WAGNER COLLEGE, OCTOBER 12, 1938

Vol. V—No. 1

BRUCE CARNEY, '37, who was president of the student association and a debater of note in his undergraduate days, was called by his Alma Mater this September as graduate fellow in biology. Bruce, the first graduate so to be honored, is continuing his graduate study at Columbia in addition to assisting Dr. Deal and teaching one course a semester.

CHARLES K. HELLRIEGAL, '38, the president of the student association and football captain last year, has been awarded a four-year scholarship to study for foreign service at George Washington University, Washington, D. C., as the result of ranking second high in a competitive examination.

RALPH TELLEFSEN, '38, who was a member of the choir and an officer in the student association, has taken up his studies at Luther Seminary, St. Paul, Minnesota, in preparation for the Lutheran ministry.

HENRY ENDRESS, '38, former editor of the Wagnerian and publicity man for the school, was recently appointed assistant registrar. Besides his numerous duties on the Hill, Henry manages to find time to attend Columbia in pursuit of his M. A.

Weather Bureau Officially Opens This Afternoon

Eleventh Station In City to Cooperate
With U. S. Bureau

Today Wagner College officially opens a weather station, on the roof of the administration building, in cooperation with the U. S. Weather Bureau. The station, which is the eleventh to be established in the metropolitan area, will be in charge of Prof. Theodore W. Gibson, head of the mathematics department.

Prof. Gibson has added a course in meteorology to the college curriculum in order to train the students, who will assist him with the station, in weather conditions. These students will observe atmospheric changes and compile data for the government. They will study the U. S. Weather Bureau predictions and attempt to analyze them, although they will not do any predicting themselves.

The class will use simple instruments, merely a rain gauge and maximum and minimum temperature reading thermometers, to record the necessary data. The thermometers will register the high and low temperatures during certain periods of time. The gauge will tell exactly how much rain has fallen between certain hours.

The class in meteorology will be required to plot graphs of the rise and fall of the temperature during certain nights. This will necessitate making hourly observations throughout the night.

WAGNER DROPS SEASON OPENER TO ARNOLD, 25-0

Three Third Period Scores
Rout Green and White;
Pudvah Tallies Twice

Unable to check their opponents in the second half as they had in the first, the Wagner College football squad dropped the season opener to Arnold College last Saturday at Donovan Field, West Haven, Conn., by the score of 25-0. The two teams battled on even terms during the first two quarters, the Connecticut team managing to make only three first downs while Wagner was getting one on a beautiful shovel pass from Shipani to Burton. The Green Wave faltered when the third quarter began and finally succumbed to Arnold's passing offense. Paced by Pudvah and Sylvia, the Arnold eleven rolled up three touchdowns in the third quarter and a fourth in the final period.

When the second half was scarcely two minutes old, Lewis broke away on a reverse through left tackle for eighteen yards. Just as he was

CAMERA CONTEST

Here's that chance for which you candid camera fiends have been waiting. The "Wagnerian" in conjunction with the "Kallista" has arranged for a photographic contest.

There are two divisions: Class A, still life pictures of the campus, and Class B, action pictures of campus life. Three prizes will be awarded in each division. The last day on which photographs will be accepted is December 15.

Photographs may be submitted to any member of the Board of Awards, which consists of Dean Kleintop, Lu Kirsch, editor-in-chief of the Wagnerian, Les Trautmann, editor-in-chief of the Kallista, and Ken Rogler, photographic editor of the Kallista.

SIGMA TO HOLD FORMAL DANCE ON OCTOBER 22

Oldest Fraternity Opens
Fall Social Season
At Hotel McAlpin

Sigma Delta Phi will open its social season with a supper-dance in the Marine Grill of the Hotel McAlpin, 34th Street and 6th Avenue, Manhattan, on Saturday evening, October 22.

Johnny Messner, popular band leader, whose orchestra is heard over the National Broadcasting Company's blue network, will supply the music for the dancing. Supper will be served about ten-thirty p.m. Dancing will be from nine p.m. until two a.m.

Luther Kirsch is the chairman of the arrangements committee. Lester Trautmann and Edwin Glaser are taking care of the publicity, while Arthur Herganhan, Jack Foster, and John Kalny are in charge of the bids, which cost four dollars per couple.

FORMAL TEA HELD IN CUNARD HALL

The first formal tea in Wagner history was held by the administration in the Cunard Hall recently for the purpose of getting the new faculty members, Professor Dunham, Professor Foster, Mr. Sullivan, the new students, and upper-classmen better acquainted.

President and Mrs. Stoughton, Dean and Mrs. Kleintop, Dr. and Mrs. Sutter, and the new members of the faculty were on the receiving line. Wives of the faculty members poured.

The Rev. Theodore G. Tappert, '26, professor at the Lutheran Theological Seminary, Philadelphia, Pa., will be awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity this afternoon at the convocation ceremonies held in the college auditorium in connection with College Day. Professor Tappert, who is to be the main speaker at the exercises, thus becomes the first recipient of an honorary degree from Wagner since the N. Y. State Board of Regents amended the college's charter and gave it the power to grant degrees. He will be introduced by Dean Milton T. Kleintop and presented with the award by President Clarence C. Stoughton.

Band to Play

Following the convocation ceremonies, a concert will be given by the band of Trinity Church, Middle Village, Long Island, of which the Rev. Henry C. Wasmund, D.D. a member of the Board of Trustees and an alumnus, is pastor. This band consists of 35 pieces and features a few alumni of Wagner, including the Rev. Paul Wasmund and Clarence Wasmund, sons of Dr. Wasmund. The school's hill-billy band will entertain, and the Wagner fencing squad under the direction of Coach Raymond Miller will give an exhibition with the epee, foil, and sabre at approximately 6 P.M. in the college auditorium. The featured part of this program will be a demonstration of an old medieval sport, with weapons which are called "angle sticks." This is the first exhibition of its kind ever to be presented on the Wagner campus.

Life Active

The Rev. Theodore Tappert, born in Meriden, Conn., on May 5, 1904, was graduated from Wagner in 1926. While an undergraduate here he was active in all school activities having been president of the Student Association and editor of the Kallista. He became one of the charter members of Sigma Delta Phi when it was founded in 1923. He then went to the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Philadelphia, where he is now a professor, graduating in 1929. Columbia awarded him the M.A. in 1931 and since then Professor Tappert has studied at the U. of Penn., in preparation for a Ph.D. From 1930 on he has been engaged in teaching. In turn he has held the Benjamin Sadtler fellowship at the Philadelphia Seminary, 1930-31 and the instructorship in Church History at both the Mary J. Drexel Motherhouse and the Seminary. Upon his

An Alumnus Honored

Today Wagner welcomes friends from near and far to the first College Day held in the fall of the year since 1919. This is a happy occasion, for Wagner finds her friendships invaluable and rejoices at their being renewed at times such as this. Wagner is happy to extend her hospitality to all and hopes sincerely that this day spent on her beautiful hilltop campus will be truly a pleasant and enjoyable one. She has attempted to provide interesting entertainment and besides this, feels that the fellowship prevalent on such occasions is well worth a trip to the school.

But it is a particularly happy occasion for those intimately connected with Wagner, for a prominent alumnus, a member of the class of 1926, is being honored by his Alma Mater. The Rev. Theodore G. Tappert is to receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity at the convocation ceremonies this afternoon.

This is a singular distinction for Professor Tappert, for the award will be the first honorary degree that Wagner has bestowed since the New York State Board of Regents amended her charter and gave her the power to award honorary degrees.

It is noteworthy that Wagner waited until now to confer such an honor, and that she choose a man so well qualified for recognition. Professor Tappert, a brilliant scholar and a recognized educator and author, was an excellent choice for the award. It is fitting that he was remembered first.

We salute you, Professor Tappert.

Plea for Cooperation

At the advent of the new school year, the Wagnerian asks for the whole-hearted support of the students and the faculty in making the paper a vital and desirable feature of the school. One of the ways in which this support can best be manifested is by giving the Wagnerian sole right to campus news.

The aim of the present staff is to provide Wagner not only with a better paper, but a different paper. Probably the only way in which such an aim can be accomplished is through the cooperation of the school. If the spirit of helping one another is lacking, all enterprises eventually fail. Without the splendid aid of its many friends and the United Lutheran Synod of New York, Wagner would certainly not have been able to achieve her present favorable position. She is comparatively young — only 50 years old — but in that short time she has made remarkable advances. It is interesting to note, though, that she does not believe these advances sufficient, but earnestly strives anew each year for an even greater Wagner.

So it is with the Wagnerian. It is comparatively young — its 4th birthday will be celebrated next month — but it, too, has taken exceptional strides forward. They are not sufficient, though, and in order to keep pace with the school, the Wagnerian has to keep improving.

We have many plans and our zeal to fulfill them is great. But we are handicapped in their ultimate execution unless Wagner students, faculty, and friends give us the necessary support. Let the Wagnerian spread the news, give it your unbounded support and the Wagnerian will be a paper of which we can all be proud.

When obstacles confront my way
And fill my being with sudden fear
I search a silent trembling heart

Or do I lack the skill of others?

CAMPUS CHATTER

The "Deacon" has just finished his plans for the Wagner College Jazz Band . . . The time required for Phil Anstedt to "catch on to" Prof. Haymaker's pun has just been officially announced as six and one half minutes. It happened in that English Prose course . . . Bill Monge unwittingly created history the past summer. He learned the Alma Mater on foreign soil. Canada was the training ground for the new freshman. Roy Cutter and Les Trautmann were the tutors . . . Harold (Bookstore) Hass has finally convinced that faculty member that the right side of the road is the proper side on which to drive . . . Hec Quintana says that girl with whom he has been seen lately is "just a good friend" . . . The rumor is abroad that the Freshmen plan to ask the following question in Freshman Orientation any day now, "How can we prevent class preparation from interfering with our extra-curricular activities?" They fear the consequences, however . . . Einar (peg-leg) Hendrickson, Stan Rycyck and Bob White are battling hard for the two tackle positions on the first string squad of the football team . . . We're convinced a college is made up of all types of people. There's even a Fuller brush man running around in school unleashed . . . One of the frosh liked his class flag so much that he borrowed it permanently in order to use it as a pillow slip. A new flag had to be "Betsy Rossed."

Jack Cooper was the recipient of a pie baked by a pretty co-ed the other day . . . Edith Sandberg and Lew Gott, ex '40, were seen "window-shopping" in the jewelry store sectors of Richmond Avenue the other evening . . . Add these to your list of nicknames: John "March" Kalny, Marie "Gabby" Greene, Grace "Red" Wilson, and don't let him know we told you, Bill "Monk" Monge.

CHAPEL SCHEDULE

Fri., Oct. 14—Rev. Joseph M. Blessing—pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, Port Richmond, S. I.
Wed., Oct. 19—Judge Frederick L. Hackenburg from the Court of Special Sessions, New York City.
Thurs., Oct. 20—Dr. Robert W. Searle—executive secretary of the Greater New York Federation of Churches.
Tues., Oct. 25—Dr. John H. Warnshuis of Brighton Heights Reformed Church, Staten Island.
Thurs., Oct. 27—Dr. John L. Tildsley, formerly of the New York City Board of Education.

FACULTY NOTES

Since the opening of college, four new faculty members have been appointed. They are Professor Harold Dunham, Professor Jacob Foster, Mr. Cecil Sullivan and Mr. Bruce Carney.

Professor Dunham was selected to succeed Dr. Rodick of the Social Science Department. He is a graduate of Swarthmore College where he held a four year scholarship. He received his masters from Columbia University in 1929 and has completed his thesis for the doctorate at Columbia. He comes to Wagner from New College where he has taught since 1936. Professor Dunham, who was born in Dayton, Ohio, also has taught in the evening session of Brooklyn College since 1931.

Professor Foster has joined the faculty in the English Department as instructor in Drama, Public Speaking, and English. He has been a professional stage manager. A native of Lewistown, Pennsylvania, he was graduated from Emory University, Georgia and was granted the master's degree by Teachers College of Columbia University. He is at present a candidate for the doctorate at New York University.

Cecil G. Sullivan has been appointed Librarian to fill the vacancy left by Robert Deily. Mr. Sullivan is a graduate of Presbyterian College, South Carolina, and was a fellow of the history library of the College of the City of New York.

Mr. Bruce Carney of the Class of '37 has been appointed the first graduate student fellow of Wagner College. He has been selected to assist Dr. Deal in the Biology Department, and will himself conduct a course in genetics. Mr. Carney has been a student in the graduate school of Columbia University, where he earned his M.A. These graduate fellowships are awarded by Wagner to outstanding graduate students who intend to continue graduate study for their doctorate. They are thus enabled to gain valuable teaching experience as a supplement to their graduate work. Mr. Carney will continue his graduate studies at Columbia University.

Our Exchange Student Speaks

I appreciate the opportunity the Wagnerian has given me of writing these few words. I shall tell briefly what my aspirations were and what they now are.

I was born in the Argentine Republic and educated in the Roman Catholic Church. At the age of twelve I entered a Catholic Seminary with the intention of becoming a priest. After ten years of dedication to that task, part of which time I spent studying in Rome, I abandoned the idea, and with it I left behind my fervent faith of a Romanist.

About that time I had the joy of learning about the Lutheran Church, the purity of whose doctrine attracted my attention, and soon embraced these doctrines as the pure and true Christianity.

In contact with the Lutheran Church, my call to the ministry, which I thought had perished in me, was reborn more vividly; and so, after much praying and the advice of holy men of God, I decided to follow the new way and to rededicate myself to the Gospel Ministry.

Consequently, I am planning to complete my studies in America, in order that I may return to my native country and bring souls to Christ.

Oscar Galimberti.

(EDITOR'S NOTE—Mr. Galimberti, an Italian exchange student from Argentina, is at present completing his college education at Wagner, before he enters theological seminary. The above article was submitted by him, at my request for a story about his background and life. His views and observations are entirely his own and do not express the opinion of the Wagnerian).

Cheerio to Wagner, Not Good-bye

Four years at Wagner have given me real pleasure, and a wonderful experience I shall never forget.

I wish to extend to my students and to the faculty my most profound regrets that I shall not be working by your side this year; but my spirit will be with you. My deep interest in the future of my students will never lessen. My love for Wagner is as for my Alma Mater.

I am just saying cheerio and good luck for 1938-9.

Ronald Hammond,
Dramatics Coach, 1935-1938.

FOOTBALL SQUAD TO MEET PANZER THIS SATURDAY

Prospects Brighter This Year As Green Wave Prepares For First Home Game

The 1938 edition of Wagner's Green Wave will display its football wares to a home audience for the first time this season on Saturday when it tackles Panzer College of East Orange, New Jersey, on the Wagner field.

Hampered by the lack of practise and the scarcity of experienced veterans, the squad nevertheless has been molded into a smoothly functioning and fast charging outfit by Coaches Ray Kirchmeyer and Sam Hermann. From last year's unsuccessful squad only five letter men Captain Johnny McDermott, Bob White, Werner Johnson, George Bain, and Tony Scala, remain. Successive scrimmages with Curtis High and last Saturday's opener with Arnold College of New Haven have demonstrated that the team possesses a strong offensive and the best line of recent years. The Hilltoppers presented a flashy aerial attack with Skip Shipani doing most of the tossing into the arms of Ed Labeledz and Bob Burton. He was well protected by the sturdy, though not heavy, forward wall, in which Captain Johnny McDermott, a veteran of three years and playing his last season, Stan Rycyk, Phil Van Tash, Bob White figured prominently.

Reserve strength, usually conspicuous by its absence, is far superior this year, with at least one good substitute available for each position. The eleven that probably will face Panzer is as follows:

- L.E.Ed. Labeledz
- L.T.Bob White
- L.G.Phil Van Tash
- C.Mike Perfect
- R.G.Johnnie McDermott, Capt.
- R.T.Stan Rycyk
- R.E.Conrad Schroeder
- Q.Dick Reigi
- L.H.B.Bill Wiley
- R.H.B.Bob Burton
- F.B.Skip Shipani

The games remaining on the schedule are:

- Oct. 15—Panzer — home.
- Oct. 22—N. Y. Aggies — home.
- Oct. 29—Hofstra — Hempstead, N. Y.
- Nov. 5—New Britain Teachers—home.
- Nov. 12—Bergen College — home.

COMPLIMENTS

THE SPORTS RAMBLER

1. Congratulations to Coach "Ray" Kirchmeyer on the third addition to his family. Too bad it isn't a full-back, Ray. But don't fret too much. Give her twenty years, and she'll probably "make" one!

2. Don't believe it if anyone tells you that Sam "Simon Legree" Hermann has been voted the most popular man on the campus by the football squad.

3. The boys all went over to see Montclair play Arnold, and, believe it or not, the best interception and "passing" attack was displayed by the boys in Eddie Labeledz's car. Ask the Montclair co-eds!

4. It seems a shame that the Wagner football players don't get the feminine inspiration shown by our co-eds for the Curtis team.

5. We are told that one of the football men was approached during practice by a group of the Sunnyside children who vowed that, for a slight financial consideration, they would cause "an accident" to happen to the team's pet headache, the charging sled, and see that it was permanently removed.

6. There is no point to making pre-season promises or predictions, but all indications point to our best season in years. A bigger and more experienced squad is wearing Wagner's jerseys this fall, and who can tell if a few celebration bonfires might not be forthcoming. At any rate, all the team asks is a little moral support from the student body. If they get that, they'll play their best. Why not give it to them?

7. By this time the new ping-pong table that has been in the process of building should be ready for all-comers.

8. Basketball practice will commence in a couple of weeks.

CHEMISTRY SOCIETY HAS FIRST MEETING

The Chemistry Society held its first meeting of the school year last night. Norman "Babe" Kraft, a senior majoring in Chemistry, discussed "The Chemistry of Respiration".

Dr. Lee Y. Davidheiser, faculty adviser of the society, has arranged for a trip to the Siegel Color Corporation during the coming month.

Dr. Leonard Brabec is scheduled to be the speaker for the November meeting.

about to be downed, he tossed a lateral to Izzo on the 50 yard line who sped the rest of the way to the first score. Lewis converted. The next two tallies came as a result of passes by Sylvia. He threw a twenty yard heave to Pudvah who ran ten yards, for one, and completed a short pass on the flat to Ethin who sped thirteen yards for another marker. Both attempts for the extra point failed. The last touchdown came on the third play of the fourth quarter when Pudvah intercepted a toss by Shipani and scampered forty yards down the field untouched. Bob White blocked the attempted conversion.

Wagner then resorted to its passing attack, with Reigi doing most of the hurling, in a desperate effort to score, but was unable to march down the field or shake a man loose.

Arnold made seven first downs to Wagner's four. They completed four out of twelve passes, while the Hilltoppers completed only four out of twenty-three.

Musings of a Wanderer By Willie

More than one hundred and thirty Wagner rooters traveled to the Arnold game by bus, automobile, and hitch-hiking. Devlin made the fastest time via the thumb route method, no less—

About fifty of the rooters stayed to enjoy the buffet supper and dance.

A carload of freshmen never arrived at the game. Not knowing where the game was to be played, they stopped and asked directions in New Haven. They were directed to the Yale Bowl, with the result that they did not see the Arnold-Wagner game.

Twenty-two of the rooters stayed overnight in New Haven at the home of the Miller, Lorenz, and Sheldon families.

Lew Williams and Art Hergenhan went sightseeing at Yale and other points of interest rather than to the game.

Charlie McCarthy won a great hand from the Arnold fans when he was given an individual cheer. The name got them.

The bus carrying the team was stopped by no less than three motorcycle patrolmen en route to the game. Violation: Driving on a parkway reserved for pleasure cars.

Bob Intemann, Tex Schneck, and Jean Gardner were among those who arrived late because they thought the game started at two-thirty.

Drive Started By Committee For Student Pledges

Keyser, Committee Chairman Asks Cooperation of the Entire Student Body

With the slogan, "Every Student a Contributor," the campaign committee launches its drive anew for the $1,500 that the Student Association pledged two years ago toward the 50th Anniversary Appeal of the college. This money will be added to the fund for new college buildings. Since its inception in 1936, the committee has collected $633. This year every effort will be made to reach the goal.

Al Keyser
"Your Chairman"

It is the aim of Albert Keyser, chairman of the committee, to gain the cooperation of the entire student body. With this in mind, students are to be approached soon and asked to do their share towards helping Wagner grow.

Last year Susette Meyer lead the committee in the total amount of collections with twenty-four dollars. The committee for this year, with Albert Keyser at the head, consists of Hope Coons, Ruth Forster, Luther Freimuth, Herbert Gibney, Arthur Herganhan, John Kalny, Edna Lawler, Gloria Muller, Susette Meyer, Henry Raisch, David Smith and Beatrice Werner.

LAMPADIA NOTES

Again, every enrolled Lutheran student has been requested to contribute ten cents in order to help Wagner meet its obligation to the Lutheran Students' Association. Any student desiring to contribute is cordially welcomed to do so.

The Study groups is a new feature. Subjects along the line of missionary, social service, and social problems will be announced shortly. Members of the faculty will be requested to lead the discussions.

The social service committee is endeavoring to prepare a programme of social work in Staten Island Institutions during October. This is a new undertaking.

The Lampadia Council was inducted into office during the devotional last evening. Dr. Hinman officiated.

Special plans are being made to improve the worshipful atmosphere of our meeting quarters. Anyone wishing to cooperate in this matter kindly see Everett Jensen.

WHERE IS MY BIG SISTER?

No longer have freshman co-eds an excuse for wandering about the campus, bewildered and befuddled. An organization called the Big Sisters, composed of Junior and Senior girls, has been formed to help them become acclimated. The group, with Mildred Heppner as chairman, assigned a Big Sister to each co-ed for a year, helping the new student register and become familiar with college life.

The Freshmen girls were entertained, advised, and given refreshments at a recent affair in Cunard Hall by their Big Sisters.

P.S.— Sorry, Big Sisters can not be assigned to male students.

New Co-eds Entertained At Girls' League Tea

The Girls' League, of which Fig Newton is president, recently entertained the new co-eds at a tea in Cunard Hall, held to introduce the freshmen to the league. During the affair the aims, purposes, and some of the past history of the league were explained by the officers of the society. After all regular business had been dispensed with, tea and cakes were served by the refreshment committee.

Highly esteemed as a scholar by all his associates, Prof. Tappert recently translated Sasse's "Here We Stand" for Harpers and has been named editor-in-chief of the forthcoming diary of Henry Melchior Muhlenberg. He also has the distinct honor of being an editor of the Lutheran Church Quarterly.

The College Day activities, the first held in the fall of the year since 1919, will also feature demonstrations by the Biology and Chemistry Departments, the opening of the college weather bureau and the inspection of the buildings. The day will conclude at approximately 7 P.M.

Five Men Displace Girls As Top Honor Students of School

Robert Scheuch Heads Dean's List with a Perfect Average of 3.00

The women were displaced as the top honor students of the school last June when five men, led by Robert Scheuch, headed the Dean's list for the final marking period. Scheuch, who has transferred to Princeton University, was the only student to acquire a perfect 3.00 average. Second were Elbert Harris and Philip Anstedt with averages of 2.81, followed by Herbert Gibney with a 2.80, and Norman Kraft with a 2.70 average. Peggy Bambach was the ranking woman with a 2.64 index. Hans Neuberg, Edith Sandberg, Gloria Lorenz and Mildred Heppner complete the list of the ten highest students with averages of 2.63, 2.60, 2.56, and 2.53 respectively.

Exclusive of those students who graduated in June, there were forty-one persons with an average of 2.00 or above. Of this rather large number, twenty-four were men and seventeen, women.
