develops Perspective

Mrs. Loreta C. Walker's approach is one-to-one as shown here with student Deena Keaton.

Historians, Sumner, Visheneski, Reynolds, Holmes, Rivers, Perkins, and Walker, pose with their tools.

One of the main purposes of studying history was to help students to fully understand the past, in hopes that we may better understand ourselves. History, geography, and government allowed students to study many aspects of different societies in the world. Students studied the past, and applied this knowledge to present situations. Learning the fundamentals of our government gave students a background for more advanced studies.

Hand crafts and bridge busy Mrs. Annette Perkins after hours.

Mrs. Ann Surface performs one of her less sporty duties.

Physical Education Builds Stamina, Spirit

Learn the rules of speedball — take girls physical education. The girls' program also included basketball, volleyball, gymnastics, field hockey and crab soccer. The girls Junior-Senior class had a chance to specialize in the finer aspects of each sport such as individual balance beam and uneven parallel bar work. They also had opportunities to play tennis.

The boys program included basketball, volleyball, football, crab soccer and softball. Junior and senior boys could also participate in a gym class, playing basketball, football and baseball.

Mr. Bill Brown boasts 23 years on the faculty at BHS.

Mrs. Linda Phillips likes crafts and dancing.

A carpentry buff, Mr. Alan Wiley admires Vince Lombardi.

Mrs. Juanita Colley likes Pearl Bailey.

Business Prepares Students For Commercial Occupations

Have you ever wondered where you can learn to type? How about bookkeeping? These were all courses offered by the Business Department.

Distributive Education and Industrial Cooperative Training provided students with the opportunity to have "on the job training" in part-time employment in the area they hope to pursue after graduation.

Mrs. Rubye Scott has the unique hobby of collecting glass bells.

Organic gardening occupies the spare time of Mr. Robert Price.

A new emphasis in home economics classes is shown as teachers Minish, Wiley, and Wright play Careers. Student teacher Mrs. Harriet Caldwell looks on.

Mrs. Bertha Wiley teaches students like Mary Shelor many novelty sewing techniques.

Mrs. Roberta Minish (above) and Mrs. Annie Fred Wright (below) enjoy handicrafts.

Home Ec Emphasizes Careers In and Out Of the Home

Home Economics taught girls efficient methods of cooking, sewing, knitting, decorating, and other related areas. Four-year programs were offered along with science home ec and a special first-year course for senior girls. Gaining experience in homemaking can be valuable for many girls in the future.

Industrial Arts, Vocational Agriculture Perfect Craftsmanship

Skills which may prove to be useful in the future were developed in vocational arts classes. The Industrial Arts department taught students such skills as woodworking, leathercrafts and drafting. These students exhibited elaborate chairs, tables, and book-cases which they had completed during the year. Courses were taught in the Vocational Agriculture department which would allow students to develop a keen knowledge of modern farm production. These courses included dairy-judging, crops and planting.

Mr. Frank West likes to fish.

Auxiliary Services Support Activities

Eighty-percent of the students at Blacksburg High School rode school buses from a radius of 25 miles. Despite the potential problems of a transportation system so far-reaching, schedules were arranged to provide maximum efficiency and comfort for all passengers. Mr. Bob Price was BHS coordinator.

The PTSA explored the school lunch program in depth this year. In response to some student criticism federal Class A lunch standards were detailed with their stringent vitamin and mineral requirements. A student committee planned menus during National School Lunch Week. The hot lunch provides one-third of minimum daily nutritional needs.

Custodial service maintained buildings and grounds clean and ready for school activities. Duties were performed seven days a week around the clock.

Interdisciplinary Studies Feature Press, Stage, Terminal

With the ever-increasing emphasis upon interdisciplinary studies, the academic program at Blacksburg High School has enriched its offerings with instruction in journalism, computer science, drama and pre-vocational skills. Journalism was taught as a part of the publications classes for the newspaper, Tattle Tale, and yearbook, Pow Wow. Computer science spiced business math and algebra classes with a terminal on loan from V.P.I. & S.U. and students were given an opportunity to join Saturday classes in the subject at Tech. Juniors and seniors attended several classical and contemporary films at local theaters to help develop discriminating taste in drama viewing. Eighth- and ninth-grade boys and girls combined science and mathematics principles with activities in the shop and kitchen to improve both. Faculty members participated in many workshops to augment their preparations for these courses.

Teachers Enrich Preparations With Conference, Seminar Attendance

Provocative titles in Philadelphia, Knoxville, Atlanta, Richmond, and Seattle have lured Blacksburg High School faculty members to conventions. BHS teachers served on several conference boards and their contributions to their fields were county-, state-, and nation-wide. This year eight instructors participated in a year-long study of "Reading in the Content Areas" conducted by Mr. Ed Daughtrey of Norfolk. Lectures, seminars and projects were meshed to familiarize teachers with the reading needs of students in other subject areas. One Algebra II class was featured in a videotape presentation to county participants showing the adaptation of a reading skill to math.

Teachers and administrators were commended by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools as Blacksburg High School was admitted to membership after meeting the association's stringent accreditation standards.

As Pres., Freeman Marvin has shown the winning touch again.

As V.P., Robbie Gross watches for any Pitfalls that Freeman might fall into.

Treasurer Mary Blanton has a monopoly on the Senior Class money.

As the one who sizes things up and makes them known to the press, Anna Marshall has to be a real smarty.

The Class of '73

As the class of '73 we will be the last to graduate from the present Blacksburg High School. Though we may be angered that we could not attend the new high school, nevertheless, we have developed a deep attachment to the present BHS.

Our five years here were something else. "Something old" (homework), "Something new" (lockers), "Something borrowed" (spirit of living), "Something blue" (our faces when report cards came out).

We came into the halls of BHS with a feeling of astonishment and now are leaving with a feeling of accomplishment.

As Secretary, Penny Trice has to organize thoughts, make grammatical corrections and have a Hi-Q.

The Class of '73 Looks Back and Remembers

When we were in 8th grade . . .

- . . . the utmost challenge was finding our way around
- . . . we often heard ". . . and my locker combination is 10-37-16, no, it's 19-44-16, no, it's . . ."
- . . . the biographies of every upperclassman were known by heart, from what kind of cars they had to their latest loves

- . . . we attended our first pep rally and were too confused to yell
- . . . in our first assemblies, the walls were lined with our classmates
- . . . there was the disastrous "x period"
- . . . we, the little chicks, followed our mother hen, Mrs. Georgia Murphy, with affection
- . . . we supported school activities from football games to class plays
- . . . in the spring, our girls suffered from the pains of newly discovered muscles following cheerleading tryouts
- . . . P.E., gang showers, unmerciful gym assistants, and leg lifts will never be forgotten
- . . . we received Tattle Tale once or twice that year, and our first POW WOW

When we were Freshman . . .

- . . . the first few months were spent in poverty as we paid our dues for memberships to active clubs and organizations
- . . . we supported our boys in Junior Varsity sports
- . . . many of us attended our first high school dance
- . . . instead of four officers we dropped to a degrading three
- . . . humiliation was strong as we garbed ourselves in weird costumes to meet initiation standards of particular clubs
- . . . we suffered through agonizing hours of STEP and SCAT
- . . . by advancing another year, we gained the right to a full vote in Student Council elections

When we were Sophomores . . .

- . . . we dissected everyone and everything during lunch table discussions
- . . . everyone looked forward to moving to the new school
- . . . later on we hoped to be the first class to graduate from the new school
- . . . the excitement of our learner's permit was almost unbearable
- . . . we were confronted with the new administration — Mr. Lawrence Heiskell and Mr. L.P. Colley
- . . . also new to us were hall passes, the demerit system, and the study hall system
- . . . that was the year of the great sit-in on the front lawn
- . . . "Quack" appeared

In our Junior year . . .

- . . . our boys graduated to Varsity sports
- . . . diligent work produced our annual "The Days of Wine and Roses"
- . . . by advancing yet another year, we increased our number of class officers to five
- . . . we had to share lockers for another year
- . . . with excitement, we presented the Junior Class Variety Show to the school
- . . . we and the Class of '72 enjoyed our Jr.-Sr. Picnic
- . . . hard work on the S.C. campaign lead its way to the election of one of our "responsible" leaders

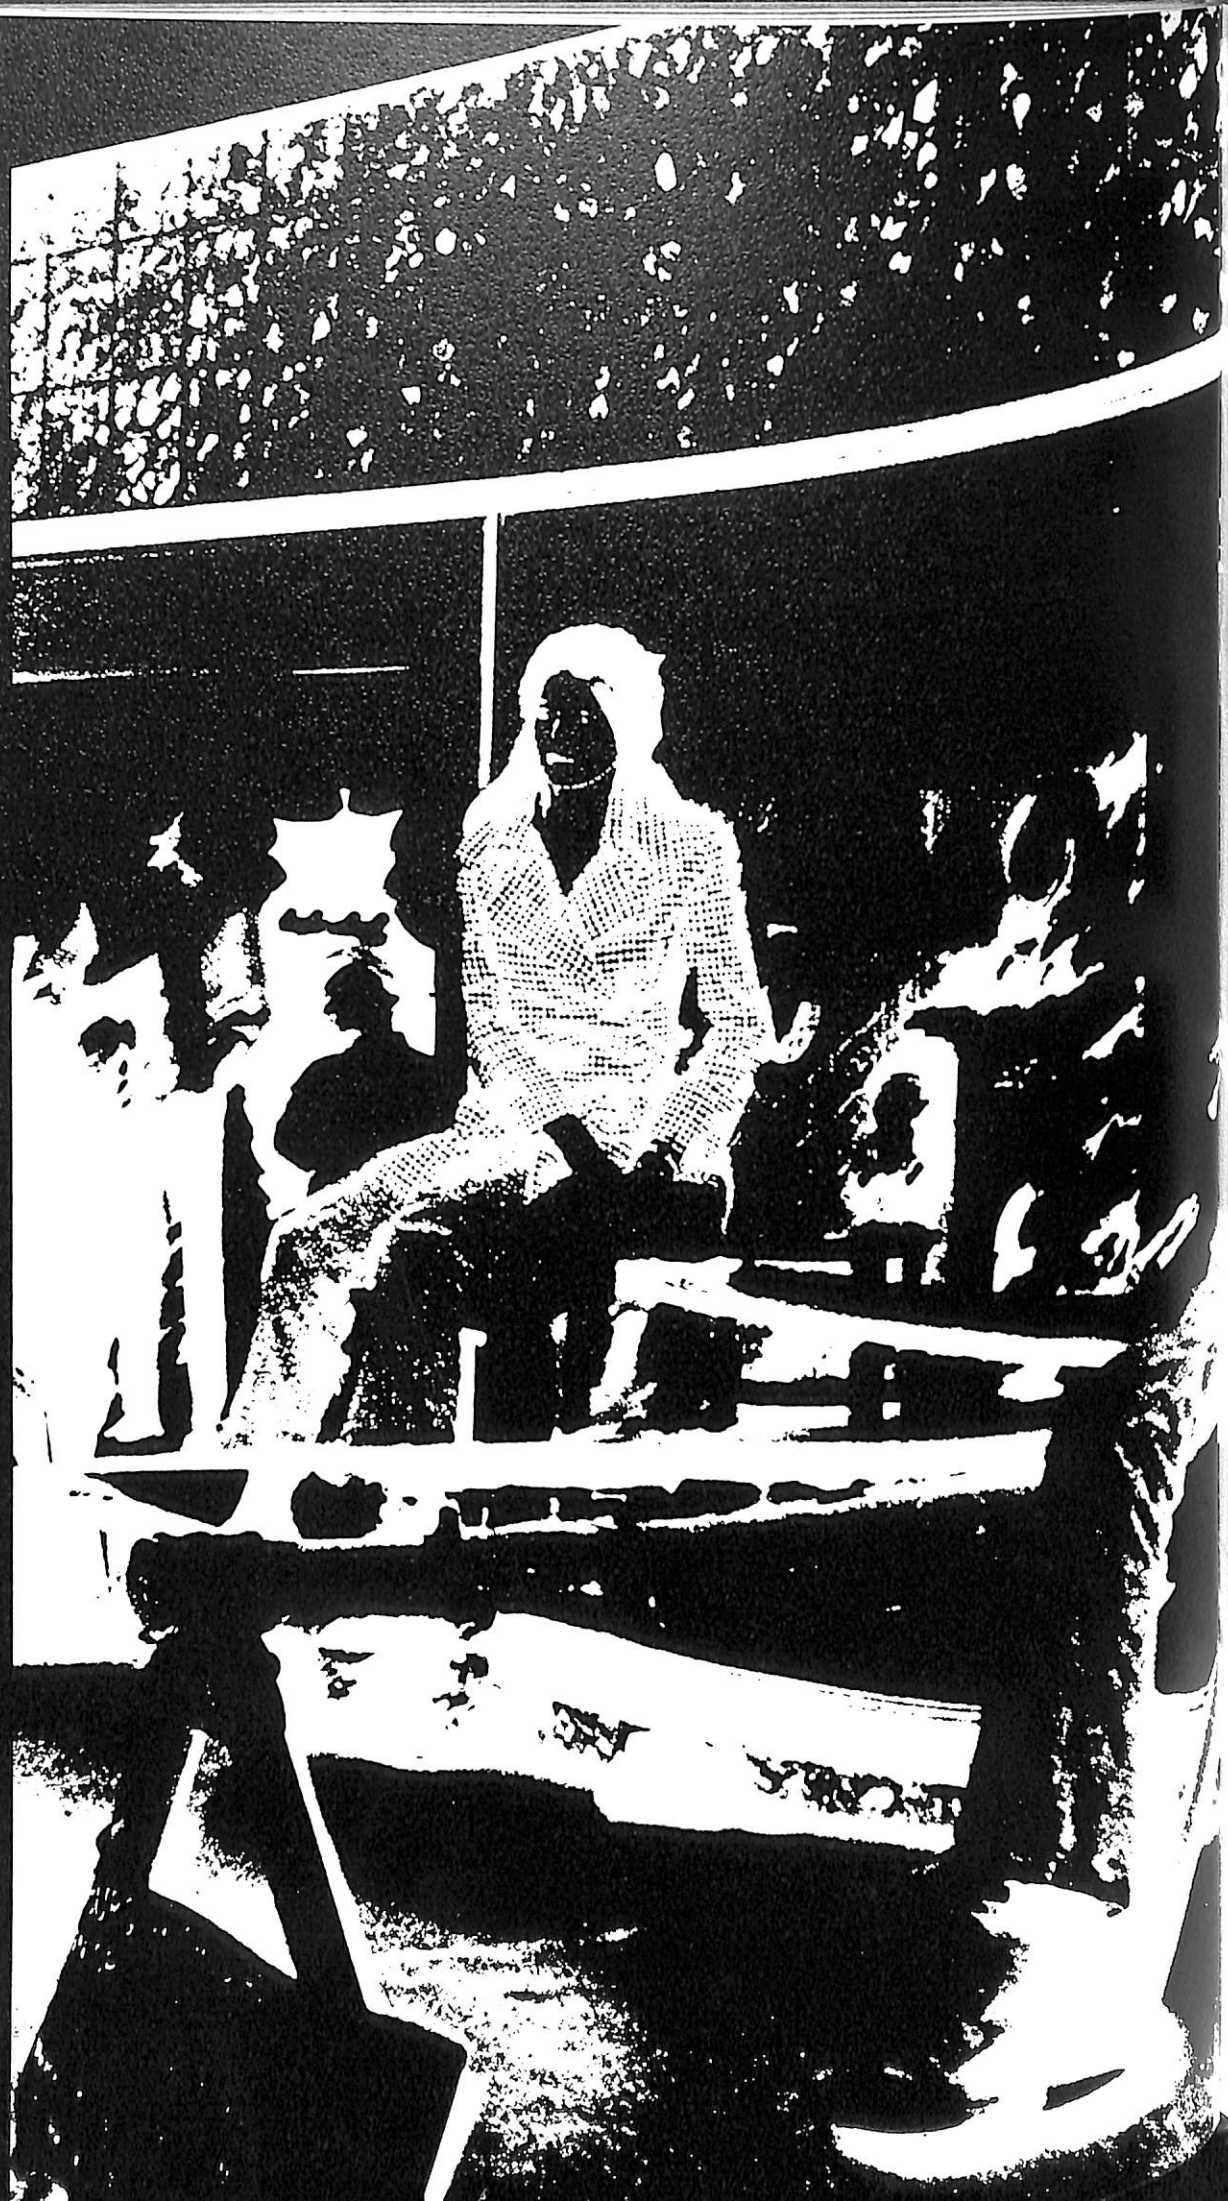

In our Senior year . . .

- . . . instead of humbly praying, we cried our way through advanced math and biology
- . . . the chance came at last for us to watch everyone stand for us as we came into assemblies
- . . . after much planning, cramming, and rushing, we presented "Christmas Charity"
- . . . we remember with pride giving $100 to the National Cancer Society
- . . . our classmates became presidents, queens, editors, and honored recipients
- . . . many of us tried once again for a higher score on SAT's
- . . . Achievement Tests seemed more like exams for graduating college seniors
- . . . "Perky" Perkins and "Momma" Scott will always remain dear to our hearts
- . . . Adv. biology term papers and Election '72 projects brought tears to our eyes
- . . . "Senior Slump" hit us on August 28
- . . . Mrs. Doris Abraham and Mrs. Rubye Scott were anxious to get us out of high school and into any college
- . . . Senior pictures were a big laugh
- . . . We are sad to leave
- . . . But glad to fly.
- . . . The class of '73
- . . . Wishes B.H.S. a warm goodbye.

The Class of 1974

President Dan Brewer is "in."

Janet Hankins, V-Pres., checks up on Dan Brewer.

Barbara Osborne makes a hard-working secretary.

Stan Whitlock finds reporting different.

Treasurer Katrina Stafford finds dues scarce.

The transition from underclassmen to upperclassmen meant undertaking many new responsibilities. Taking PSAT in the fall, SAT in the spring, and writing term papers were only a small portion of this busy year.

Receiving class rings and sponsoring the Annual Dance helped to give us a definite status. Class activities ranged from see-sawing at 2:00 o'clock in the morning to presenting a class play.

With three-fourths of our high school career behind us, we look to the future with great anticipation as our final year at BHS approaches.

The Class of 1975

Joey Mook got the presidency by his looks.

Minutes come easy for Beth Willard, Sec.

Heather Pavlik finds V-presidency easy.

Terri Weber makes frequent trips to the office for Class dues. Oh!

As sophomores, we struggled through world history, biology, and our final physical fitness tests. Having learned the routines of high school life and having taken time out from achievement tests we found this year to be more relaxing than our two previous ones.

By taking an active part in clubs and other extra-curricular activities, we became more involved as individuals. Being the most spirited class at pep rallies and games gave us excellent class recognition.

Each of us is proud to be a member of the class of 1975, and we are looking forward to becoming upperclassmen and a definite part of BHS.

Treasurer Cindy Coffey, snitches a few bucks.

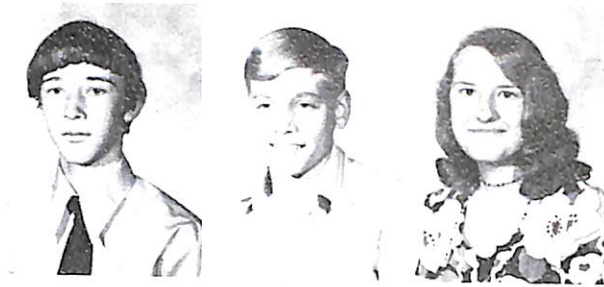

As Freshman, we were not the youngest class any more. We could now join clubs and participate in assemblies, privileges we were not allowed last year. As one of the most spirited classes, we won the sign contest during Homecoming Week. For the first time we had a class project — a bake sale.

We are now looking forward to our sophomore year. We are sure that the class of '76 will continue its winning tradition throughout the next three years.

The Class of 1977

Beth Phlegar makes a "peaceful" president.

Scott King relaxes as Vice President.

Treasurer Cindy Cathey likes the money.

Allan Hall "takes it all in" in his new job as secretary.

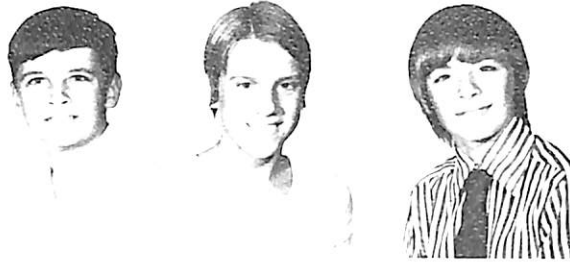

This was our first year at BHS. We noticed that we were small compared to the big freshmen, the large sophomores, the huge juniors, and the gigantic seniors. We learned how to weave through people and duck flying elbows. We wondered what the "Ag" building was for — do they make desks or plant grapefruit trees out there? We wondered if we would ever make it to class when we saw a large upperclassman's foot descending on our heads. But we found safety in numbers. Our eighth grade class could out yell anyone at pep rallies.

Next year will be better. This year's struggles will give us the experience we need to continue smoothly at B.H.S.

Various Assemblies

Father William Gardner was among the guest speakers at the Thanksgiving assembly presented by the Hi-Y.

"No public display of affection in my classroom!" Teacher and student roles are reversed in an entertaining skit presented by the faculty and Senior Class last spring.

"Mike, all my friends have rejected me!"
"Uh... maybe if you tried Listerine."
Jimmy.

"Whatever they put in that lunchroom food, it's definitely affecting me!" Mary Grayson and Freeman Marvin dance to the music from the juke box in one of many skits in a Student Council assembly given last fall.

Highlight School Year

Stan Kingma and the New Virginians entertain students with classic and contemporary songs in a program sponsored annually by the Music Club.

The Lone Ranger and Tonto? Roy Rogers and Dale Evans? No! Just L.P. the janitor and Carolyn the Cowgirl Counselor.

"January, February, March!" Hezekiah (Jim McFaddin) foils the plans of Desmond's Dastardly spouse.

Student Council Tries Change For the Better

The Student Council tried to serve the students more efficiently this year. In addition to its usual activities, the Christmas Post Office, the Spring Festival, Klassroom Kwiz and the Radio Show, the Student Council worked on many new projects. These included student parking spaces, movies after school, and the proposal for exam revision.

School Groups Provide Cultural Entertainment at 1972 Spring Festival

The colorful pagentry of the 1972 Spring Festival opened with the welcoming remarks of Earl Wayne Metcalf. Following the introduction of the royal court by Reade Hardin, Mr. Heiskell crowned Mister E.G. Willard and Miss Carol Hackett, Rex and Regina XIX. The top eight Junior girls accepted the challenge to continue the tradition of scholastic excellence, as the Laurel chain, a Greek symbol of scholastic achievement, was given to them by the top eight Senior girls.

The Blacksburg High School Stage Band and the Madrigal Singers displayed their special talents by performing several selections for the court and audience. John W. Synge's, "In the Shadow of the Glen", which took top honors at the District One Play Festival, concluded the entertainment for the evening.

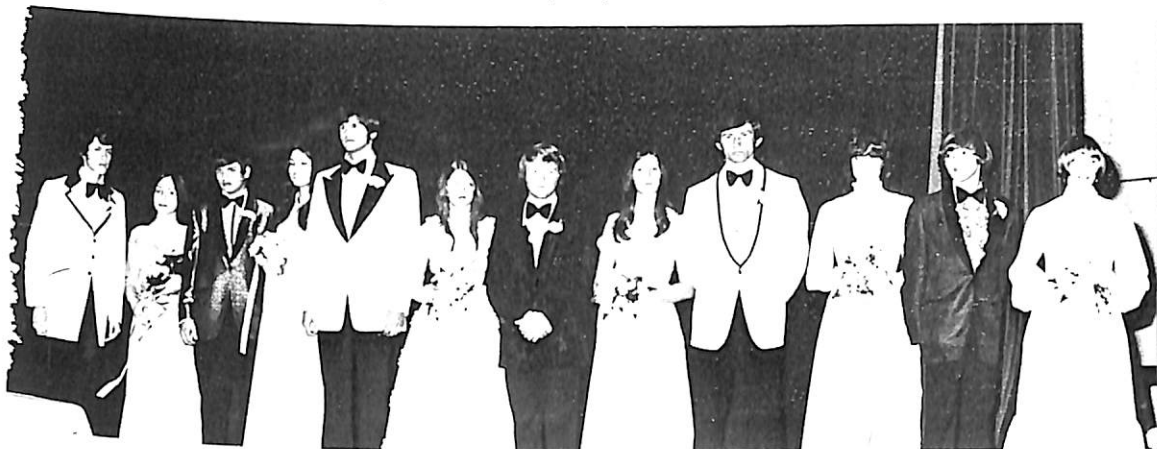

Mr. Heiskell plants a congratulatory kiss on Queen Carol Hackett's cheek as King E.G. Willard looks on.

Junior Class Laurel Chain: Anita Guynn, Mary Munford, Mary Jane Kreidler, Diane Frederick, Karen Duncan, Mary Blanton, Carol Beasley, and Brenda Wheeler.

Court: Charlie Phlegar, Lisa Lytton, Freeman Marvin, Kathy Mook, Leon McCoy, Nancy Higgins. Honor Attendants, Mark Fore and Sandra Bowles. Flower Girl, Patty Quesenberry. Court: Walter Lacy, Kim Olinger, Kyle Perdue, Mary Grayson.

Prince Doug Mitchell and Princess Marcia Anderson join with class attendants Frank Lacy, Bethell Osborne, Pat Zeigler, Angie Wyrick, Mike Dye, Shelley Mitchell, Dennis Allen, Debbie Lavery, Dean Trimble and Jeannie Walker.

Senior Class Laurel Chain: Janet Grayson, Vickie Cochran, Sarah Howerton, Luralee Jones, Lorna Schwichtenberg, Kathy Carter and Pat Lutz.

On Classroom Kwiz, Seniors Randy Darnton, Mary Munford, and Brenda Wheeler wrestled with challenging questions posed by quizmaster George Bassett.

Susie Meacham keeps an eye on Dan Brewer as he gleefully surveys the Student Council's post office earnings.

Happiness is stamping more cards mailed by students Robbie Gross, Debbie Patrick, and Karen Wright.

Student Council Performs Services for Students

Every Saturday morning, students woke up to the informative and entertaining BHS radio show. On the WKEX radio station, Randy Baker, along with other students, reported to the public news and events at BHS.

Christmas came alive at BHS with carols, a decorated tree, and cards sent through the Student Council Christmas Post Office. Monte Cooper and Susie Meacham were in charge of selling and "mailing" them to all homerooms.

The Student Council also sponsored a Classroom Kwiz team this year. Seniors Brenda Wheeler, Randy Darnton, and Mary Munford competed academically with students from other schools in a game involving chance and challenge.

Seniors Attain Honors for Various Achievements

Gary McClain won first place at the State Forensics Meet in Extemporaneous Speaking.

For her English compositions, Alicia Todd was chosen as an NCTA Achievement Award Winner.

Mary Blanton was the recipient of the D.A.R. Good Citizenship Award. Jim Walker was the 3rd place winner in the state for his original oratory. Suzy Holloman (not pictured) was 3rd place state winner for her prose reading.

Seniors Bring Academic

Brenda Wheeler was the recipient of the Betty Crocker Homemaker Award.

BHS students who received National Merit Letters of Commendation were David Herndon, Ken Glossbrenner, Jim Walker, Blair Smith, Suzy Holloman, Bob Miller, Suzie Swift, and Carol Beasley.

The American Legion Auxiliary sponsors Boys' and Girls' State each summer. The purpose of the conferences is to acquaint aspiring high school seniors with governmental procedures at state, national and local levels. The students were divided into "cities," and these were used as a basis for elections, competitions and social affairs.

PSAT/NMSQT is given to Juniors each spring. The results of these tests are used to determine the standings of students all over the country. The Class of '73 had five persons in the Semi-finalist category, and eleven Letters of Commendation.

Recognition to B.H.S.

BHS students who qualified as National Merit Semi-Finalists were Bill Pavlik, Brenda Wheeler, Anita Guynn, Alicia Todd, and Gary McClain.

The National Honor Society is an organization whose members include students from all over the United States. To be eligible for selection students must have maintained a B average or better, and have shown themselves capable of upholding the high ideals of scholarship, leadership, service, and character. They may be inducted in their junior or senior years.

This year the NHS had initiations in November and April and sponsored a chess tournament. Members also gave a Christmas reception for old members returning from college in December. Fund raising activities included two car washes.

School and community services involved preparing honor rolls and conducting the Easter Seal Drive on campus.

An active participant in the Western Area Conference of NHS, the BHS chapter entered two members in the national scholarship program.

The Key Club is a service organization sponsored by the Blacksburg Kiwanis Club. Its members are sophomore, junior and senior boys who show leadership and service. The club was engaged in such school and civic activities as directing traffic at football games, selling programs during the basketball tournaments, sending children to Camp Easter Seal and sponsoring the Annual Key Club Dance.

Athletes Blend in Boys' Monogram

Trying to improve the general athletic program at BHS was the purpose of the Boys Monogram Club. In order to qualify for membership in the club, boys must have earned a letter in any of the various sports offered at Blacksburg High. Club members sold football and basketball programs at home games. This year, the club tried to raise money for the Booster's Club.

The Girls Athletic Association offers recreational sports for those girls interested in athletics. This year the club sponsored speedball, basketball, and volleyball intramurals. In August it sent a team of three girls to Roanoke to participate in Classroom Kwiz.

Each spring a flurry of activities begin in preparation for the GAA dance. Also in the spring selected girls are sent to Radford College to participate in the GAA Playday. There they learn more about gymnastics, swimming, and recreational sports.

Of course their agenda includes the usual number of bake sales, car washes, and other fund-raising activities. This year money was raised in an attempt to buy a new trophy case and to send a junior to summer sports camp.

The makings of an initiate's nightmare . . .

Initiates Wish They Hadn't Been . . .

The GAA is a popular club — but it takes brave initiates to join. During initiation week the members-to-be had to forego shaving and shampooing. On the day of the initiation the girls were not allowed to speak to the opposite sex and had to wear red lipstick and paint their fingernails and toenails bright red. This year the initiates wore old-fashioned bathing suits and swimcaps — becoming strange-looking water polo players. That night any rule-breakers were subjected to grueling athletic punishments — pushing peanuts with their noses, doing exercises, giving piggy-back rides to old members, and/or getting egg-shampoos. A beauty contest was held for the best-looking initiate. The rites ended with members, both old and new, eating cookies and other goodies brought by the initiates.

Numerous Pep Rallies Boost School Spirit

This year students participated in pep rallies designed to boost school and team spirit. To obtain more student response at football and basketball games, the cheerleaders taught the student body new cheers at each pep rally. The BHS band and majorettes were featured as the majorettes performed to music played by the Warrior Band. At each pep rally, the students and team were entertained by humorous skits written by Anna Marshall and acted out by various other students.

Pep Club Sponsors

The Pep Club had as its purpose to promote school spirit within the student body. Its main function was sponsoring homecoming activities. Homecoming week was highlighted by a Hat Day in which students wore hats to show their support of the Indians. Bells were sold by the cheerleaders. A poster contest was held between classes for the best signs made. A pep rally, a bonfire and a hop also topped off the festivities. A bulletin board was maintained throughout basketball season by the Pep Club.

Barbara Osborne made creative bulletin boards for the Pep Club.

Cathy Weber, Agnes Rollins, Sabrina Morehead, Deidra Reynolds, Win Creasy, Mary Jane Kreidler, Laura Tramel, Cheri Wiley and Ginger Campbell are the Jrs. and Srs. who painted signs for the contest.

Rain Fails to Dampen Homecoming Spirit

'Twas five days before Homecoming
And all through the school
The cheerleaders sold
Little jingle bells.
The bells were all tied
To shoelaces with care,
With hopes that the school
Would hear spirit there.
Then the students all wore
White socks and bright hats,
And wore class year signs
To show their class spirit was best.
From among the bright team
A young hero was called
To be crowned with the title
Of "Mr. Football."
A mystery player
Was picked to give away
Two game tickets to the ones
Who first and last cried "Beat Carroll" Hurray!
The week finally ended
The game was played
The team lost the game
And the crowd was dismayed.

Girls' Monogram Brings Christmas Spirit To Less Fortunate Children

The Girls' Monogram Club is made up of girls who have earned letters in any area of school activity—band, choir, cheerleading, GAA, Forensics, track, or basketball and volleyball varsity teams. These girls are involved in many interscholastic sports programs. This year the club gave a Christmas party for underprivileged children, sponsored the Student-Faculty volleyball game, played volleyball with the Boys Monogram Club, and participated in a gymnastics program at Gilbert Linkous.

Future Homemakers Prepare for a Brighter Future

Future Business Leaders of America Present "The Beauty of a Rose"

"The Beauty of a Rose" was the theme of the 1972 beauty contest, sponsored annually by the F.B.L.A. Mr. Robert Price was Master of Ceremonies for the pageant in which fifty girls participated.

Each contestant stepped into the spotlight through an archway of roses before parading down a lighted ramp. The contest reached its climax when Angela Wyrick was crowned Miss BHS of 1972 by Sandra Bowles Cox, Miss BHS of 1971. Angela received a dozen red roses and a silver tray. Each runner-up was presented with a silver bowl.

FTA Looks at Both Sides

The FTA acquaints interested students with the teaching profession. FTA members graded papers for teachers, tutored students, participated in an exchange program with other high school FTA chapters, and attended various district meetings. This year was the first that representatives were sent to the state meeting. During Open House FTA members served as guides and hostesses. Club members helped to finance a Filipino's child's education.

DE Develops Diversification

Distributive Education helped students to develop leadership abilities, social intelligence, civic responsibility and awareness. D.E. also helped them to gain a vocational understanding of the educational process. The club participated in many activities, including the Fall Rally, installation of officers ceremonies, iniation of new members, District contests, and the State Employer-Employee Banquet. The club also conducted several fund-raising projects, many of which helped support social and civic projects.

The purpose of the Hi-Y is to create, maintain, and extend Christian standards. The club participated in Hi-Y/Kope Week (Klean Our Polluted Environment) and in World Service Week during which it undertook many service projects. This year the club also participated in Y-Vote Week. During this week Hi-Y members provided voting services. In the spring the club sent several representatives to the General Model Assembly in Richmond.

Forensics Display Literary Excellence

The Forensics Club has a three-fold purpose: to participate in forensics competitions at the district, regional and state levels; to publish the BHS literary magazine, The Web; and to submit a creative writing folder to the Virginia High School League for judging. Forensics competition involved public speaking ranging from prepared speeches to extemporaneous speaking and oral interpretations. In Virginia, forensics also included spelling competition. The Web has brought BHS much recognition and this year was able officially to call itself a member of Southern Interscholastic Press Association. This creative writing book first received an Excellent Rating from VHSL last year and contained a state prize winning poem.

The purpose of the Latin Club is to further interest in Latin through activities concerned with Roman culture.

One of the club activities was a picnic in the fall at which time all new members were initiated. The initiates had to wear costumes of mythological characters and gave brief speeches about the characters they portrayed.

This year the Latin Club merged with the Junior Classical League. The club sent delegates to both the national and state JCL conventions.

In the spring there was the Annual Roman banquet. Costumes were required for all members. The initiates were slaves and were sold at an auction during the banquet. Another annual festivity was the Saturnalia (Christmas) party in December.

Sadie Hawkin's Dance Women's Lib in Action

Gals grabbed their boys and headed to the cafeteria on November 18 to attend the Sadie Hawkins dance. Crepe paper streamers, cornstalks, hay, and posters supported the dogpatch theme. Festivities included dancing in tune to Iron Horse, Marryin' Sam and Divorcin' Dan, along with awards for the best-dressed couple. This year's contest winners were Chip Wills and Andy Miller. Cookies and apple cider were served throughout the evening.

Sadie Hawkins is sponsored annually by the Pan American Club.

Hey — Squirt The Car, Not Me!

Hanging out the back of Robbie Gross' truck, the Music Club "trucked" over to the Texaco station to hold another car wash—working toward the payment of a $1,000 bill. This year the club bought an Altec Lansing Public Address Amplifier system for the Music Department. Money was raised by several projects, including two car washes, the New Virginian's concert, and $2.00 dues. The club also sponsored many improvement projects. On February 24, club members completely cleaned out the Music rooms, painted staff lines on one of blackboards, and set up bulletin board committees to make the Music room more colorful and informative.

The choir program is composed of the Eighth Grade Mixed Chorus, the Eighth Grade Girls' Chorus, the Freshman Chorus, the Concert Choir and the Madrigal Singers.

The Concert Choir presented several concerts this year for the school and interested public. Besides the fall, winter and spring concerts, the choir toured Richmond and Washington, performing at various schools enroute. The choir really keeps busy and it is rated every year at the District Choir Festival in March.

The Madrigal Singers, after only two years, have become a very popular in the area. They have presented concerts to many community organizations and even appeared on television this year.

Concert Choir members present a Christmas Concert annually. Freshman choir members must work hard in order to become a member of the above group.

The Eighth Grade and Freshman choruses help students learn the basics of music in preparation for participation in the Concert Choir. They participated in all the annual concerts presented to the school along with the Concert Choir. Emphasis is placed upon learning how to blend with a group, how to follow a conductor and elementary music reading.

All-Regionals: The Reward of Practice

Band students from all over the area vied for seats in the Symphonic and Concert Bands. The students selected then met at Radford, Va., for a February weekend of living, breathing, and playing music chosen by the guest directors. BHS placed 32 students, including alternates, in the bands.

Chorus students in All-Regional Chorus were auditioned by Mrs. Patricia Madison, the BHS choir director. The chorus members met in Radford for a weekend of sweet singing, joyous caroling, and hoping for no sore throats. They were directed by Dr. Gus McGwen, and gave a concert for the public.

1973 All-Regional Symphonic and Concert Band members are: Row one: D. Dommuth, L. Gooss, D. Paterson, S. Wood, D. Whitaker, E. Hutcheson, G. Miller. Row two: M. Bell, K. Glossbrenner, T. The BHS Stage Band has changed its name and the game. Since acquiring their own time slot in a busy school schedule, performers have improved their technical abilities, style and sound. Now they're coming on with one of the best sounds in the state as the Blacksburg High School Jazz Lab. This year the band participated in three Stage-Band Festivals, and gave public concerts. Now it's a different show!

Cadet Band Marches With Warriors — Takes 1st Place

The Cadet Band is made up of 8th-grade band students. Its purpose is to further musical ability while preparing students for the Warrior Band.

In August the Cadet Band went to Band Camp and prepared a field show. A few participated in All-County Band in November. Other activities included Solo and Ensemble Festival, Instrumental Festival, a first place with the Warrior Band in a Christmas parade, and Tag Day in the spring. Possibly, some members will accompany the Warrior Band to Myrtle Beach this summer to enter into competition.

Warrior Band Rates Superior With Field Show

Director Ernest Thomas is South Carolina bound!

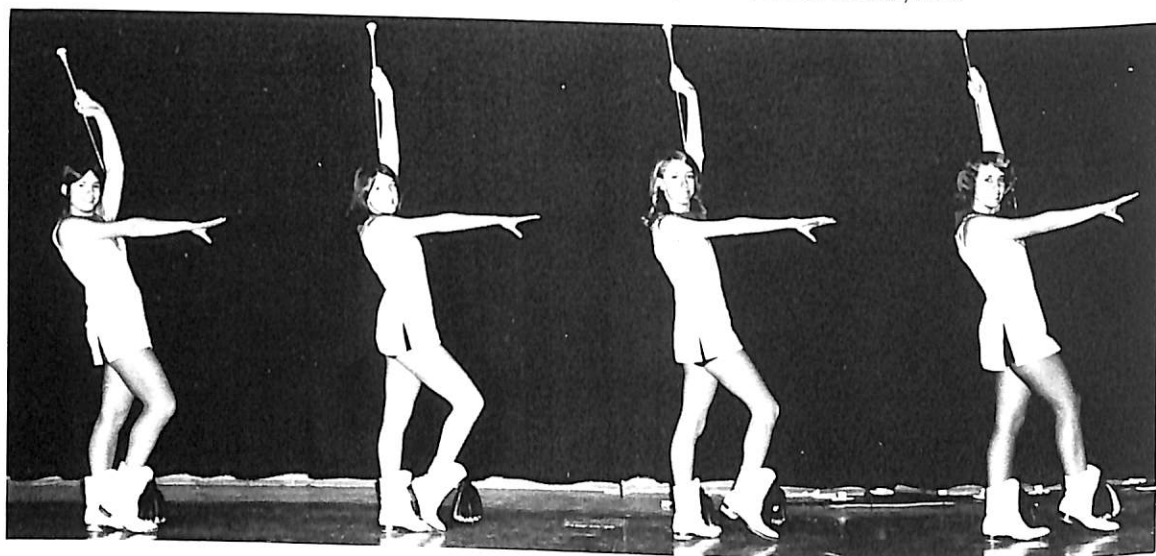

The Warrior Band has had a great year. Players entered field show and parade competition last October in Bristol and came out with a "1" (a superior rating). Warrior members dominated All-County Band and placed 32 members in the All-Regional Band. Other activities included Instrumental Festival in March, Solo and Ensemble Festival, Tag Day, and the usual number of parades and concerts. Band members worked each Saturday at the paper drive, which recycled papers and supplied much needed funds. The band is now looking forward to the parade and concert competition at the Myrtle Beach Sun and Fun Festival this June.

The majorettes began their year of twirling with a week at a National Majorette Clinic held at Ferrum Junior College last June. They won four out of five blue ribbons during the daily lessons. On the final day the majorettes earned top honors in the Marching Routine category. A first place trophy was awarded to them.

The majorettes twirled at pep rallies, and in one baton, two baton and duet routines during the band's half-time show at football games.

Tattle Tale Tells No Tales

The Tattle Tale, the school paper, covered all phases of student life at Blacksburg High School. It included editorials, a feature page, sports opinions, counselor's news, "We'll Swap-Um" and club activities. This year something new was added to the paper. A column in each issue was devoted to a particular student, or new student. The article would tell of the student's interests, accomplishments and hobbies. The staff also sponsored several contests dealing with game predictions.

The 1973 Pow Wow — the Grand Finale

Mary Blanton (editor-in-chief) and Cindy Will (assistant editor) spent many long nights checking and correcting lay-outs for the staff. Cindy made frequent trips to the Donut Shop . . . and Mary approved.

Mrs. Virginia Miller, Faculty Advisor, helped with staff problems.

An annual is the result of a year's worth of planning, organizing and creative thinking (?), and the 1973 POW WOW is no exception. First, the cover, theme, and dedication are chosen. The ringleaders of the group — Mary, Cindy, and Mrs. Miller — decided on the general organization of the book. The Class sections, Faculty, and Ads were turned in by January. Then Organizations and Student Life started their section and finished in February. At the end of March the Index and Sports were completed.

Not having a classroom might have hindered an ordinary staff, but not the '73 POW WOW staff. Working in various parts of the building — the library, the auditorium and the cafeteria hallway — this staff produced a fantastic book for the students and faculty to enjoy and cherish.

Aren't they thweet? . . . Senior Class editors Jane Jenrette and Anna Marshall did a great job this year making their section more creative.

Pow Wow Puffs a Proud Pipe

The 3 Musketeers? . . . Not quite. But Organizations editors, Patty Walker, Carol Beasley, and Ginger Campbell did have a lot of fun trying to make "Clubs" more than just bleacher pictures.

"Are you trying to tell me this isn't who I thought it was?" Class editors Debbie Patrick and Janet Hankins worked to make their section like it is.

Student Life editors Suzy Holloman and Elizabeth Hutcheson did a fantastic job on their section. This was the first year on staff for both of them.

"Heck no, Mr. Colley, I just love the office!" Artist Janice Acuff tried hard to find a cover that everyone liked.

Aha! I figured the teachers kept the 'ol spirits stashed somewhere! Faculty editors John Walker and Jill Bloss found out all they could in order to do their section well . . .

Copy editors Susan Kennedy and Barbara Osborne get their hot ideas sitting on the radiator.

"Come and join the party!" Sabrina Moorehead (Business), Leo Padis and Kathy Mook (Ads) have a good time in the Valentines Post Office. Leo and Kathy spent most of their time tramping over Blacksburg selling ad space and photographing customers.

"What are you grinning for, Susie — she's handing you the index! . . . Typist Susie Heavener carried the brunt of the load — especially when Caroline Snipes (Index) turned in her section.

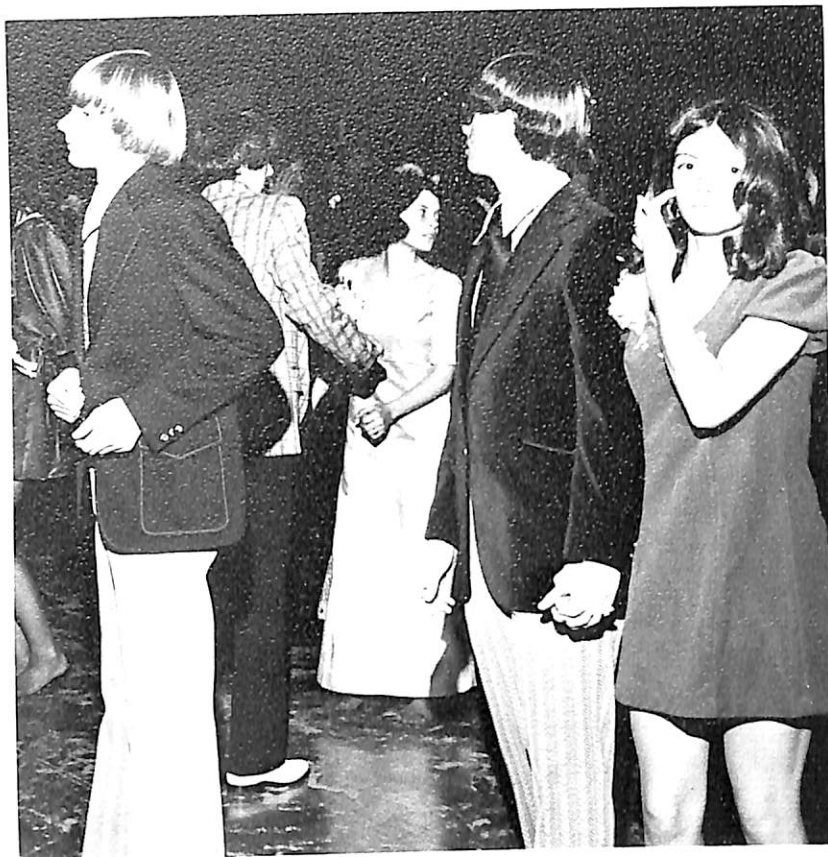

"Grin and Bear it, Roger." "Who, me?" Sports editors Roger Ellmore and Brenda Wheeler were responsible for organizing the "jock" pictures and writing captions in the Sports section.

Jacob Lutz and Robbie Gross did most of the photography work for the POW WOW. Club pictures were taken by Gentry Gilbert.

Seniors Rekindle Christmas Spirit for Students

Susan McCoy takes advantage of an opportunity to fill Santa in on her Christmas list while deserted date Doug Mitchell admires the decorations.

The 1972 Christmas Dance was decorated simply in accordance with its theme, "Christmas Charity." Christmas trees were trimmed with popcorn strings and other hand-made ornaments. Upon arrival, couples were given an ornament to put on a tree.

To accent the ornate trees was a large Christmas elf, portrayed by Agnes Rollins. Santa also had two jolly helpers — elves Ray Milton and Cindy King. The elves, along with Saint Nick, helped boost everyone's spirits.

Couples waltzed to the sweet serenading of Blues Limited.

Preparations for the dance started soon after the school-year began. Senior class president Freeman Marvin headed the organization for the dance. Mrs. Rubye Scott and Mrs. Doris Abraham were the sponsors. Friday afternoon, December 15, the dance started taking shape, and by Saturday night, the 16th, the gym was ready for a "Christmas Charity."

The Senior Class donated the dance profits, $100, to the Cancer Society in memory of their classmate, Steve Kates.

DAYS of WINE and ROSES

Candlelight and the colorful mural set the stage for an entertaining evening of dancing and conversation.

Class of 1973 Creates a Memorable Evening with an Old — Fashioned Flair

On May 6, 1972, the Junior class presented the Annual Dance as a special tribute to the Class of 1972. This nostalgic glance towards yesteryear was themed "The Days of Wine and Roses." Suzy Holloman and Freeman Marvin co-ordinated the dance, along with class sponsor, Mrs. Becky Day.

The Juniors worked feverishly to construct the colorful setting. Tiffany lamps lit the ceiling, and a mural, showing wine bottles, half emptied glasses and spilled wine, formed one wall.

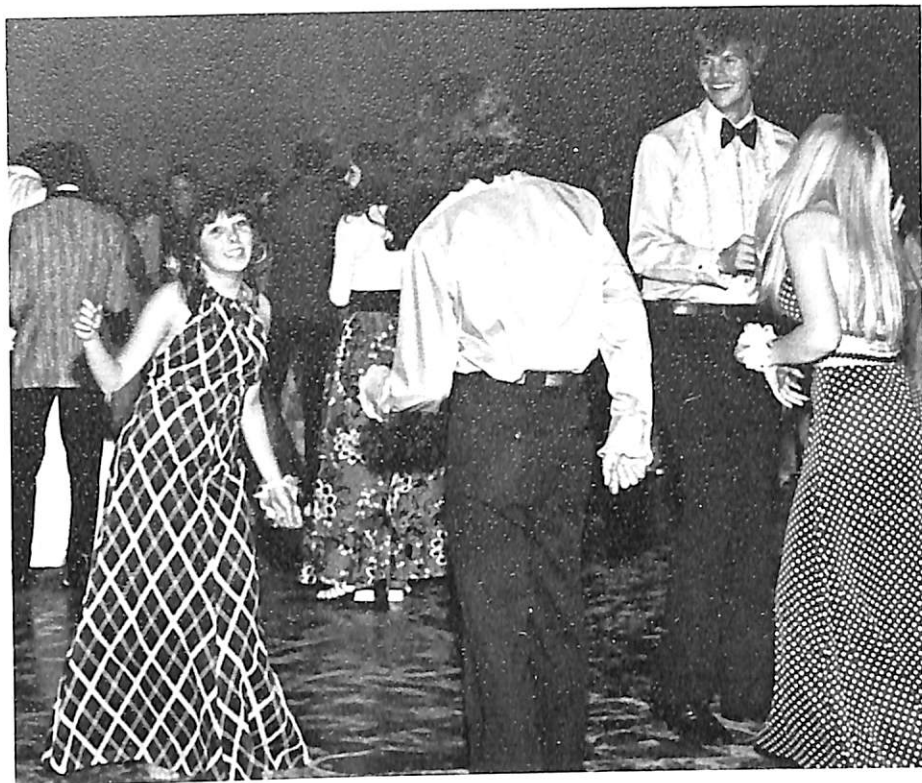

When the big night arrived, Harpo's Midnight Gashouse Gang plugged in amplifiers and the 1972 Annual Dance emerged. Thanks to the class of 1973 for a memorable evening.

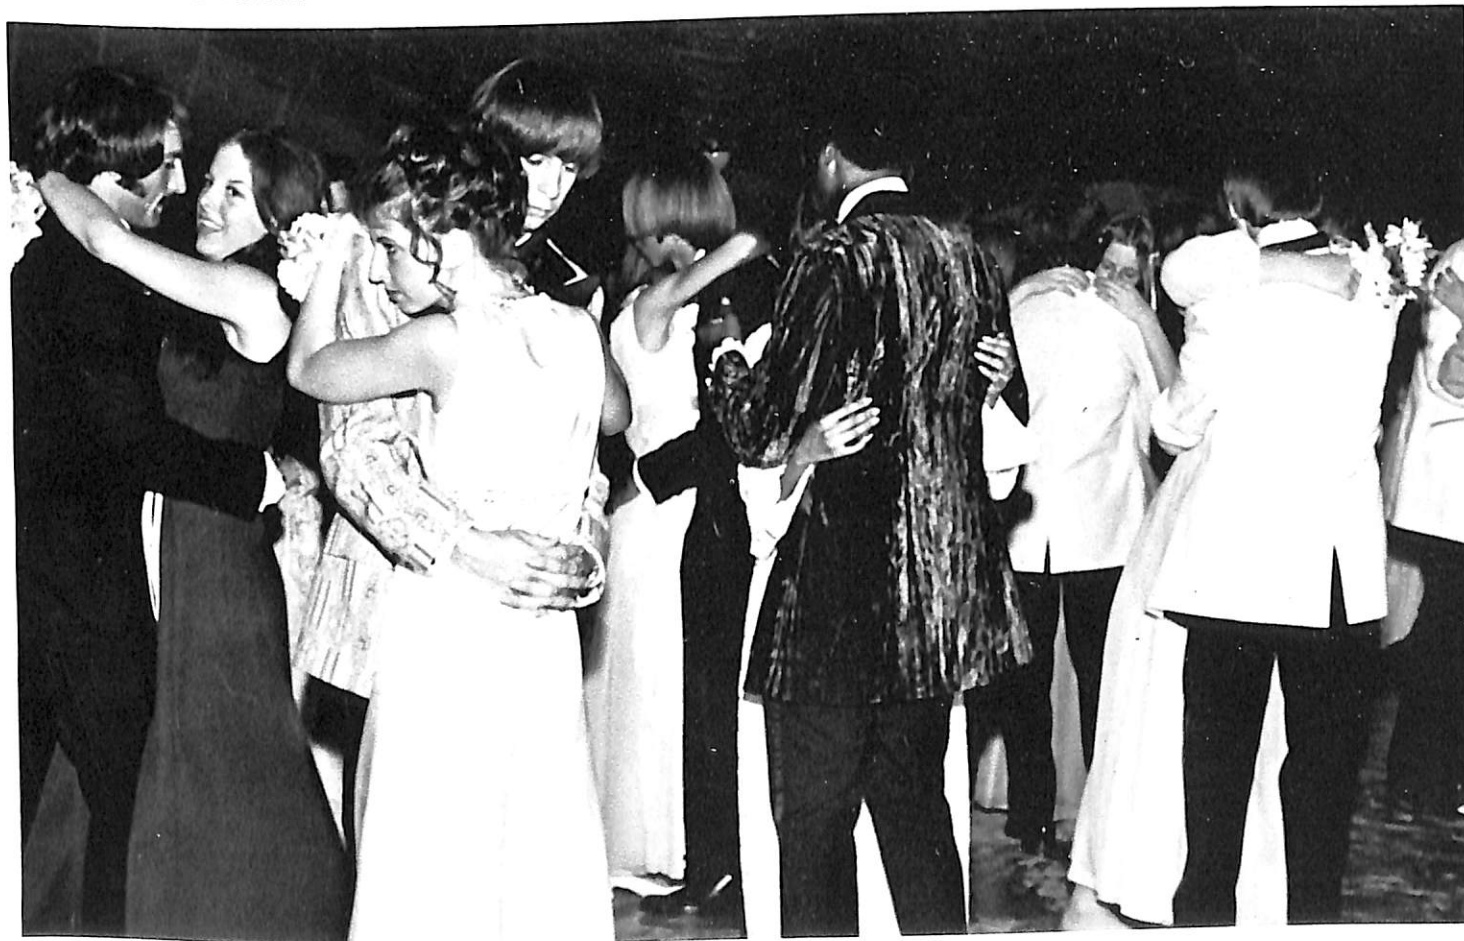

Robbie Gross and Betsy Godfrey get into the nostalgic mood of years gone by.

Underclassman Mike Lavery, clad in the style of the 1920's, offers nuts and pretzels to Becky Van Dresser and Tom Green.

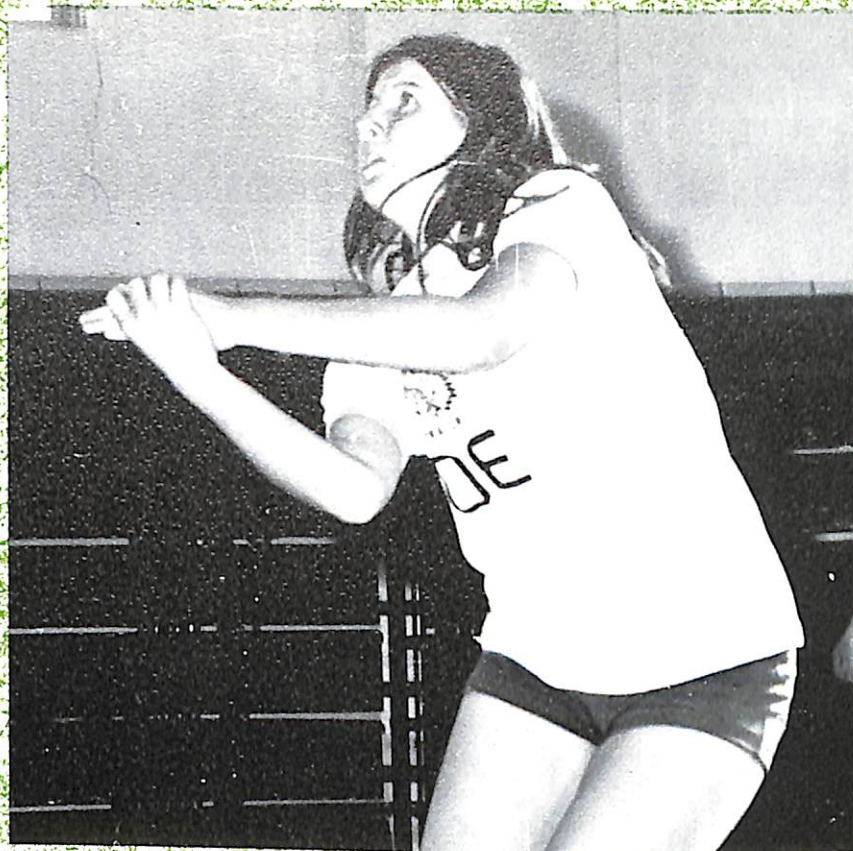

Bright colors and bold patterns worn by dancers mark the death of the traditional black tuxedo and white dress of former years.

This year's football team fell on hard times. Costly mental lapses at crucial times during the season hindered the Indians. Injuries and over all lack of size also hampered the team. Despite their setbacks at times, the team never stopped trying to win.

Coaches John David, Bill Brown, and Frank Mosley will have to fill the many gaps left by this years twenty-two graduating seniors. The senior captains were Blair Smith, Rodney Miller, and Ray Milton. Other seniors whose assistance will be missed next year are Steve Walters, Leonard Sayers, John David, Robert Devens, Darrel Collier, Mike Dye, Jim Walker, Tom McMurtrey, Gordon Gillie, Mack Brown, Perry Kipps, Kenny Wrenn, Haven Price, Mark Wiley, Wayne Metcalf, Mike Slusser, and Steve Hall.

Although it's not shown by the season record, the Indians boasted one of the toughest defenses in the district, holding the state champion, Radford, scoreless for over three quarters.

Next year's team looks to a brighter future with an undefeated group of J.V.'s to come up and strengthen the varsity team.

After 2 Years Blacksburg Gets a New Field

The fans enjoy the game from the new stands.

J.V. Cheerleader Angie Comer is helped with her Homecoming corsage as Head Cheerleader Jane Jenrette looks on.

Dedicating the new field are Dr. Jeffrey Stewart, Mr. Foster Arrington, Mayor John Barringer, Mr. Bob Christopher, Father Gardener, Mr. Ray Roberts, Mr. Bud Devens, and Mr. A.C. Gray.

After two years of hard work by the B.H.S. Athletic Foundation, the Indians now have a new field with permanent stands, press box, and lights. This $50,000 facility was a joint project of both the School Board and the B.H.S.A.F.

This year's junior varsity football team has done something no other Blacksburg team has ever done, score 204 points against six district teams and not let these teams score against Blacksburg.

A strong running attack and tough defense carried Head Coach Allen Wiley's eighth undefeated J.V. football team to this unusual feat. With the up-coming 8th grade team of this year to add to an already strong J.V. base, next year looks even better.

The '72 Cross Country team has held its best year yet by winning the 1st Region IV cross country meet at Marion. Of the 56 runners participating, Blackburg runners got five of the first 15 places with John Byers winning individual honors. This is the Indians 6th undefeated season and 3rd consecutive district championship. This year's team will lose Senior Co-captains Roger Ellmore, Tim Wise and Dan Holliman.

Practices started August 1st, working up to the annual camp at Hungry Mother State Park. A new event to raise money for the harriers this year was a 24-hour relay which was sponsored by local businessmen and a large number of individuals. This money went to pay for new shoes, work out uniforms, and sweats for each runner.

Next year looks even better with top scorers John Byers and David Wolf returning as seniors. Other let-termen coming back will be Mike Boyd, Bobby Bryant, John Gilmer, David Prelaz, T.J. Kerekes, and Mitch Steffen. Upcoming sophomores John Dixon, Gerald Duncan, Jay Bell, and Tom Carter promise to be good prospects for next year. Coach Brown is also looking toward a strong core of upcoming freshmen.

8th Graders and Girls Make It with Cross Country

This year the cross country program has expanded to reach out to the entire student body. This is the first organized girls and 8th-grade boys team in this school, and one of the few in the state. Both of these teams have had outstanding first seasons, each going undefeated and winning their state meets in their respective divisions which include AAA schools.

The outlook for both of these teams is bright. The 8th-graders will go up to the J.V. and Varsity programs, being the solid base for those teams in the near future. The girls team will expand with the growing interest and hopefully motivate other district schools besides Radford to start cross country programs.

Indians Race Radford for

The 1972-73 Varsity basketball team had its usual outstanding year. Mr. Allen Wiley coached the team to the position of district leaders in both offense and defense; they scored an average of 78.6 points while allowing opponents only 57.6. Blacksburg was a team in the fullest sense. There was no one star, as seen by the balanced scoring attack; Wright with a 14.8 average, Dreiling with 12.85, Hoepner with 12.80 and Price with 12.0. The Indians were undefeated for much of the season before being nipped at Radford 58-60. Regular season's end found both teams with identical records, having lost only to each other. The play-off game (held for regional tournament seeding) was played in the Virginia Tech Coliseum in order to accommodate the large crowd. Although Radford won, the Indians looked forward to a rematch in the district tournament.

. . . and Move on to Regionals

Paul does his stuff as Mr. Thompson looks on.

Seeded number two in the New River District tournament, Blacksburg knocked off first round opponent Giles 79-49. Battling a good Pulaski team, the Indians won the semifinals 57-46 and gained the right to meet Radford in the finals. Although both teams would automatically advance to regional play, this fourth meeting of the teams was an important and hard-fought game for both sides. Blacksburg came on with poise and patience to claim the crown 60-43.

In the regional tournament, also held at Virginia Tech, the Indians scrapped all the way down to the wire before falling to last year's opponent Marion by one, 55-56. The Wileymen came back, however, to win the consolation game against Graham by a score of 67-64, and ended an extremely exciting and victorious year. Although the team will lose four of its five starters, the strength the bench has shown throughout the year, plus a little of that Wiley magic, promises another great team for next year.

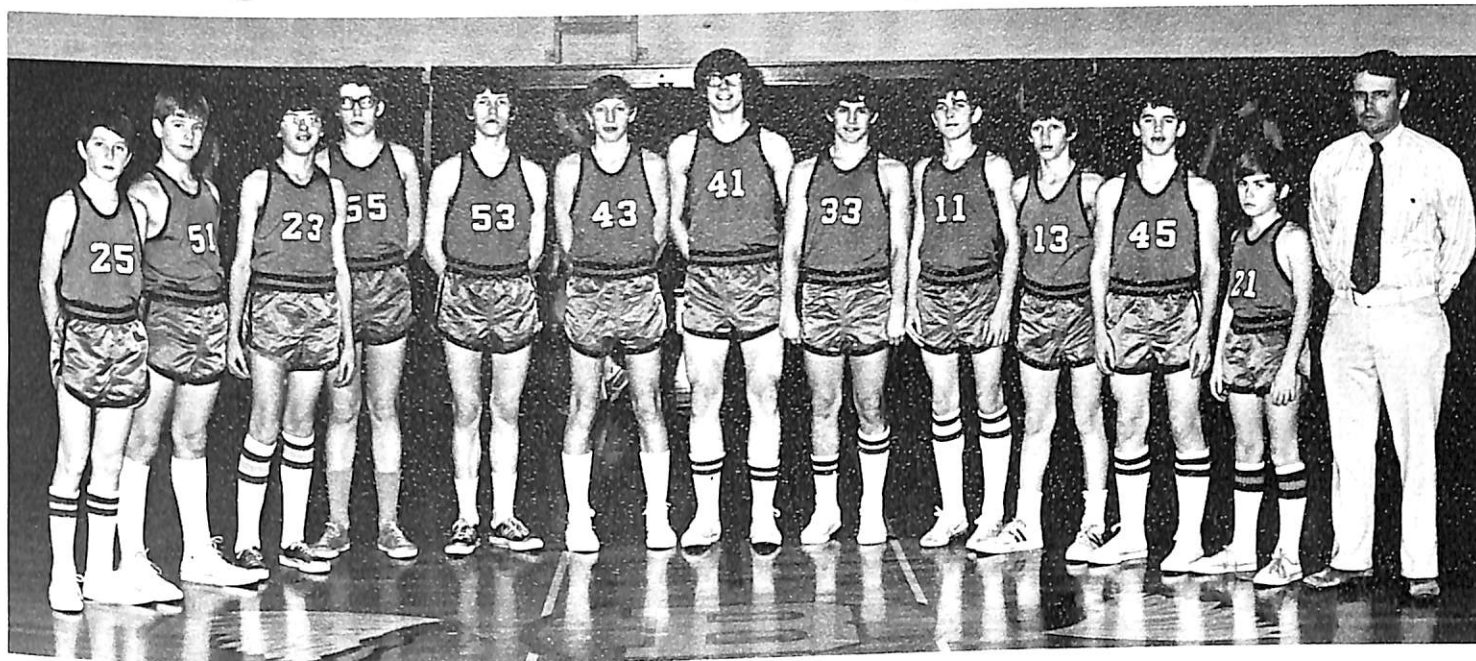

The team claims the rewards of sweet victory.

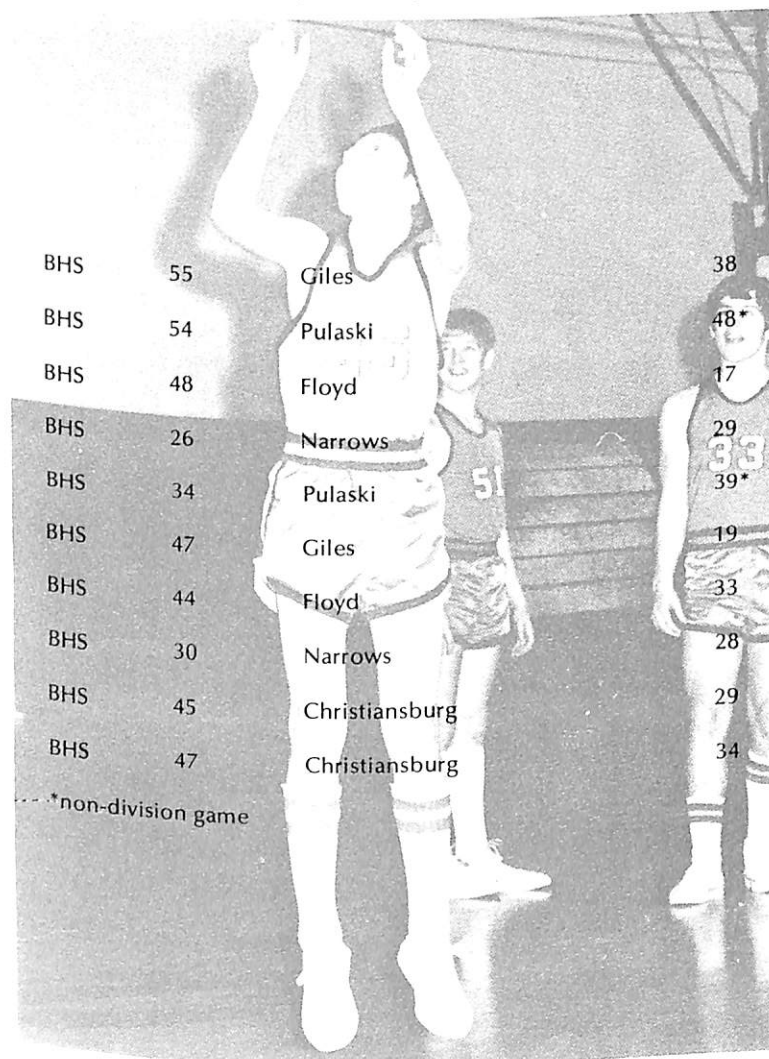

Winners and still New River Champions — Blacksburg!

Eighth Graders Outscrap Opponents

Co-captain Gary Wiley, Ace Mitchell, Randy Mullins, Hugh Bodell, Lindsay McMurtry, Allan Hall, Carl Schmidt, Mike Coffey, Tim Devens, J.D. Dymock, Richard Foy, Co-captain George Wills, Coach Bill Dickson.

The 1972-73 8th-Grade basketball team had a fine season, ending in a tie for first place in its division with Narrows. The team was much shorter than most opponents but offset this with speed and defense. Coach Bill Dickson rated the team's aggressiveness as a major reason for its success. Gary Wiley led all scorers, and Tim Devens was chosen Most Valuable player. Managers for the team were George Williams and Phillip Hale. The boys deserved credit for practicing early in the morning before school.

Mr. Bill Dickson coached the hustling 8th graders.

J.V.'s Are Among the District Best —

Team managers were Don Hall and Steve Adams.

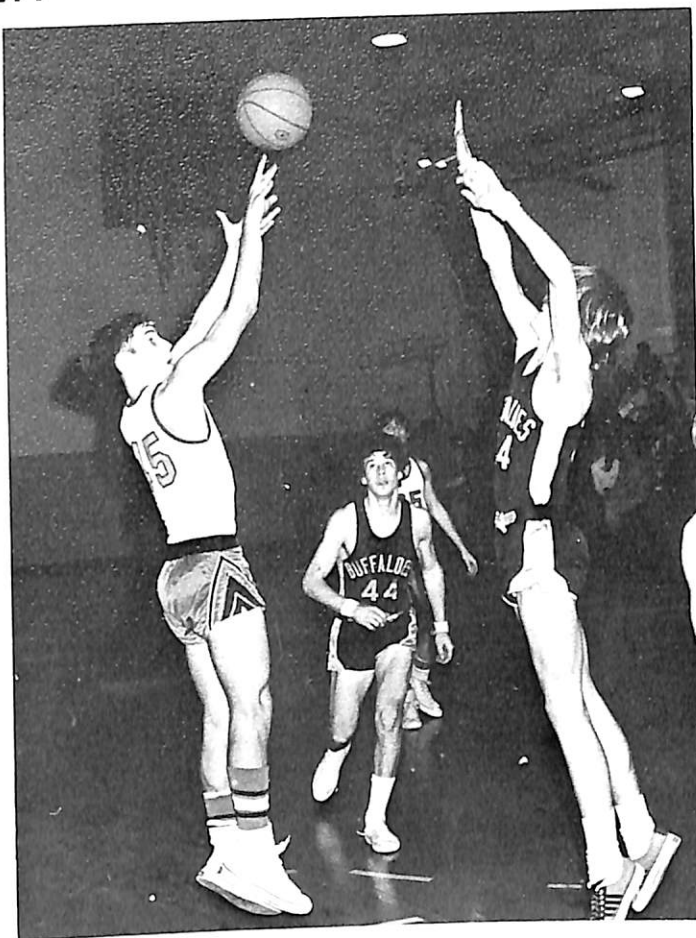

The Junior Varsity basketball team, coached by Mr. Bob Trear, played against outstanding district competition and ended the season in fourth place (after beating Carroll County in a play-off game 49-26). This entitled them to a berth in the JV tournament. Dublin squeaked by the little Indians 36-37 in the first round, and Galax managed a tough win 36-41, but the team can still be proud of its performance. Although hampered by a lack of height, the team was cool under pressure and had an excellent attitude. According to Coach Trear, the best thing about the players was that "they never gave up." Leading scorers for the team were John Hale, Phillip Martin, Eric Lucas, and John Dreiling. Hale, Lucas, and Scott King led the rebounding. Eric "Wild Man" Lucas was voted most improved player.

The Indoor Track Team Has It's First

This year's Indoor Track team had its first undefeated season in its three-year history. It also captured the 1st Region IV Regional Meet title at the Lynchburg College Wake Field House. The team then went on to make a strong showing at the State Meet held in Lexington on February 10th, coming in second to Nelson County.

The season started in early December with meets running through the holiday break. Several members of the team participated in the East Coast Invitational held in Richmond during January and did well in their individual events.

Depth, versatility and dedication were the keys to the team's success, with people doubling and tripling in events and practicing long hours in the school's halls and auditorium.

A new addition to this year's team was assistant Coach Dan Surface who worked with the weightmen and helped Head Coach Vince Brown coordinate the team's workouts and other activities needed to run one of the finest over-all track programs in the state.

in Disappointment and Frustration . . .

Charles Debusk clears 9'6" at the Radford Relays.

The 1972 Outdoor Track Team was disappointing after winning the state indoor championship. Partly due to injuries to important members and an apparent loss of interest by others, the team did not do as well as expected. It is to the credit of Coach Vince Brown that the team did not fall apart all together.

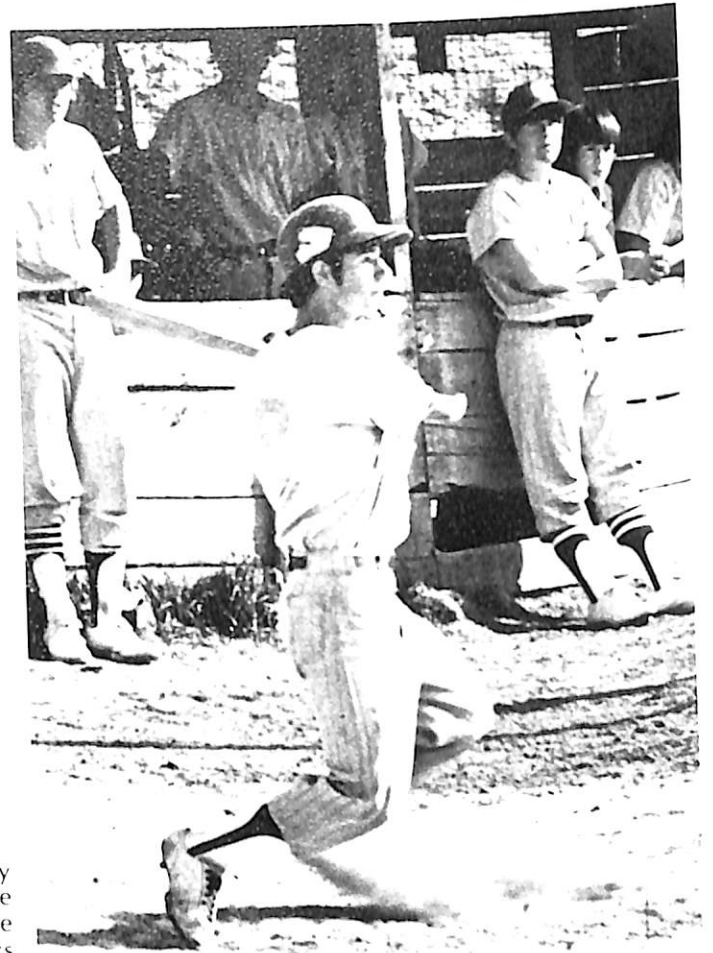

But with all fast growing sports there are bound to be set backs. The outlook for 1973 is indeed much brighter. The experience of this year built a team of trackmen who are looking for the New River District Championship and beyond.

The '72 Baseball Team Keeps Its

Co-Captain Billy Ray Price (8) gets a hit in the Narrows game as the rest of the team looks on.

This year's team, lead by co-captains Leon McCoy and Billy Ray Price, went on to its 24th winning season in 25 years. Head coach Bill Dickson is pleased with the team's performance, especially considering that the team had to play 10 away games and can't practice at school because of the lack of a field.

The leading hitter was David Stafford with a .351 average, and the leading pitcher was Leon McCoy with a 7 — 1 record.

The outlooks for '73 are mixed. All of last spring's starters were seniors except one, so this year's team was not as experienced as last year's; however, it should pick up more hitting power and speed.

Steve Forkner, Ray Dyer, Lynn Roach, Keith Davis, E.G. Willard, Greg Osborne, Ted Leighton, Tom Leighton, Gary McCrady, Cliff Murray, Tommy Via, Rickie Bland, Margaret Williamson, Barbara Osborne.

Coach Don Kelsey produces another winner.

The golf team, coached by Donald Y. Kelsey, stands with an undefeated district record for the 1972 season, earning the New River Championship. Led by Greg Osborne, runner-up in the State AA Tournament, the team boasted its first female members in Margaret Williamson and Barbara Osborne. Playing in two matches, Margaret won both decisively. With many players returning, Coach Kelsey is looking forward to continuing golf's fine record at BHS.

Darrell Collier wins against his opponent in the Dublin match.

The tennis team ended its first year of competition with a 2 — 8 record. Coached by Barry Reynolds, the top three men were Rodney Miller, Chip Gunsten, and Darrell Collier. With most of the team returning, Coach Reynolds feels there is a promising future for Blacksburg's newest sport.

Powerball Team

The girls on the 1972 powerball team were the county champions, successfully defending last year's title. Coached by Mrs. Juanita Colley, the team displayed the experience of previous competition while still boasting many younger members. Since this was only the second year for powerball at BHS, the team was proud of its fine record and looks forward to future success.

This year's girls' basketball team was again undefeated in regular season play, gaining victory also in a hard played tournament. Led in scoring by Diane Frederick, and Brenda Wheeler, the top rebounders were Barbara Fore, Patti Griggs, and Agnes Rollins. The team displayed strong defense, allowing an average of only 12 points, while scoring an average of 35. Coaches Ann Surface and Linda Phillips posted a 2-year record of 15-1, establishing another winning tradition at Blacksburg.

Blacksburg High School supports two squads of cheerleaders. Both the Varsity and the Junior Varsity squads were dedicated to the task of sending students into athletic competition confident of the backing of the student body. This year the students responded enthusiastically to the cries of the cheerleaders.

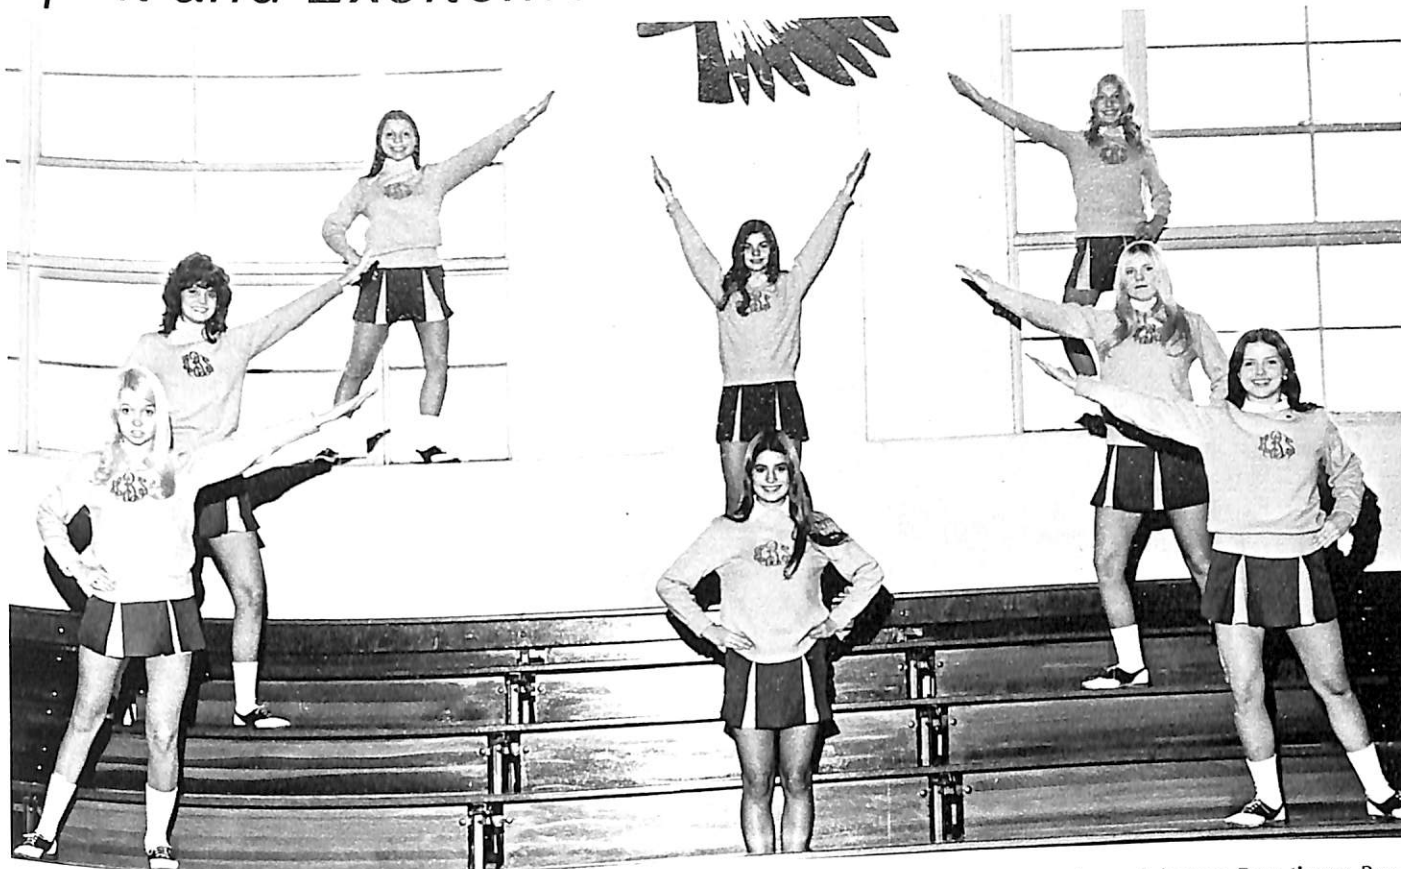

The Varsity and J.V. squads attended a cheerleading camp in Bristol, Va. The Varsity squad was one of the host squads and came home with three blue ribbons, a first-place trophy in the Varsity division and a best-all-around squad plaque. The J.V. squad also received three blue ribbons and a first-place trophy in the Junior Varsity division. The squads shared the honor of the spirit stick, a symbol of outstanding spirit.

The cheerleaders planned each pep rally held during the year. The squads also performed a Pom-pom routine during basketball game half-times.

The name of the present Blacksburg High School will be changed to Blacksburg Middle School next year.

(Above) A student at BHS thinks about the past and looks forward to the future. (Right) Sherry Pauley and fellow band members relax with the trophy they earned after many hours of hard work under difficult circumstances.

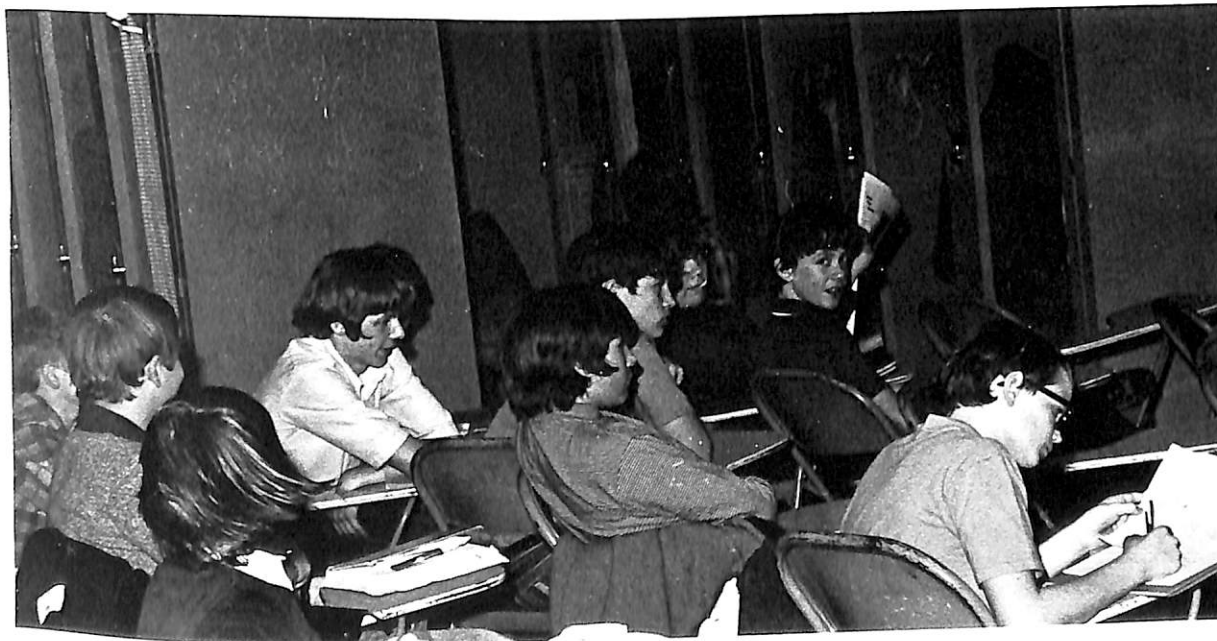

(Above) Students often help teachers during their Study Hall by giving individual aid to fellow students. (Below) Students work collectively on a study guide prepared for their video tape appearance in a "Reading in Content Areas" program.

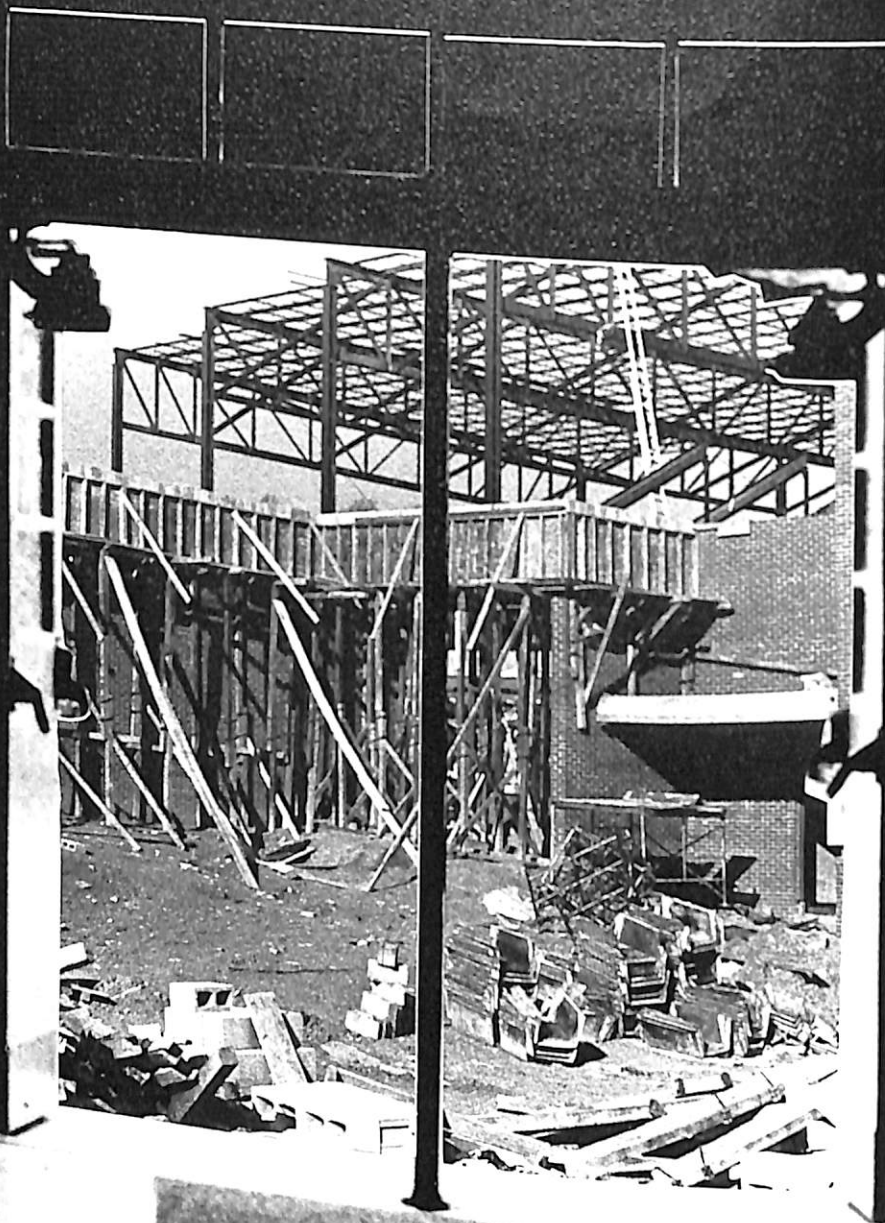

In this year of TRANSITION '73, Blacksburg High School students proved once again that they could survive and even flourish under the direst of conditions. Crowded classrooms produced champion scholars; defective rehearsal areas could not deny our band and choirs a superior rating; our athletic teams went unrivaled in spite of limited facilities. In general, everyone at BHS endeavored to make "our last year here the best year ever."

Our Last Year Here Was — Our Best Year Ever

(Left) Health students, boys grades eight through ten, utilize the newly remodeled boys locker room daily.

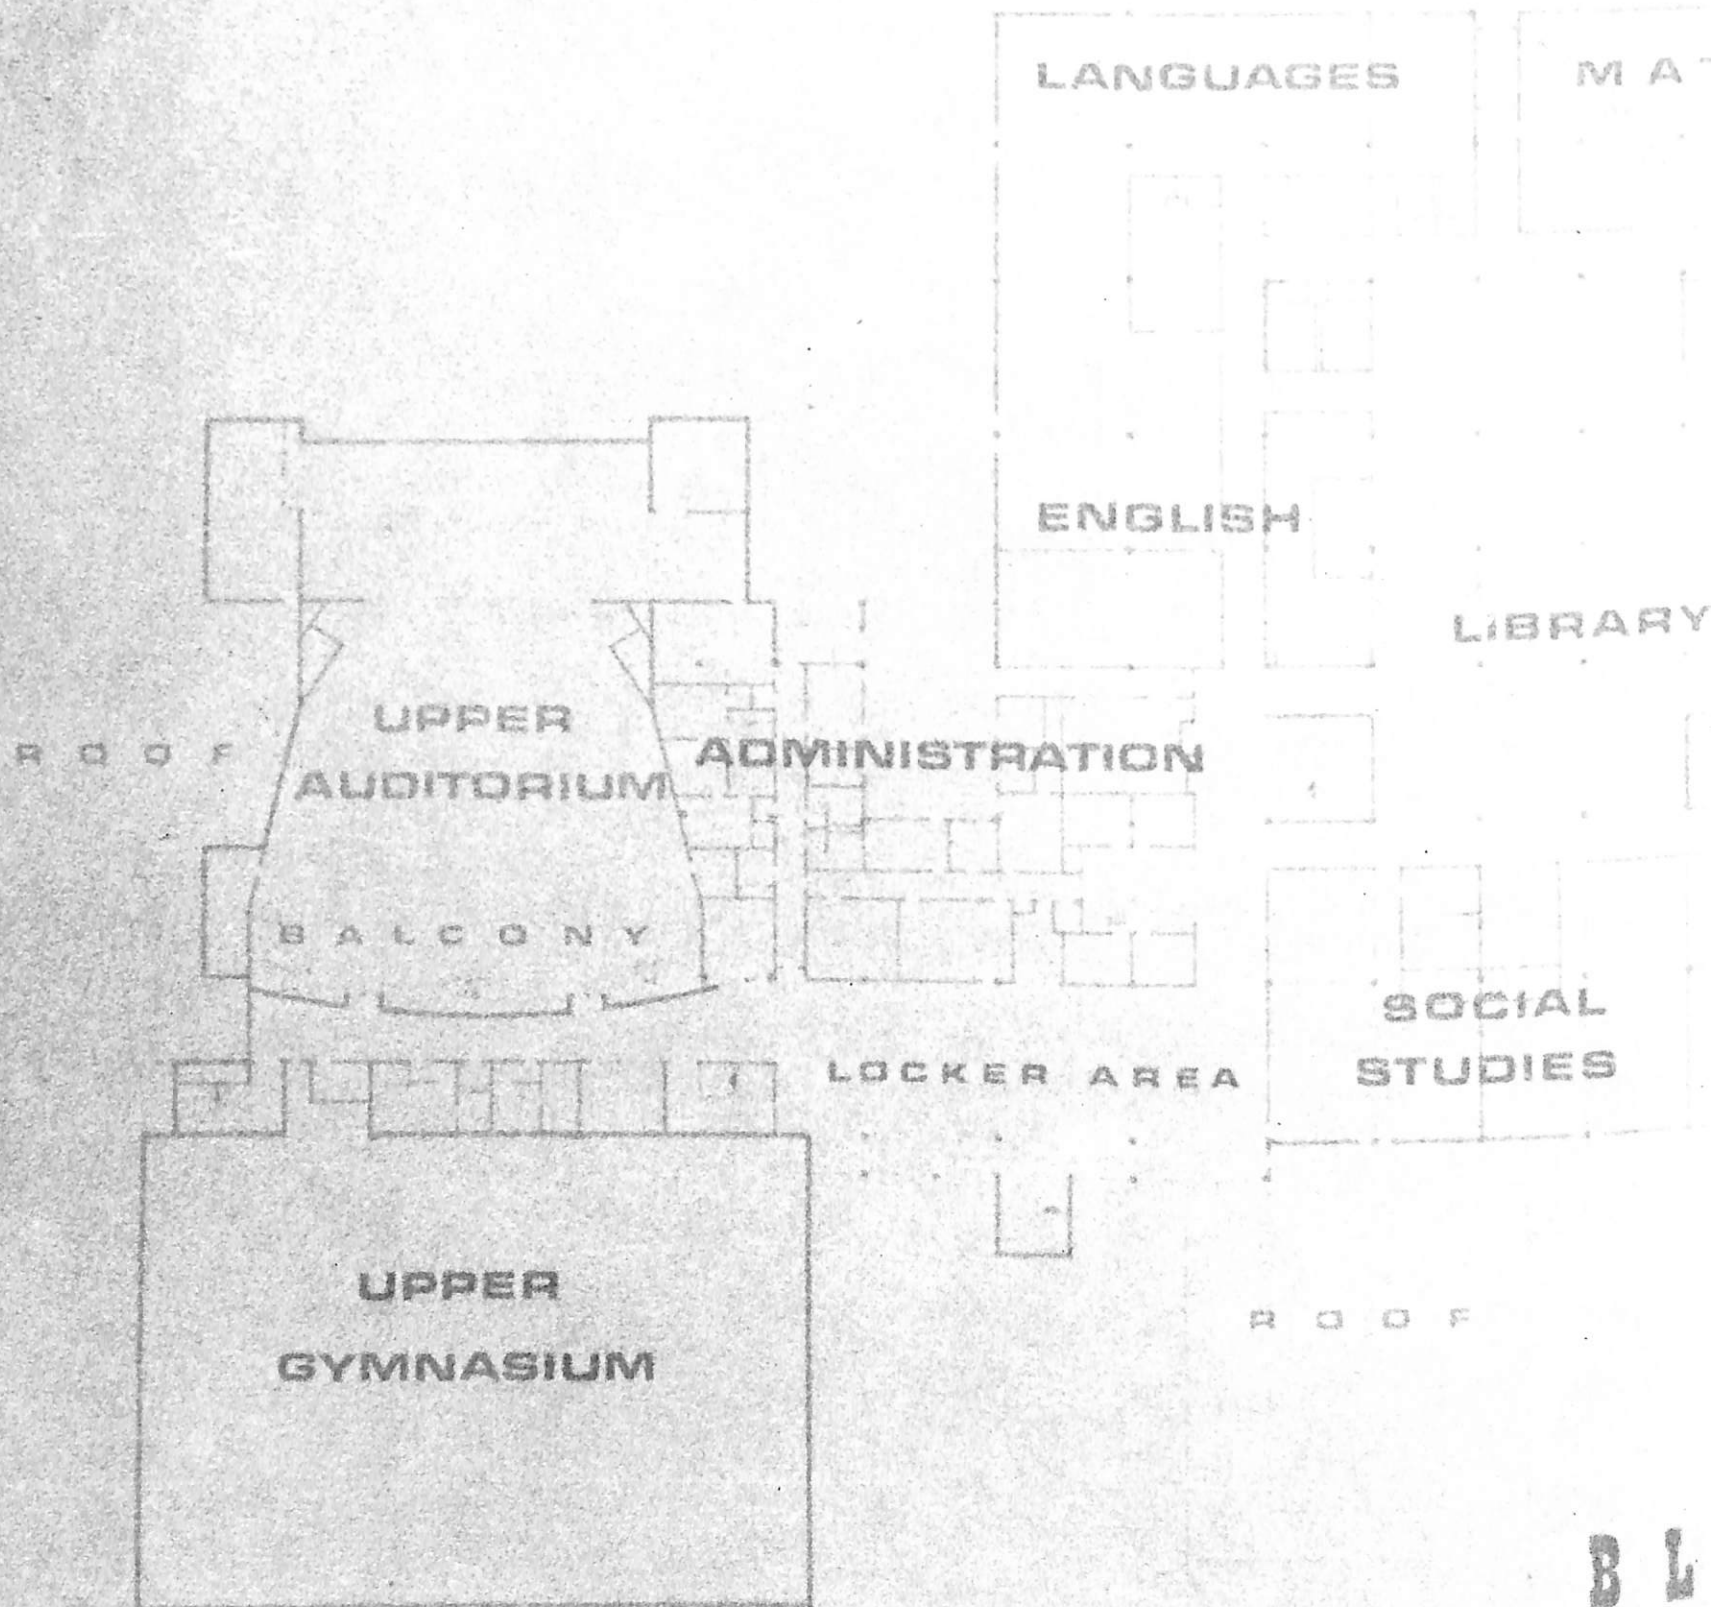

Walk down the hallway into tomorrow
The time calls for a transition
We see the future as unlimited —
We know that the past is a kaleidoscope of memories.
