Randall County

The Best in the Panhandle of Texas

A county which produces more artificial products than any other county on the Plains of Texas except one and that county is twice as large and only exceeds Randall county by about $30,000 a year. The soil, a rich chocolate loam, is deep and very productive, raising everything that can be raised in the Temperate Zone. Excellent fruit country. In the center of the shallow water belt, with ninety per cent of the county tillable. Wheat, oats, milo maize, Kaffir corn, fruits, vegetables, broom corn, sugar beets, alfalfa, hogs and prize-winning Hereford cattle are now the principal products. Land is cheap and tax rates are low. School facilities the best in West Texas. More farmers are coming to Randall County each year than in any other county in the Panhandle—and they are making happy, satisfied citizens. Randall County is building up rapidly. 24 inches average rainfall nearly all coming during the growing season.

The Educational Center of West Texas

The territory of 12 to 15 counties from which Canyon City draws trade makes it a noted shipping and distributing point. Here two great desires of the heart are found—health and commercial activity. Canyon city, the county seat of Randall County, is situated on an eminence between the Palo Duro and Tierra Blanca creeks with drainage almost perfect, climate ideal, altitude 3,300 feet, and at the head of that wonder, the Palo Duro Canyon (pronounced by U. S. Government experts to be, in scenic beauty, the equal of Yellowstone Park) which the U. S. Government has now under consideration to purchase. Five years ago just a village, now a hustling town of 3000 people. Has two railroads with good passenger service, fine brick business blocks, elegant residences, good public schools, lowest death rate, according to population, in the state, sewerage and waterworks systems, fine supply of water. Is the site of the West Texas State Normal College, a State institution located by three state officials after investigating all of Texas west of Fort Worth. The people here want to meet live, hustling people from other places—we want YOU to become one of us. The Commercial Club is anxious to send out any desired information.
