New Fraternity Gets Approval Of College From Dean's Office

A new fraternity which was formed by eleven Wagner students last term has been approved by the college, according to an announcement by Dean of the College Adolph J. Stern.

The new fraternity, named Omicron Pi Theta, submitted its Constitution to Dean Stern at the beginning of the semester and received final approval last week. College President David Delo and Dean of Men Ian Morrison were also consulted with regard to the new group.

AIMS STATED

The principal stated objects of the new fraternity, whose colors are red, black, and white, are to "...uphold the dignity of the individual...to reaffirm the meaning of 'Brotherhood,'" and "...encourage a closer relationship between Man and his God."

The eleven students who worked to form the fraternity are Anton Thumhart, William Schneider, Edward Rutmayer, Louis Romolo, Roy Roderick, Jerry Mraz, Harry Morse, John Mlynar, Harry Lysgaard, William deHeyman, and Douglas Clarke.

WORK BEGUN IN OCTOBER

The work of organizing the fraternity was begun last October, and a letter of intent was sent to the Dean's office shortly after. Since that time the group has been drafting, composing, and writing its Constitution.

The non-sectarian, non-prejudicial group has been provisionally chartered according to Dean Stern, for one year. He emphasized that this one-year probationary status is standard procedure for all new fraternities. At the end of the year, the group will be permanently chartered.

The fraternity also intends to work "...for the betterment of the College," and plans to sponsor Chapel services at regular intervals. Several members of Pi Theta are already working on plans for the first of these.

Mail Room Opened; Consolidates Service

The mail room opposite the co-ed lounge in the lower hall of the Administration Building, has been completed and opened. Consolidating several college mail services, the new room will contain both faculty and student mailboxes.

For those students who do not rent a box, mail will be distributed through the general delivery window at specified hours, which will be announced.

The rental for each box is a dollar. Several students may share a box.

N.Y. Art League Takes Option On Painting

The members of the Board of Control of the Art Students League at 215 West 57th Street, New York City, have taken an option on a drawing, "Reclining Figure," by Janice Miller, a Wagner student. The drawing was exhibited in a recent show of students' work at the league center. Miss Miller is a senior Art major at Wagner and a part time student at the Art Students' League.

Educators Meet, Back Eisenhower Proposal

On February 17, 1954, a group of the nation's educators agreed with President Eisenhower that 18-year-olds should be given the right to vote.

FEW NEGATIVES

With only a few scattered negative votes, the convention of the American Association of School Administrators approved a resolution endorsing the president's proposal, adding that "...instruction given at most schools today helps to prepare young people for the franchise."

"The A.A.S.A. believes," read the resolution, "that the program of instruction and the participation of youth in the democratic life of the school prepare for responsible citizenship."

STUDENTS DISAGREE

According to a recent WAGNERIAN poll of Wagner students, less than 50% of the students here would agree with President Eisenhower and the A.A.S.A. The pro and con reasons on this question have been compiled in 200-word essays in a contest run by the History Department. Almost 100 entries have been accepted for judging, but no final data is available as this paper goes to press. The two winners of the contest will take part in the radio forum with a congressional Representative and an author over the "Town Meeting of the Air" next Tuesday, March 2.

It was announced last week that Wagner students will be admitted free of charge.

Faculty Member Joins Committee

Dr. Viljo K. Nikander, chairman of the Department of Religion and Philosophy, has been appointed a member of the overseas Committee of the Save the Children Federation. This particular committee of the organization plans and supervises all work done by the federation in foreign countries.

Since its founding in 1932, the federation has worked in small rural communities of the United States, and in recent years, overseas. In the belief that the rural areas of a nation are its population reservoir, the federation extends its services of feeding and educating the children in these areas.

Dr. Nikander is the president of Help Finland, Inc., of which Herbert Hoover is Honorary President. Help Finland, Inc. is a national relief organization which in recent years has worked in conjunction with the Save the Children Federation in this serving of children.

I.R.C. Opens Series Of Foreign Countries Talks

The International Relations Club of Wagner College has begun a series of meetings at which different foreign countries will be discussed, according to Leonhard Pahl, I.R.C. president. The meetings, which are held every other Wednesday at 8 p.m., feature speakers from the countries which are being discussed.

At the initial meeting of this series, held last week, the U.S.-owned Virgin Islands were the subject. The next such meeting of the club will be held next Wednesday, March 3. The topic of discussion has not yet been announced.

President Delo Crowns Senior Jr. Prom Queen

College President David M. Delo crowns Wanda Schweizer, '54, Queen of the Junior Prom. The coronation took place at the Hotel Vanderbilt last Saturday at 11:00 p.m.

Theology Professor Is Faith & Life Speaker

Dr. Edmund A. Steimle, professor of Practical Theology at the Lutheran Seminary in Philadelphia, Pa., rounds out the group of speakers for this year's Faith and Life Week. In 1950 he was awarded an honorary Doctor of Divinity degree from Wagner College. He will include in his topics "Deepening Your Spiritual Life" and "Beliefs That Make a Difference."

Born in Allentown, Pa., the speaker received his bachelor of arts degree from Princeton University, where he majored in English, and also received a masters degree in English from the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Steimle is a graduate of Philadelphia's Lutheran Seminary and attended the Harvard University Divinity School.

Dr. Steimle has been pastor of the Church of our Saviour, Jersey City, and pastor of the Lutheran students in Greater Boston. His articles have been published in various church publications.

State Representatives Visit, Advise Wagner

Two representatives of the Board of Regents and the Middlestates Association of Colleges and Universities visited Wagner last Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday to assist our curriculum committee in the examination of our whole curricular program. This committee is headed by Dr. Charles Kraemer, chairman of the Economics department.

Dr. Carroll V. Newson, associate commissioner, and Dr. Ewald B. Nyquist, assistant commissioner for higher education, both members of the Board of Education of the State of New York, were here to advise the committee, composed of three alumni, three trustees, three faculty members, and three Staten Island citizens, for future college activities. The commissioners also gave advice on laying a basis for planning a long-range development program, including emphasis on the curriculum, physical education, and public relations.

Fordham Rams Top Seahawks In 'Big' Game By 67-44 Score

Kraemer Heads New Faculty Organization

Dr. Charles Kraemer, chairman of the Department of Economics and Business Administration, was elected president of the Wagner College chapter of the American Association of University Professors at an organization meeting held on February 2.

Dr. Jens Trygve Jensen, associate professor of Chemistry, was elected secretary-treasurer, and Dr. Kenneth Scott, chairman of the Department of Modern Languages, delegate to the national convention of the association, which will be held at Hunter College on Saturday, March 20.

The objectives of the Association are the facilitation of more effective co-operation among teachers in colleges and universities; the promotion of the interests of higher education; the advancement of the standards and ideals of the teaching profession, and the increase of their usefulness.

Dr. David Delo, president of the college, expressed his gratification at the organization of the chapter at Wagner. "I am delighted," he said, "to have such a fine national organization on our campus."

Advise Pre-Meds To Take Exams

Candidates for admission to medical school in the fall of 1955 are advised to take the Medical College Admission Test in May, it was announced by the Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the test for the Association of Medical Colleges.

These tests, required of applicants by almost every medical college throughout the country, will be given twice during the current calendar year. Candidates taking the May test, however, will be able to furnish scores to institutions in early fall, when many medical colleges begin the selection of their next entering class.

Candidates may take the MCAT on Saturday, May 8, 1954, or on Monday, November 1, 1954, at administrations to be held at more than 300 local centers in all parts of the country. The Association of American Medical Colleges recommends that candidates for admission to classes starting in the fall of 1955 take the May test.

The MCAT consists of tests of general scholastic ability, a test on understanding of modern society, and an achievement test in science. According to ETS, no special preparation other than a review of science subjects is necessary. All questions are of the objective type.

Application forms and a Bulletin of Information, which gives details of registration and administration, as well as sample questions, are available from pre-medical advisers or directly from Educational Testing Service, Box 592, Princeton, N.J. Completed applications must reach the ETS office by April 24 and October 18, respectively, for the May 8 and November 1 administrations.

The Seahawks, playing before a crowd estimated at 2200, lost the "big" one Monday night as they were completely outclassed by Fordham University 67-44 in the Wagner Gymnasium.

FORDHAM'S SEVENTEENTH

For the Rams this is their 17th win in 21 starts, and they showed why they are ranked among the top twenty major colleges in the country. They had a field goal percentage of .40, and they outrebounded the Hawks 50-43. They had a well drilled outfit on the floor at all times, and presented a highly polished attack throughout the game.

As for the Green and White, they put on their worst offensive showing of the season. They scored only two field goals in each of the first two periods, and were able to hit with less than one of every five shots from the floor. As in past games they showed a lack of outside shooting, and were hurt badly by their weak bench. The Rams threw up a very tight defense which caused the Suttersmen to force many of their shots.

FOURTH STRAIGHT LOSS

Just two weeks ago the Hawks had a 17-1 record, and were being mentioned as an NIT possibility. Now after losing to Connecticut, West Point, Kings Point and Fordham in that order, they are completely out of the tournament picture, and have even blown their chance to finish the season with the best record in the history of Wagner basketball. The 1949-50 aggregation, with a 19-5 record, were the standard bearers previous to this year. If Coach Herb Sutter can rally his forces to take the final two games with Hofstra and St. Peter's they will have tied the old mark.

Only three men managed to score in double figures, two for the victors, and one for the losers. Don Lyons was the top point getter with 17 for the visitors. Ed Conlin, with a total

Sociological Society Organized At Wagner

A new club, the Sociological society, was founded at Wagner last week by a group of students interested in this field. The society, which is advised by Sociology professors Roswell Coles and Esther Wood, elected as its initial officers two students from Staten Island; Anita Jacobsen, president, and Royal Olson, secretary-treasurer.

The club has been established with the aim of having regular discussions and of hearing authorities on the subject. The group also plans to conduct various field trips.

Prospective members are desired to have completed, or be in the process of taking, a course in Sociology. However, according to secretary Olson, "No interested persons will be turned away."

The society will meet again next Tuesday, March 2 in Room C-1 during Chapel period. The speaker at that time will be Dr. Asapanya Johnson, who is a well-known authority on racial problems. He is currently the minister of the African Methodist Church on Staten Island.

Warning for Next Time

To drink or not to drink, that is the question;
Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer
The stings and pangs of outrageous thirsts,
Or to take arms against a sea of troubles
And by drinking end them. To drink -
To thirst no more; and by a drink
To say we end the heart-aches parched throats
And the thousand natural thirsts
That flesh is heir to - 'tis a consummation
Devoutly to be wished. To drink - to forget
To forget! Perchance to dream! Ay, there,
There's the rub.

For in that hazy stupor what dreams may come
When we have tasted of that last martini
Must make us tremble: there's the respect
That makes headaches of so long a night;
For who would bear the whips and scorns
Of an angry dean,
The restrictions in temper imposed,
The abuses and mistreatments of the sneering
faculty.
The pink elephants and the dancing bears
That torture the imagination, when we
Could merely say, "plain soda, please."

The Inquiring Photographer

By Bill De Heyman
Photos by Harry Frank

What questions should be asked in the inquiring photographer?

Elaine Di Pasca - Soph; I enjoy the questions and think they are good. The point is to get student opinions of the various organizations and problems in the school. Many of the answers, I think, are quite constructive.

Anita Jacobsen - Junior; They ought to ask questions that have to do with essential school policies, rather than opinion on inconsequential practises that have been instituted. Many of Wagner's attitudes are in accordance with those of the student body, but the significant ones rarely get into print for approval or disapproval. For fear of consequences, opinions are often withheld or given in the light considered desirable.

Ronnie Larsen - Junior; The inquiring photographer should ask questions which pertain essentially to current problems facing all of the student body. Too many of the columns are completely ridiculous and are nothing but a discredit to the paper... not the WAGNERIAN of course.

Rose Murphy - Junior; I think the questions are very good, but the majority of the students don't know what to say.

Point Of Views

By D. L. S.

Finally the door opened and I found myself in the tower. I located the nearest door to the open observation platform and headed for it. At long last I had realized my ambition of setting foot on top of the tallest building in the world.

As was said before, the day was foggy, but the view afforded was not in any way diminished. What I could not see with my eyes, I imagined. The result was no less than breathtaking. Looking down at the ant-like people and the miniature autos, I felt like a little child viewing the wonders of a toy world for the first time. My first impulse was to reach out and grasp several of the little figures and bring them up to me. I was fascinated as a child is fascinated by the world of make-believe.

Upon walking around the tower, I discovered the south side from whose ramparts the complete southern tip of Manhattan Island was visible. Never before had the topography of the island made itself so real to me. The streets were in deep contrast to the buildings which rose in high relief by their sides. Here and there a familiar landmark of street presented itself to my sight. The panorama of Manhattan lay open to me. I had never witnessed anything so breath-taking before.

After an interval of gazing at this spectacle, I tore myself away, re-entered the glass-enclosed center of the observation tower, purchased a small memento of the trip, and retraced my steps to the street below. When I felt terra firma once more beneath my feet, I issued a sigh of relief and entered into the maze and hub-bub of 34th Street traffic, determined to revisit this place which had so graphically shown me the splendor of Manhattan Island.

Thy Kingdom Cometh

Matthew 7:1 Judge not, that ye be not judged.

Experience shows us quite clearly that man, at least in our culture, obtains great delight in playing judge and condemning the actions and words of others. But, at the same time, if we are being judged, instead of judging, righteous indignation swells up within us.

Why does this attitude of condemnation tend to run amuck in our thinking and in our lives? Perhaps it stems from our competitive culture. For it is easy to build ourselves up by tearing another person down. Then again, judging others often proves a subtle way of nursing our own feeling of self-worth.

As individuals we are often inconsistent. Our "paper and pencil" philosophies are a far cry from the philosophy manifested in our lives. If we knock the inconsistencies and shortcomings of others then our own failings don't hurt us as much.

In this explanation of our behavior one thing stands out -- the selfish concern for ourselves as individuals which makes us exclude any concern for our fellows. We want to judge, but when the tables are turned we can't stand it. Too frequently we look at others as merely competing forces that we must discredit in order to raise ourselves.

Let's look at the picture we have drawn. No concern for others. No love. No Christ, for we have discarded His teaching. The picture is ugly and mean.

If we would look at the behavior and words of others with a helpful intent and not the intent to condemn, then we would truly be following the Christ to whom we confess our allegiance.

We might also pray and hope that God views our lives with an attitude of love and not as we so often view the lives of those we judge.

In a Scramble

A Word game

By D. W.

We'll give you "IN". Add one letter for the next word, another for the next and so on. You can scramble them up. It shouldn't take more than 3 minutes to build the pyramid.

Below are a few hints to help you complete this puzzle. It wouldn't be fair to make you figure out different words, too.

The first word is IN.
The second is wrong. Originally it was Eve's.

The next is really cutting.
Some people make pillows from the needles. Although we like the smell we prefer ours softer.

An Upright!
If you worked, you'd get one, too.

German Club Meets

The Deutscher Verein, Wagner's all-male German Club, met this morning during Chapel Period. Led by Leonhard Pahl, the club's president, the group discussed making another trip to Yorkville, the German section of New York City. Last year the Deutscher Verein went there, and visited such places as the "Lorelei" and the "Eighty-Sixth Street Brauhaus."

Girls' Basketball Team Wins Two; Quigley Hits For 25, 15

While the Seahawks have been on a toboggan slide for the past three games, the Girls Basketball team has been enjoying its best week of the season. Last Tuesday they traveled to Hempstead, Long Island to face the Hofstra College lassies. They went into this contest hoping to snap a six game losing streak. After winning their first two games of the season they lost their next half dozen, and thus had a 2-6 record. They not only ended their losing streak, but they looked good doing it as they trounced the Hofstra girls 56-43. Alma Quigley and Jo-Ann Fabbri were the big scorers for the Seahawks. Miss Quigley played a terrific game as she threw in nine field goals and seven fouls for a game high total of 25. Miss Fabbri was not too far behind with 20 markers, scored on ten doubledeckers.

SCANLAN PACES HOFSTRA

The remaining Seahawk points were tallied by Dolores Euler and Mickey Schmidt who racked up eight and three markers respectively. The Long Island girls were paced by Judy Scanlan with 21 tallies, and Fran DeSilvestro with 11. Coach Helen Toebke's charges got off to a slow start, and at the end of the first quarter led by only two, 13-11. However, in the second period they warmed to the task, and at the end of the first half they had a 28-18 advantage. In the third stanza they increased their lead, so that when the final period got under way they were on the right side of a 43-30 count.

Last Friday the girls returned home seeking their second straight win. The trip proved to be worthwhile as they turned back the Adelphi College Girls Basketball team 42-28 in the Grymes Hill Gymnasium. This triumph, besides being their second in succession, brought their season's record to a very respectable 4-6.

For the second consecutive game Alma Quigley was the high scorer for the Seahawks. She hit with seven baskets and one charity toss for 15 points. Next in line was Dolores Euler, with 13 markers on six field goals and a foul, and Mickey Schmidt was third in the Seahawks' scoring derby with a dozen points scored on four baskets and a like number of free tosses.

The Wagner Girls looked as though they were going to wrap it up early as they led at the end of the first quarter 13-1. However, in the second period they went into a deep freeze as they scored only five points. Thus as the second half began Adelphi was on the short end of an 18-13 score. This lead was increased slightly in the third stanza, and as the final period of play got under way the Green and White led 29-22.

Wagner Grid Squad To Demonstrate At Football Clinic

The Suffolk County Football Coaches Association will hold their first annual Football clinic at Stony Brook School in Stony Brook, Long Island on March 26th and 27th. The clinic is open to all college and high school coaches.

The feature of this clinic is the practical field demonstration by the Wagner College football team. The Staten Island college will go through the paces in full equipment under their head coach Bunny Barbes at 8:30 a.m. on March 27th. Late that afternoon the Wagner gridders will repeat the practical field demonstration, under the direction of the University of Connecticut coaching staff headed by Bob Ingals. Play situations in split T, single wing, and the A formation will be part of the demonstration.

Friday night's clinic session will feature such renowned coaches as Howdy Meyers of Hofstra College; Paul Patton of St. Lawrence University, and Ed Danowski of Fordham.

Jayvee Snaps Eight Game Losing Streak

The Wagner Jayvee kept the trip to Kings Point from being a complete failure last Wednesday night as they trounced the Mariners' Junior Varsity 80-69. This was the first win for the little Hawks since December 19 when they turned back the Upsala Freshmen at home. It snapped an eight-game losing streak which started on January 6.

Bob Morris set a season's high for the Junior Varsity as he racked up 30 points on 12 field goals and half dozen fouls. Bob Piela also had himself a good night with six two-pointers and seven charity tosses for 19. Lou Marciano was the only other man in double figures for the victors with 14 markers.

Little 'Hawks Bow To Fordham Frosh

The Jayvees suffered the same fate as the Varsity on Monday night as they bowed to a powerful Fordham Freshmen quintet 78-70. Bob Piela was the big scorer for the little Hawks with 17 points, followed by Bob Morris who netted 16 markers.

Although they didn't quite have the scoring drive to take all the marbles, the Seahawks made a terrific comeback in the third quarter after trailing by as many as 25 points late in the third period.

Seahawks Drop Third Straight To Kings Point

The Wagner College Seahawks again failed to pull out of their nose dive last Wednesday night as they lost their third straight, this time to an ever hustling quintet representing the United States Merchant Marine Academy, by a score of 70-64 at the latter's gymnasium in Kings Point, Long Island.

The Hawks led throughout the first half and seemed to have things in hand, but they were overcon- early in the third period mainly because of the Mariners' persistent ball hawking, and their own bad passing. The future maritime officers played a running game from the opening whistle to the final buzzer. They employed the fast break without hesitation, and were not afraid to pass the ball half the length of the expansive court.

#18 PROVES TOUGH TO GET

That eighteenth victory is proving to be the most elusive of the season for the Green and White. They have now failed to corral number 18 in successive attempts against Connecticut, West Point and Kings Point. Another thing which adds interest to the remaining three games on their schedule is the fact that they must sweep these contests in order to finish this season with the best record ever posted by a Wagner College basketball team. Prior to this campaign, the 1949-50 squad holds the mark with 19 wins against five losses.

BIG UPSET

Although this was a tough one for the Hawks to swallow, the Mariners took great pleasure in their upset victory since it is their eighth in a row, and only their second win in eleven games played with the Seahawks. It was a game that the Staten Islanders figured to put in the bag, but they were quite surprised by the scrappy Mariners.

Both teams presented a diversified scoring attack with five men in double figures. Carl Lundgren was top scorer for both clubs as he led the Cadets with five field goals and six fouls totaling 16 points. Right behind him was teammate Jack Barron who hit five times from the floor, and tacked on a like number of free throws for 15 markers.

HARREUS HIGH

Charlie Harreus was the big man for the Green and White as he threw in four field goals and six fouls for 14 points. Ed Peterson, the Hawks leading scorer for the season, garnered one point less than Charlie as he clicked with five doubledeckers and three charity tosses. Co-captain Don Briggs was third in line with eleven points, picked up on a pair of two pointers and seven free tosses. Lionel Rotelli and Charles "Lonny" West were the other two agents who reached double numbers with 10 markers each. The Kings Point quintet which scored more than nine points apiece was rounded out by Al Wind with 13, and Hal Yee and Bob Domini with 10 each.

Seahawks End Season At Home Saturday

Coach Herb Sutter's Wagner College Seahawks will don their basketball togs for the last time this season this Saturday night, as they take on the Peacocks from St. Peter's College, Jersey City, in the Wagner Gymnasium.

As usual the Peacocks will come up with a strong quintet which will do its best to add another loss to the Seahawks fine record. This will be the 12th meeting between the teams, and Wagner has a slight edge in the games played thus far. Last year St. Peter's trounced the Green and White 92-68.

Fordham Rams Top 'Hawks 67-44 In "Big" Game

of 15, was the other Ram in double numbers. However, more important than this was the fact that he pulled down 15 rebounds to head both clubs in that department. Ed Peterson led the scoring parade for the Hawks with 10 points, scored on two field goals and six fouls. Lionel Rotelli, after going scoreless in the first half, took second scoring honors with eight points in the third quarter. Charlie Harreus, although not among the scoring leaders, was a big asset for the Hawks as he led them in rebounds with 10.

LOW SCORING QUARTER

Both teams had trouble hitting from the floor in the first quarter, and four minutes had gone by before Parchinski scored the first field goal to put Fordham ahead 3-1. Gus Merkel then evened matters for the Seahawks with a jump shot from the foul line. Lyons then tallied on a one-handed push shot, but moments later Peterson's two pointer knotted the count at 5-5. At this point the Rams hit for five quickies to move out in front for the remainder of the game. With the score 10-5, Don Briggs eased in a free throw to cut the margin to four points. This was upped to six as Conlin clicked with a long hook shot seconds before the buzzer sounded ending the first period.

CONLIN'S HOOK SHOTS

The second quarter found the Rams beginning to hit more often from the floor. Lyons was hitting the bull's eye with his jump shots, and Conlin had the sellout crowd gaping with his long hook shots from both sides of the basket. Meanwhile the Seahawks continued to have trouble finding the range. Using this weakness to the best advantage, the Rams would not let them get anyone underneath, thus they fell further behind. When the clock showed that the first half had become history, the Green and White was on the short end of a 30-16 score.

CLOSE GAP

They closed the gap slightly in the opening moments of the third period as they outscored the visitors 5-1. However, the Rams got tough again, and soon led by 14, 38-24. This lead was again chopped down as Rotelli clicked twice from the outside, and Peterson tallied on a charity toss. Then the Rams threw the proverbial monkey wrench in the Hawks' scoring machine, and they scored only three markers for the rest of the period.

SIX STRAIGHT POINTS

As the fourth and final period got under way the Hawks had cut down their half time deficit, but they still trailed 44-32. Any hopes they had of getting back into the game, however, quickly vanished as Fordham went on a six point scoring binge to bring the count to 50-32. For the remainder of the contest the Suttermen did their best to make it close, but they found themselves continually losing ground. As the buzzer sounded ending the game the scoreboard at the north end of the gym indicated that the Hawks had lost their fourth straight, 67-44.

A.P.O. Service Frat Pledges 12 Students

Vito Pavia, president of Wagner's Kappa Epsilon chapter of Alpha Phi Omega national service fraternity, announced the names of twelve new A.P.O. pledges early this week. The twelve will be inducted into brotherhood at a meeting of the service fraternity in the North Hall Interfraternity Room next Sunday.

The twelve pledges are Charles Von Oesen, Tom Scuderi, Sal Scuderi, Roy Olson, Tom Lloyd, Richard Larsen, Bill Lang, Carl Laib, Bill Hereford, Marty Frankel, Richard Everson, and Dick DeStefano. All are residents of Staten Island.

The new pledges have been performing a number of services on the campus and in the community. Chief among these has been the painting of the Interfraternity Room in North Hall, the painting of several flights of stairs in the Administration Building, and giving several parties in the Cerebral Palsy Wards at the Marine Hospital on Staten Island.

The current group of pledges has also been performing a number of other useful tasks as a part of their Pledging period.

Honorary Dramatic Group Initiates Four Students

Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic fraternity, inducted four new members on Tuesday, February 16, 1954. Doris Riker, Carl Nuernberger, Anton Thumhart, and Robert O'Donnell were inducted in this national, 300-chapter society, on the basis of their work in the Varsity Players, Wagner's dramatic club.

The fraternity also began to lay plans for a show to be presented at Wagner, Friday April 2, and Saturday, April 3. Final plans for the show have not been completed.

IT'S ALL A MATTER OF TASTE

We didn't like the pretty hat
That I had set my heart on;
No argument on Luckies, though—
We buy them by the carton!

How smart we students are—
We've chosen Lucky Strikes again,
The smoothest smoke by far!

COLLEGE SMOKERS PREFER LUCKIES

A comprehensive survey—based on 31,000 student interviews and supervised by college professors—shows that smokers in colleges from coast to coast prefer Luckies to all other brands! The No. 1 reason: Luckies' better taste!

When you come right down to it, you smoke for one simple reason . . . enjoyment. And smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste. Yes, taste is what counts in a cigarette. And Luckies taste better.

Two facts explain why Luckies taste better. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . light, mild, good-tasting tobacco. Second, Luckies are actually made better to taste better . . . always round, firm, fully packed to draw freely and smoke evenly.

So, for the enjoyment you get from better taste, and only from better taste, Be Happy—Go Lucky. Get a pack or a carton of better-tasting Luckies today.

You may be from a northern state;
You may be from Kentucky;
But, nation-wide, here's one good tip:
Be Happy and Go Lucky!
