ALPHA TO HOLD FORMAL DANCE ON DECEMBER 3

Hotel Winfield Scott To Be Site
Of Affair; Frank Kosman's
Orchestra To Play

Alpha Kappa Pi will hold its annual fall formal dance on Saturday, December 3, at the Hotel Winfield Scott, Broad Street, Elizabeth, New Jersey.

Frank Kosman's "Isle Collegians," who were also engaged by Alpha for the free school dance held earlier in the month, will furnish the music for the dancing from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. The feature of the entertainment planned will be an exhibition by the finalists of the Harvest Moon dancing contest.

Patrons and patronesses for the dance will be Dr. and Mrs. Goller, Dr. and Mrs. DeWalsh and Dr. Davidheiser.

The co-chairmen of the arrangements committee are Henry Raisch and Ed Sheldon. Jack Cooper, Elbert Harris, Tony Scala, and Siegfried Dietrich are assisting them.

Men's Basketball Squad Meets Webb In Season Opener

Seven Vets Among Thirteen
Candidates Reporting;
Carl Sheie Captain

The Wagner men's varsity basketball team will engage Webb Naval Institute of New York City on December 5 at the Wagner court in the opening game of their 1938-39 season. A contest with the Alumni, scheduled for two Saturdays ago, was to have been the season opener, but has been indefinitely postponed to some future date.

With seven veterans among the thirteen candidates reporting, the team has been working out three times a week under the direction of Coach Herb Sutter in preparation for the coming season.

Captain Carl Sheie, Hec Quintana, Mario Moccia, John Klc, Carl Peterson, Les Trautmann and Lu Kirsch are the members of last season's squad who are back again. Bob Burton, another member of the 1937-38 squad and a regular on the Green Wave eleven, has thrown aside his football togs, and has started a drive to land a position on the quintet. Wilbur Sterner, Thomas Franzreb, Noel Dahlander, Mark Hinkley, and Don Borth are also out for the team.

The cagers have been scrimmaging against local fives in an attempt to gain a high-geared offense and find a suitable defense.

KALLISTA WILL BE DISTRIBUTED EARLIER

The Kallista will be ready for distribution early next spring instead of late in May, as heretofore, under present plans. This is the first time in Wagner history that the book will have been published at such an early date.

The New City Printing Company of Union City, New Jersey, has been engaged as the printer, according to an announcement made by Lester Trautmann, editor-in-chief, after a recent Board of Publications meeting.

A majority of the individual pictures have already been taken by the Lensart Studio of Staten Island. The group pictures will be taken immediately following the Christmas vacation.

CHRISTMAS PLAY TO BE PRESENTED ON DECEMBER 13

John Devlin and Everett Jensen
To Portray Leading Roles
In Annual Presentation

The Varsity Players will once again present an adaptation of Dickens' "Christmas Carol" in the auditorium on Tuesday evening, December 13.

John Devlin and Everett Jensen both have been cast in the same roles which they portrayed in last season's production of the play. Devlin will play Scrooge, while Jensen will be the ghost of Jacob Marley.

The string quartet, the a cappella choir, and the male quartet all will participate in the program.

Unlike the performance last year, there will be a small admission price.

Wagnerian Celebrates Its Fourth Birthday; Hen De Vista Predecessor of Present Paper

Four years ago, on November 8, 1934 to be exact, the Wagnerian was first published as the official paper of the Wagner College Students' Association. With this issue, then, the Wagnerian celebrates its fourth birthday and embarks on the fifth year of its existence.

The Wagnerian was the third publication of the Student Association and had for its initial editor, Robert Glaser, who was then a sophomore. The lead story of that first issue concerned the appointment of Bill Keegan as coach of the men's basketball team.

The first journalistic attempt of the Wagner students appeared sixteen years ago, in 1922, when they put out the Collegian, a mere sheet of paper, posted on the bulletin board daily, in which the current happenings of the day were written. The Entertainment Committee of the Student Council supervised the project.

SIGMA DELTA PHI VICTOR IN SCHOLARSHIP CUP RACE

Sigma Gains Its Second Leg on the Trophy by Recapturing
Interfraternity Cup from Kappa, Winner
Last Year; Alpha Last in Race

SILENCE WEEK TO BEGIN DECEMBER 5

Silence Week will start on Monday, December 5, this year and extend until Saturday, December 10, according to a recent decision of the Interfraternity Council.

This is the first year that Silence Week has been set so late in the first semester. Last year it was approximately a month earlier, being in the first week of November.

On December 5 the bids of the three social fraternities on the hill will be distributed by the campus mailman, David Jensen, to those new and old students whom they desire to pledge for the coming school year. For the duration of Silence Week no contacts are to be made between the various fraternity members and the rushees. Only the president of the fraternity may be approached, under the Wagner Pan-Hellenic rushing agreement, by a person extended a pledge and only for the purpose of asking pertinent questions concerning his group.

The bids must be returned to the office of the Dean not later than twelve o'clock on December 10. Any bid turned in later than this deadline will definitely not be considered.

The Junior Promenade To Be Held December 16

The annual Junior Prom will be held on Friday, December 16, in the Wagner auditorium, with music furnished by Guy Barrie and his orchestra.

Sigma Delta Phi has recaptured the Interfraternity Scholarship Cup.

In gaining its second leg on the trophy, Sigma, with a roster of twenty-two members, led the other two fraternities by a decisive margin, garnering a scholarship index of 1.727 during the last school year.

The closest competitor for the cup was Kappa Sigma Alpha, about one-tenth of a point behind, with an average of 1.615 for thirteen members. Kappa was last year's winner and thus became the first fraternity in the history of scholarship cup competition at Wagner, other than Sigma, to win a leg on such a trophy. Alpha Kappa Pi was third with an index of 1.535 for twenty brothers.

Presentation This Morning

President Stoughton presented the award to Albert T. Keyser, president of Sigma, this morning at the chapel exercises. The trophy will be in the possession of Sigma until approximately a year from now, when the award will again be made following the computation of the averages of the present school year.

The Interfraternity Scholarship Cup is the second such cup, for distinction in class work, to be placed into competition among the three fraternities. It was put into competition three years ago by the Interfraternity Council, with the understanding that it will become the permanent possession of the group winning it three times. The Viale Cup, which Sigma sponsored as the first scholarship cup, was retired by that organization in 1935.

Computation by Childs

The fraternity averages were just computed by Professor Herbert R. Childs. His complete figures for the three fraternities are as follows: the Sigma brothers, numbering twenty-two men, took a total of 615 hours and gained 1062 honor credits. This gave them the index of 1.727. Kappa, with only thirteen members, had a total of 478 hours and received 713 honor credits, giving them an average of 1.615. Alpha's twenty men had 680 hours and 1043 honor credits, for an index of 1.535.

In the tabulation of the indexes, the final marks of all the members of the three fraternities, who were inducted before the first semester, were considered.

FLASH!

A wrestling team may be established if the administration can be persuaded to hire Armand Slovenz as coach. He proved his ability recently by throwing Bud Henriksen.

A Winning Football Team

Wagner College has experienced a new thrill and joy this fall—a happiness that she has been denied for many autumns, six to be exact. Wagner had a winning football team this season, being victorious in four out of six games on the schedule.

It has been a long time since Wagner could make such a boast. She could always be proud of a fighting team, one that gave its all and demonstrated its unquenchable spirit and fight, even though it could never gain a victory. Moral victories were common, but actual victories just never materialized.

Not since the last contest in the 1934 season, played against St. Francis, when Wagner triumphed 6-0, had the Green Wave been able to win, until the second game this year with Panzer, when Wagner was victorious 12-7. A winning team in 1932, which gained national recognition, was Wagner's only previous claim to football fame.

Now in 1938, Wagner has another winning team, but it is one which captured more than mere victories. It captured the hearts of the entire student body and many Staten Island's football fans. It created a new student interest and produced a greater spirit. It gave all those interested in Wagner, from the alumni to friends, another common tie.

We congratulate the 1938 football squad and the coaching staff for what they have done for Wagner.

Concerning Dramatics

On recalling to mind the various activities of the students during the last school year and the accomplishments they achieved, the notable work of the Varsity Players stands out prominently.

The handful of thespians that comprise this energetic group labored hard and long, giving unstintingly of their time and talent, in order to put on the boards the best that drama has to offer. Unsubsidized by the student association and supported but feebly by the students, they experienced difficulty in producing the plays, barely managing to break even financially, but nevertheless, gave their audiences noteworthy productions. The society was progressive and alert to changing conditions, as shown by its presentation of As You Like It in modern dress. It strove to maintain a foremost position and to exert its influence on the general cultural development of not only the school, but also the community.

We believe it succeeded in some way, but not enough. Undoubtedly more could be done, even though the quality of the acting and the plays given are excellent. The Varsity Players have done their part, but the student body has not done its part. The students have responded miserably when called upon to sell tickets or merely to go in person.

There is no excuse why the student body should not see fit to cooperate with the Varsity Players in its productions this year, and many reasons why they should. We trust that the Wagner students will do their utmost in this direction.

POET'S CORNER

Nomis Likes the Springtime

Fair Nomis likes the springtime,
And I prefer the fall.
He thinks the new-born nature
Is loveliest of all.

I like to share with Autumn
Her mood of heavy mist,
To see a red-tipped maple
The brazen frost has kissed.

To hear the dismal wind-sound
Like some unpracticed choir;
To sense a morning preview
Of evenings by the fire.

More fragrant than the blossoms
Which winged the tree in May,
The apple-smell in cellars,
The cider, pressed today.

Oh Nomis, choose your Printemps,
But let me ever see
The falling leaves as symbols
Against the black birch tree.

(Author's note: Nomis is a created name.)

What was the reason for that sudden trip to Pottstown, Tex Schneck and Johnny Devlin? . . . "Pip" Kropp says, quote, "I will kiss a fellow; it depends on the time and general situation, though" . . . That Bergen band-leader was quite a baton-twirler, eh . . . Snowball, the team's mascot, has been visiting our chapel and religion class sessions. That's more than some of the members of the football team have been doing. . .

LETTERS

To the editor:

I would like to join some of the other students and raise my voice in protest against the exclusion of day students from affairs such as the dormitory parties. The social activity of a male day student hinges upon the fraternity and various other organizations of the college. The female day student depends upon the generally inactive Girls' League, invitations to fraternity affairs, and various college functions. The day student comes to school, goes to classes, and goes home. There is "no tie that binds." He does not have an opportunity to enjoy real, intimate college life.

The best solution to this problem, which is becoming weightier as the enrollment of day students increases each year, it seems to me, is to have more affairs for college students in general, rather than restricted affairs. Ostensibly, the women need sororities which are recognized by the college authorities to aid their social activities. The Girls' League is not sufficient.

Let us have some organization, or organizations, which will take care of this crying need for better fraternalism among the students.

—Anonymously.

(Editor's note—The person who wrote the above letter has brought to light an interesting problem, which has been growing more apparent in the last few years. Evidently the recent successful Dorm Show has caused the day students to feel slighted and to voice their complaint. How do you, as a dormitory, or a day student, feel about this problem? Is it a problem, and why? What would you propose to do about it?)

Two Isms on the Campus

After studying 18 institutions with 3758 students, during a period of research at the University of Nebraska, Professor Erland Nelson, of Newberry College, found the following facts:

1. Freshmen as a whole are more conservative than upper classmen.
2. The greatest homogeneity is found among freshmen and least among seniors.
3. In one institution the seniors were more conservative than strongly conservative freshmen.
4. Sex difference in attitudes exist in each of the four years of college, and generally in the direction of greater conservatism among women.
5. Institutional differences are seen both in the total mean scores as well as in the amount of freshman-senior differences.
6. The radicalism attributed to the campus today does not exist. The study shows that students are definitely on the side of conservatism. Only 22 out of the 3578 students had scores which might be interpreted as 'radical.'

FOOTBALL TEAM
ENDS BEST YEAR
WITH FOUR WINS

Green Wave Drops Only Two Games In Its Most Successful
Season Since 1932

When the Wagner football team overwhelmed Bergen College by a smashing 24-0 score, it brought to a glorious close the most successful season since 1932, for the squad compiled one of the best records ever achieved by an eleven in Wagner football history. By winning all four home games and dropping both away contests, the Green and White had a .667 winning percentage.

Panzer, the N. Y. Aggies, New Britain Teachers, and Bergen all fell before the bewildering combination of passing and running the Hilltoppers displayed. The tight defense held the opponents to a single touchdown in these four contests.

Coach Ray Kirchmyer's charges were a band of opportunists, capitalizing on every break given to them. The hard-charging line, led by Captain Johnny McDermott, forced many a break in favor of the Green Wave. The entire forward wall, which included Ed Labedz and Conrad Schroeder, ends, Bob White and Bud Henriksen, tackles, Phil Van Tash and McDermott, guards, and Mike Perfect, center, performed exceptionally well, for only in the Hofstra game could an opponent score through the line once the ball got within the Wagner twenty-yard stripe. In every other tussle Wagner held for downs and took the ball away when the opposition came this close to their goal line. Mike Perfect greatly aided the defense by his fine ability to intercept passes.

THE SPORTS
RAMBLER

The final whistle of the Bergen game found three Wagner players wearing their uniforms for the last time. Captain Johnny McDermott, George Bain and Clark Mullins are those whose college football careers are now but memories. There is not only regret in the hearts of these men, but also happiness and pride, for they were on the team which broke the defeat jinx.

Captain Johnny McDermott has advised Athletic Director Herb Sutter to buy blinders for the team's use on away games, for he believes that, on both this year's trips, it was the sight of respective (not respectable) herds of goats which brought hard luck.

Did anyone happen to notice Skip Schipani's face after he intercepted that pass and went thirty-five yards for a touchdown in the Bergen game? He looked like a sweepstake winner, first minute father and elected political candidate, all rolled in one. Since this was the longest run of his career, we don't blame him.

Rumor has it that next season there will be more games scheduled, and a fence around our athletic field, which will help to swell the athletic fund and be of general benefit to the college.

The team wishes to extend its gratitude to the students for the unusually strong support given it, especially on its trips. It has often been necessary for the opposition, in past years, to organize an impromptu 'Wagner' cheering section, but this season the Wagner rooters have at least equalled those of the home team.

Bouquet Department. Especial nods to Coaches Ray Kirchmyer and Sam Hermann, whose faith and efforts were justified in their team. The best of luck to you next season. Nods to Lloyd Rice and his helpers, Luther Eberhardt and Eddie Saul, for a fine managerial job; to the many alumni and friends who showed their support in extending their capacities professionally, such as Dr. Goller, Dr. Bodaness and others too numerous to mention; and last, but not least, to Herb Sutter and Dr. Sutter, whose whole hearted interest in Wagner athletics is unusual in its sincerity.

DANCING —

Is so much more fun when you really do it well.

Treat yourself now to many years of dancing enjoyment by tuning up your dancing now.

Probably several of your friends would be more than glad to join you in a class.

SUMMARY

For four years, Wagner's gridiron forces were victory-starved, and with the 1938 opening set-back in New Haven by the Arnold College eleven, it seemed that the losing streak was destined to stretch over another season. The following Saturday, however, proved that the pre-season ballyhoo as to this year's potentialities was not in vain, for a strong Panzer team was doomed to drop a thrilling 12-7 game. Those in attendance at this game will never forget the tremendous cheer which rose from the Wagner adherents when the final whistle made this long awaited victory a certainty. Just to prove that they were not merely lucky, the squad, the following week, soundly thrashed their arch-rivals, the New York Aggies, 27-0.

Things seemed more than bright when the team left for Long Island to meet Hofstra, for this aggregation had only been able to gain a 6-6 tie with the Aggies, and it was rather evident that the Green and White were vastly superior to the State Agricultural School. But the tale was doomed to be a different one, for in a rough crashing contest which found the Hilltoppers far from par, they were defeated by Hofstra 37-13; and with the intended invasion of a reputedly strong New Britain team, the following week, optimism took a sharp dip.

New Britain came, saw—and was conquered 6-0 in the game which was probably the classic of the year, and which found the Connecticut club, a strong and tricky one, completely stymied by the hard play of the Green Wave.

Again the optimists had a field day, and it was so apparent that Staten Island fans were very much interested in this unparalleled Wagner spurt, that it was decided to hold the final game of the season, with Bergen College of New Jersey, at Thompson's Stadium in order to accommodate the expected large crowd. On Armistice Day this contest was played before a crowd estimated at approximately four thousand and found an inspired Wagner team completely shade a heavier Bergen outfit, to take the game 24-0. On the turf where Staten Island athletes got their start to go on to All-American ratings and varsity positions on teams such as Notre Dame and N. Y. U., the 1938 Wagner College football team closed the best season in almost a decade.

MEN'S FENCING
SQUAD TO MEET
SETON HALL

Opening Match of the Season
Against the Alumni
Ended in a Draw

The Wagner men's fencing squad will engage its second opponent on the current 15-meet schedule on Monday, December 7, when it journeys to Seton Hall.

A victory by Ed Weller in the last bout of the day resulted in an 8½-8½ tie between the Wagner and Alumni fencing teams in the varsity's opening meet, held in the gym of the men's dormitory. Weller, captain of last year's outfit, downed Russ Smith with a brilliant comeback, after being on the short end of a 3-0 count.

Using almost his entire squad, in an effort to find the best material for the coming season, Coach Ray Miller took full advantage of the strong opposition offered by the Alumni team, composed of Weller, Ockie Weber, Bob Vogel, and Walter Vierling.

The men's team will probably be composed of Captain Babe Kraft, Russ Smith, Ray Brown, Walter Lawrence, Al Accettola, Ed Sheldon, and Tony Di Gulio. Lawrence was formerly one of the mainstays of the Erasmus High School squad.

The women's squad, led by Captain Ruth Gorman, is made up of Ann Bosche, Virginia Costich, and Gloria Lorenz, all veterans from last year.

There are also a number of promising freshmen aspirants for the team who are being trained for next season's competition.

The first in a series of round-robins was held recently for the women fencers under the direction of Coach Miller. Captain Gorman was the eventual winner.

Coach Miller has arranged the following schedule:

Date	Opponent	Place
1938
Nov. 18—Alumni	Home
Dec. 7—Seton Hall	Away
Dec. 10—Queens Fencer's Club	Away

Varsity Players Present "The Late Christopher Bean"

Catherine Newton Is Cast As Abby; John Devlin Is Dr. Haggart

"The Late Christopher Bean," a comedy in three acts by Sidney Howard, was presented late last month by the Wagner Varsity Players in the college auditorium before a large audience of students and friends.

Catherine Newton was cast in the leading role of Abby, a New England house maid, while John Devlin shared honors with her, portraying the part of Dr. Haggart, a rural doctor in New England.

In the supporting cast were several newcomers to the Wagner stage, including Muriel Zoll, Dagmar Aitchison, and Dave Smith, all of whom have had previous dramatic experience.

The play was the first production directed by Professor Jacob Foster, the new dramatics coach, who this year succeeded Ronald T. Hammond, now on tour with the Broadway stage success, Shadow and Substance, in the capacity of stage manager.

The presentation was the initial play of a group scheduled for production during the year by the Players, whose president is Devlin. The next production to go on the boards will be an adaptation of Dicken's Christmas Carol, which will be presented on December 13, for the second successive year.

The list of characters is as follows:
Dr. Haggart ..... John Devlin
Susan Haggart ..... Muriel Zoll
Abby ..... Catherine Newton
Mrs. Haggart ..... Faith Frost
Ada Haggart ..... Dagmar Aitchison
Warren Creamer ..... Robert Schneck
Tallant ..... Philip Anstedt
Rosen ..... David Smith
Davenport ..... John McDermott

Radio Club Plans To Build Short-Wave Trans'ng Set

Plans for the building of a short-wave transmitting set to be operated on a five-meter wave length and a similar type receiving set were discussed at the first meeting of the newly formed Radio Club held recently.

The Radio Club, newest of the many organizations now existing at Wagner, was formed by Professor Childs, who will be the faculty adviser, because of the growing interest in radio.

Harry Pulcher, a student at Wagner, who has a Class A operating license, will run the new equipment upon its completion by the group.

The club will hold weekly meetings on Thursdays at 4:00 p.m., at which the members will talk over theoretical and practical problems in the field of radio.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM HIT BY LOSSES

With less than one-half of last year's successful squad on hand, Coach Herb Sutter faces a difficult task in rebuilding the girls' basketball team.

Captain Hope Juhl, Margie Rieb, Dottie Heins, and Anna Kane are the only players who saw considerable service last season, when the sextet won six out of ten games, that remain.

Flo Grunow, Elaine Comeforo, and Louise Morris, all three of whom were regulars, have been lost to the squad this year.

Coach Sutter is attempting to augment the four regulars from a large group of inexperienced candidates which includes Helen Maraldo, Marie Krumpe, Lila Thompson, Gloria Muller, Frances Wightman, Betty Nuss, Jane Gustin, Ruth Haas, Irma Gramm, Dotty Behrens and Norma Arndt.

The co-ed cagers do not open their season until January.

FOOTBALL TEAM ENDS BEST YEAR

averaging two interceptions per game.

The offensive was led by Bob Burton and "Skip" Schipani, each accounting for six touchdowns. Burton also made good two points after touchdown. Bill Wiley scored eight points by virtue of one touchdown and two extra points. Dick Reigi, who was the Wagner field-general, blocked well and ran the team with skill.

With Schipani and Art Smith doing most of the tossing, the Hill-toppers completed thirty-five out of eighty-seven attempted passes for a .402 average. Schipani, who also did most of the punting, averaged thirty-seven yards per boot.

The season's record:

Wagner 0 ..... Arnold 25
Wagner 12 ..... Panzer 7
Wagner 27 ..... N. Y. Aggies 0
Wagner 13 ..... Hofstra 37
Wagner 6 ..... New Britain 0
Wagner 24 ..... Bergen 0

Wagner scored 82 points against 69 scored against them.

Other players who saw plenty of action were Willard Grimes, Stan Rycyck, Werner Johnson, Charley McCarthy, John Mac Kenzie and John Asdal.

L.S.A. CONFERENCE TO HEAR DR. LILJE

Dr. Hans Lilje of Germany, a representative of the Lutheran World Council, will be the guest speaker at the annual Lutheran Students' Conference to be held on December 4th, in St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Lexington Avenue and 54th Street, New York City.

Dr. Lilje is at present touring the United States in the interests of the Lutheran World Conference scheduled to take place in Philadelphia in 1940.

Dr. Ralph Long, chairman of the Lutheran World Council, will direct an open forum on the convention theme: Christian Community Living, and Dr. George Aus, former president of the Wagner Alumni Association, will lead the devotions and conduct a Bible Study.

The Conference, which is not limited to the Lutheran students, is open to any student at Wagner College or to any of their friends. The registration fee, including a supper, is fifty cents per person.

The tentative program is as follows:

2:30 - 3:00—Registration Hymn sing conducted by Mr. Finney of Union Theological Seminary.
3:00 - 3:45—Devotions and Bible Study directed by Dr. George Aus.
3:45 - 4:00—Introduction of interesting personages.
4:00 - 4:45—Dr. Lilje Conference Theme: Christian Community Living.
4:45 - 5:00—Recess.
5:00 - 6:00—Open Forum conducted by Dr. Long.
6:00 - 6:15—Announcements.
6:15 - 6:30—Recess.
6:30 - 8:00—Fellowship Dinner followed by a brief Devotion.

Three Fraternities Induct Nine Pledges As Brothers

Sigma Delta Phi inducted Swede Nilssen, Johnnie Klc, and Arnie Cerasoli at impressive ceremonies on the tenth of last month, bringing their roster up to twenty-one active brothers.

Alpha Kappa Pi received into membership Sieg Dietrich, Elbert Harris, Clark Mullins, Hank Sondergaard, and Russ Smith and followed the induction rites with a dinner at the Clove Park Restaurant.

Willard Grimes was the sole person to become affiliated with Kappa Sigma Alpha during the last month.

Men's Dorm Plays Host To Campus Family with Show

Twelve Musical Numbers, Skits and Satires Are Given in Gym

A group of twelve skits, musical numbers, and burlesques comprised the annual Dorm Show presented by the Men's Dormitory Association, just prior to the Thanksgiving holidays, in the auditorium of South Hall before an appreciative audience consisting of the entire campus family.

Dancing and refreshments followed the presentation of the show, which was for the most part written by the performers themselves. Phil Luther and Ray Miller were in charge of the acts, while Swede Nilssen was chairman of the refreshments committee.

Highlights on the program were the rendition of an operatic aria by Wagner's ace violinist, Phil Luther, and a skit entitled, "The Faculty Banquet," in which five members of the faculty were satirized.

Men's Basketball Squad Meets Webb

turned, the team's chances suffered a severe blow when last year's captain, Lew Gott, transferred to Brooklyn Poly, one of the schools Wagner engages this season. Six wins were recorded against twelve defeats by last year's squad, which tailspinned into a nine game losing streak in mid-season.
