"WORLD'S FAIR" DUE FOR ONE-NIGHT STAND SATURDAY

A World's Fair comes to Wagner College campus on April 11. It will climax the Campus Community Chest solicitation week. The fair will open at 7 p. m. on Saturday evening in the Sutter Gymnasium. General admission will be free; tickets will be required for admission to the booths.

The world's fair theme will be carried out by the participating organizations in the erection of booths, each representing a different country, for the amusement of those attending and the raising of money for the Campus Community Chest.

The booths of the various organizations will be in competition for three awards to be presented on the basis of beauty, originality and money made.

During the fair the Varsity Players will present a variety show based on the theme "Anything Goes" at 7:00, 9:00 and 12:00 p. m. in the auditorium.

College Day Planned

Wagner College will hold its annual College Day on April 18, beginning at 1 p. m. The program this year, as in past years, is under the direction of Mr. Fred Holmes, Director of Admissions. Mr. Holmes and his staff have sent out more than two thousand invitations to high school students from the Middle Atlantic and New England States. If the weather is favorable, a turnout exceeding five hundred is expected.

The program for the day will start at 1:00 p. m. with registration in the Gymnasium Lobby, followed by tours of the campus, its buildings and departments. The various departments having demonstrations and

Alumni Purchase TV For Hawk's Nest

A gift of a new self-adjusting remote-control 21-inch Magnovox television set has been received from the Alumni Association for the Hawk's Nest. The Alumni generously offered the Student Center Committee the sum of $250 for the purchase of a new set. After much comparison shopping, the committee, with the Alumni Director, Mr. Howard Braren, purchased this set from Lucci's Radio which gave us a sizable discount. An official presentation of the set to the student body will be made by the Alumni Association at the Student Association Banquet, April 30.

The set will go into operation as soon as a shelf is constructed for it in the Hawk's Nest Lounge by the maintenance department, it was announced by Student Center Committee Chairman, Richard Schneider. Instructions for the operation of the new television set will be posted by it, and the committee urges students to be careful in the use of this gift.

WAGNER FORUM BEGINS APRIL 19

The Wagner Forum, which is a lecture series to be presented under the leadership of Dr. Gaspard Pinette, is aimed to acquaint the faculty, students and people of Staten Island with new developments in the various fields in which faculty members are authorities.

Opening the forum will be a talk on "A Philosopher's Concern with History," which will be given by Dr. Arne Unhjem on Sunday, April 19, at 8:30 p. m. It will constitute in lecture form information similar to that presented in a series of articles in the Saturday Evening Post.

Professor Unhjem was born in Oerstavik, Norway, educated for the ministry in Oslo, and later left Norway for further study in London, England. During the course of his career he spent five years working with educational, missionary, and medical agencies in China. After coming to the United States, he continued his graduate study at Columbia University, New York University, and Boston University. Dr. Unhjem served on the faculty of Boston University before coming to Wagner.

In addition, Dr. Unhjem has published a translation of part of Kant's correspondence with Marcus Hertz, and several Bible study books for adults. His graduate study has been in the field of philosophy with special emphasis on logic and the philosophy of religion. His chief avocational interest is art, especially oil painting.

The second lecture, "One Hundred Years After Darwin," will be given by Dr. Murvel E. Annan on May 10.

All lectures will be held in the Alumni Dining Hall of the New Men's Dormitory. There will be no admission charged.

S. E. S. ELECTS

The Student Education Society announced a temporary slate of officers at its second meeting on April 2. These include: Chairman, Deana Becker; Secretary, Ruth Sprague; Treasurer, Elaine Lopez; Publicity and Refreshment Committee, Joan Houseman; Membership Committee, Alba Beneforti; Program Committee, Ronald Andrews, John Keeler, and Mike Kippen.

The Membership Committee is working on the requirements needed for membership in SES. At present a 1.8 index in your major field, a 1.6 general scholarship index and the recommendation of a faculty member are necessary.

The Student Education Society hopes that it will be able to become a member of a national honorary education fraternity in the not-too-distant future.

Creative Writing Prize Offered

An annual prize of $25. has been established by Dr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Fetter of Philadelphia, to be known as the Fetter Creative Writing Prize. The award will be made to any full-time student for the most honest and perceptible piece of fiction, or non-fiction, published or unpublished, written during the current college year.

Students should submit their entries before April 24 to a committee headed by Professor Virgil Markham. The first award will be made at the Student Association Banquet on Thursday, April 30, 1959.

Seniors Honored

Members of the class of 1959 will be distinguishing themselves next year in various fields of endeavor. Dr. Jensen has announced the following prizes and awards to seniors: Willard Knight, a grant from the National Science Foundation to study at New York University, and a Graduate Fellowship at Columbia University College of Chemistry; Erika Knierim, a graduate Assistant to study Chemistry at New York University; Vera Lee Jones, a Graduate Assistantship at Purdue University; and Claire Lallier, a position with the United States Government at Oakridge, Tennessee.

PARENT, ALUMNI DAYS COMBINE WITH SONGFEST

Song Fest this year will provide a culmination to Alumni and Parent's Day, which we hope will become the "Homecoming" of the spring semester. In the past, Alumni Day has been held on the weekend of graduation when the campus is empty and our alumni do not see Wagner in its characteristic activity. Therefore, Alumni and Parent's Day have been combined and moved to the date of Song Fest, May 2.

TEN GROUPS HAVE ENTERED COMPETITION

Competing in Song Fest this year will be ten groups; the four sororities, Alpha Delta Pi, Alpha Omicron Pi, Delta Zeta and Zeta Tau Alpha, and six of the fraternities; Alpha Sigma Phi, Delta Nu, Kappa Sigma Alpha, Phi Sigma Kappa, Tau Kappa Epsilon, and Pi Chi Omega. The only non-competitive group this year is Alpha Tau Mu, the honorary music sorority.

Nominations, by the entire student body, for Song Fest Queen, will be taken in the Hawk's Nest April 13 and 14. Any junior or senior girl not previously elected as queen is eligible for nomination.

ISLAMIC CULTURE EXPERT TO ADDRESS CONVOCATION

Dr. Myron Bement Smith, An outstanding authority in the United States on Islamic culture, has been invited by President Heindel to speak at Wagner on "Mogul Architecture in India." He will present an illustrated lecture on this topic, April 14, at 8 p. m., in the auditorium.

For the last twenty-eight years Mr. Smith has been a student of Islamic culture, especially its architecture. From 1933-1937, when he represented the American Council of Learned Societies in Iran, he directed the expedition for the study of the Sasanian and Islamic architecture of Iran. He also traveled in many parts of the country and found Saljuq buildings which had not been known to scholars. Presently, he has been working on a book dealing with the Islamic architecture of Iran.

Since his trip to Iran, Mr. Smith has been working in the United States to bring about a better knowledge of Islamic culture in that country. For many years he was secretary of the Committee on Arabic and Islamic Studies of the American Council of Learned Societies. Mr. Smith was mainly responsible for having Islamic studies represented in the Library of Congress. At present, he is Chairman of the Committee for Islamic Culture and is Director of the Islamic Archives. He has been on the staff of the Library of Congress since his return to America. He holds the appointment of Honorary Consultant in Islamic Archaeology and Near Eastern History.

His publications, in the learned journals of Europe and the United States, cover a wide field; in addition to his writings, Mr. Smith has lectured in many of the museums and universities of the United States and Canada.

Mr. Smith recently returned from a six-months' tour of Muslim lands, which began at the end of last year at the International Islamic Colloquium at Lahore, Pakistan.

Mr. Smith was educated at the leading universities in the United States. He has received degrees from Yale, Harvard, and John Hopkins, and has studied at six other schools.

A REMINDER!

S. A. Banquet tickets are now available in the Bookstore. Don't be one of the unfortunate forgetful ones who miss this "biggest night of the year" because you failed to pick up your free ticket.

Members of the Senior Class have elected five Senior girls candidates for Junior Prom Queen. One of these five will be elected Queen next week when the entire student body votes. The Queen will reign at the prom, April Showers, on April 24. Nominated for Queen are Diane Borst, Jacqueline D'Antonio, Marilyn Harper, Marilyn Lussion, Carol Trachte.

Diane Borst is a French major from Rochester, N. Y. She has been president of Alpha Omicron Pi for two years, and made several television appearances as a member of the Wagner College Bottle Band. She is currently president of the Women's Honor Society. Active in student government, also, this fall Diane was elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Jacqueline D'Antonio, a sociology major from New York City, is past president of Alpha Delta Pi and president of the Sociology Club. She was Homecoming Attendant this past year and a seminar chairman for Vocational Guidance Day.

Marilyn Harper is an art major from Zelenople, Pa. Past president of the Art Club, she is also a member of the S.C.A. and Pennsylvania Club. She has been active in Varsity Players' productions and is a member of Delta Zeta sorority.

Marilyn Lussion is a business major from Ocean City, New Jersey. She has worked on the Kallista, and is a sister of Alpha Delta Pi sorority.

Carol Trachte, an education major from Staten Island, is past president of her sorority, Delta Zeta. She is also an active member of SEANYS, and has worked with the Off-Hill Girls' Association.

Only sixteen more days to get your Junior Prom bid! This year to save the inconvenience of traveling into New York and to save money for the students, the Junior Prom will be held at the Tavern-on-the-Green on Friday, April 24, from 9 to 1. A discount may be available if a large-enough number of men order their tux through the Junior Class.

The theme of the Prom is April

Reproductions Rented

The Art Department in conjunction with the Library has purchased a group of colored reproductions of famous paintings by such artists as Picasso, Rembrandt, Degas, Toulouse-Lautrec, which can be rented by students for use in the dormitories. The rental fees for these newly-framed prints is twenty-five cents a month with a dollar returnable deposit for each picture.

At the moment these prints, ranging from watercolors to larger oils, are on display in the Hawk's Nest. Each print is labeled on the back, and those students interested in renting some may come to the third floor library to make arrangements.

E D I T O R I A L

Cordial Easter greetings filled the air as Wagnerians left the campus by the car-loads, heading for holidays in choice vacationlands, or for the leisure of a few days at home. Everyone was in a gay mood, what with spring and vacation and sunshine all coming at once. Laughter came easily at the tables in the dining hall, especially among the men.

It seems there was a group of guys just hanging around the dorm. And somehow they got a hold of that little black cat that has been on campus for some months now, and it seems they got kidding around the way gangs of guys just hanging around often do, and they took this cat, see, and they shaved it. Now, isn't that a roar? This big gang of guys, shaving this little cat. They shaved the tail a while ago, and that was just about growing in, so now they shaved the whole darn cat, every bit of her except the face and legs.

Chances are that they tied her down because an electric razor often pulls long hair, and it would have been tough to hold her down without getting real scratched up. She must have gotten one of the guys though because someone got mad enough to pull out one of her nails.

Here comes the real hilarious part of the whole story. The little black cat has learned her lesson. She knows enough not to trust people anymore. She just stays away from every human that comes in her direction and sleeps when left alone. The experience really changed that playful little cat, but then, what's one little cat when you can have a good time like these guys had that night?

Aren't you proud, boys?

ALUMNI CLUB ORGANIZED

This past summer, the Alumni Association had many long and busy meetings. The ultimate result of these meetings is the new and flourishing Wagner College Club. Under the chairmanship of James H. Hutchison '49, the Wagner College Club, a part of the Alumni Association, was formed to bring together Wagner Alumni businessmen and women for the purpose of fellowship and to broaden their business horizons.

The Wagner College Club had its first meeting this past October and since then has met once a month in Manhattan. An hour of fellowship precedes dinner. For each meeting, guest speakers are invited to attend. At the March 5 meeting, the Wagner senior business students were invited in order that they, too, may broaden their outlooks and meet men and women who are already working in the business world. At the May 7 meeting, Mr. Jim Lee Howell will be the guest speaker. Mr. Howell is a former Wagner football coach and is now the head coach for the New York football Giants.

Due to the present success in the endeavors of the Wagner College Club in the field of business, it has been proposed that other professional clubs be established. In this way, all our alumni who are working in the same field have an opportunity to come together and "compare notes." This also tends to stimulate the interest of all those involved.

FRATERNITY

Congratulations to fellow columnist Jan Henderson, who was voted Phi Sigma Kappa Sweetheart last Saturday at Phi Sig's "Roaring Twenties" costume party. The costumes were hilarious, and a great time was had by all.

Alpha Phi Omega reports that they have held chapter elections, with the following results: Pres., Ted Rice; Vice-Pres., Nick Pandullo; Rec. Sec., Bob Halling; Historian, Frank Knight; Corr. Sec., Ron Snell; Alumni Sec., Klaus Wahl; Sgt.-at-Arms, Ralph Porch. These men will take office on Saturday, May 9, at their annual Founder's Cotillion, to be held at Buttonwood Manor, Matawan, N. J.

APO also thanks all those who donated blood last Monday to the Wagner College Blood Bank.

Pi Chi Omega reports that Richard Schneider has been elected Social Chairman and Arvo Beck was elected Chaplain. Also, several Phi Chi O men met at the home of Professor Swinehart, an honorary brother, for an evening of jazz in hi-fi and beer in glasses last Saturday.

Delta Nu has designated May 6 as "Delta Nu Day." This is an annual affair, at which the active brothers get together with the alumni for an all-day outing. This year they will have a day of picnicking and athletic events at Hechscher State Park, L. I.

The Tekes were honored by a visit from their Grand Prytnis, Mr. Frank Scott, on April 2. And on April 11, several brothers will attend a "province school," a meeting of all the chapters in their province. The purpose of the meeting is to exchange ideas regarding chapter activities and procedures.

The Tekes have also announced that they will give a dance on Friday, April 17, in honor of the TKE Sweetheart, Miss Lydia Haas.

Congratulations are in order to Delta Nu brothers "Andy" Andrews, Dick Petrella, Bob Rice, and Jerry Valley on their recent pinnings.

Attention all prospective pledges: Silence Week begins tomorrow at 12 noon, and extends until 12 noon next Thursday. During this time you are not permitted to discuss any matter at all pertaining to fraternity with any fraternity man except the presidents of the various groups. Violation of this rule can result in severe penalization of the fraternity, as well yourself. Remember to think carefully before you choose, and good luck.

SORORITY

"How are we ever to construct C. C. C. booths, rehearse for Song Fest, plan closed dances, participate in the Greek Weekend and still maintain our grades with only six more weeks left in the school year?" Inevitably, this problem confronts us, and inevitably we see it through always excelling our standards in both performance and ability. Stick to it gals and enjoy the struggle. It will be over before you realize!

On April 11, the Greeks will once again be given the opportunity of competing for originality, attractiveness and financial success of booth. The work put into the booths is extensive and the constructive talents of the participants are impressively displayed. Who will win the honors this year? Our main concern of course, is the raising of funds for the Campus Community Chest. Grab bags, "sweet sales" and shoeshining during solicitations week will contribute largely to this goal.

Alpha Delta Pi will hold the first of a series of sorority closed dances tomorrow evening at the Tavern-on-the-Green. Zeta Tau Alpha will follow on April 17 at the Boulevard. Delta Zeta's "Diamond Fantasy" on April 3 at the Tavern-on-the-Green was enjoyed by Greeks and non-Greeks alike. The girls wish to thank all who helped to make the affair a successful one.

The AD's played hostess to their parents on April 3 at a tea held in Beisler Lounge. Aside from being a most pleasant afternoon, it gave the girls a chance to wear their new spring bonnets. Alpha Omicron Pi will acquaint their parents and friends with the sorority at a similar affair to be held on April 19.

Keep the Greek Weekend foremost in your minds! The girls can be sure of being charming on this occasion by attending a beauty demonstration on April 23 presented by Delta Zeta. Miss Noel Gorden, a leading consultant of Revelon, will demonstrate a cosmetic technique. Tickets for this 8:00 event to be held in Guild Hall may be purchased from any Delta Zeta sister. Student tickets are seventy-five cents. A door prize will be given and refreshments will be served. See you there! Won't you join us for the weekend also?

Letters To The Editor

To the members of the Student Body:

Due to wide acceptance of the Book Exchange, two new services will be offered this year: the Book Exchange will collect books during Finals Week and will open to serve the summer school students.

Since the times that the Exchange will be open during final exams depends upon the schedule of the members of the Committee, signs will be prominently displayed listing hours. This service will help students who wish to sell their used books avoid the trouble of storing or transporting them during the vacation. Also, the money from the sale of books to summer school students can be picked up during the first week of the fall semester or will be mailed during the summer.

Signs will be prominently displayed telling the hours of the Book Exchange during summer school. If anyone has advice as to further services that the Exchange can offer, the committee can be reached through Box 103.

Stanley Winner Receives Grant

Josh Greenfeld, last year's winner of the Wagner College Stanley Award, received a Ford grant for his prize-winning play last week.

Every summer, The Writer's Conference of Wagner College presents The Stanley Award to the person who submits the best play. In July 1958, the award was received by Mr. Greenfeld of Manhattan for his play, "Hear That Sweet Laughter." The Stanley Award, given annually by Mrs. Robert C. Stanley, is a prize of $500.00. The play was produced during the conference and was staged by "The Dongan Hills Players."

Mr. Greenfeld is one of the eight playwrights, who, on March 11, received a $110,000 from the Ford Foundation. The money will be used to finance the production of this play in the fall of 1959. Mr. Greenfeld retitled his play, "Clandestine on the Morning Line."

WHITE SUCCEEDS MAJESKI AS BASEBALL ACE

by John Cooper

A new, much needed member has been added to Wagner's coaching staff by athletic director Herb Sutter. The new face is that of Herb White, successor to Hank Majeski, the former Seahawk baseball coach. Majeski was with the Dodger organization after the Wagner season ended last summer and has returned this year as a full-time scout.

Herb White is by no means a stranger to local sports fans, or to Staten Island. White is a native of the Island and attended Tottenville High School. So, being an Islander he knows the Wagner campus quite well and feels it is one of the nicest on the East Coast. He particularly likes the more-than-adequate facilities for baseball, the large field, convenient locker rooms, and the very good condition of the diamond.

White's athletic career started at the Tottenville school as he led its baseball team to headlines in the local papers. As a senior he was chosen as the outstanding school player in New York City by the New York World Telegram, which then sponsored such a program. As a result our diamond ace went on a three week tour with the New York Yankee Organization. Once showing the Yankee staff just what he had, Herb signed and played the '36 season in organized class D ball in the Yankee farm system. Making good in each class he moved through the D, C and A loops, striking the triple A class with Newark of the International League. Now his chances of hitting the big time were quite bright until Uncle Sam held out his hand with a draft notice. White served a four year hitch from 1941 through 1945 with the army in Germany.

He returned to organized ball for the '46 season with Kansas City, which was then a triple A ball club of the Yankee system in the American Association. Seeing his chances of cashing in on the big leagues growing dim at this time, White retired from active baseball after the '46 season.

White coached three teams while in the service. Returning home he coached two American Legion teams which are on about the same level as college clubs. This coaching gave him the field experience to go along with his know-how of on the field playing.

His natural interest in baseball has led him to become quite interested in the Staten Island South Shore Little League. Herb presently heads the coaching and advisory aspects of the South Shore Little League. Being active in that phase of the Little League, he had more than one hand in bringing the Little League World Series to Staten Island for which Wagner College played host to the participants.

WALLMEN FINISH LOSING SEASON

Squash, a sport offering little glory to its participants, has been occupying the time of coach John "Bunny" Barbes and thirteen Wagner men during the past month.

The season officially opened December 3, with the Hawks bowing to Fordham in the opener. December 6 Wagner again bowed, this time to Stevens by a score of 6-3. Adelphi took the measure of the Wallmen, January 7, and three days later the highly touted Navy Plebes shut them out, 9-0. The Seahawks dropped home games to Adelphi and Fordham on February 7 and 11, respectively.

With the team plagued by illness, dropouts and threat of final exams, team members Dick Bell, Joe Garcia, Lou Pappas, Niels Schulz, Dick Piccini and Carl Von Holten have been the standouts. Bell, a two-year veteran, has been playing in a number one slot. Newcomer Van Holten, however, has had the most success in his matches so far, winning three through the Navy game.

DICK BELL REACHES SEMI-FINALS

The team finished up a dismal team season with two defeats in dual meets, losing to Fordham and Stevens here on February 11 and 14. The season ended on a happier note, however, as Dick Bell reached the semi-finals of the Stevens Invitational Tournament before being eliminated by the eventual winner, Larry Brown.

The Fordham defeat came by a 7-2 score, with Joe Garcia and Ken Snyder, the two Wagner winners. Against Stevens, Garcia, Snyder, and Karl von Holten won their matches, making the losing score 6-3.

In the Stevens Invitational Tournament, Bell defeated Ted Leviness of Adelphi in straight sets, then took the measure of Fordham's Chuck McGoold in a tight four set match. Against Brown, however, he was unable to win a set, bowing 15-10, 15-12, 15-11.

Karl von Holten was the other Wagner entry in the tourney, but he had less success than Bell. Von Holten bowed to Charley Collins in the opening round.

Wagner entries were drawing the tough competition; it was Collins that Brown defeated in the finals to ice the championship.

The final standings in the Metropolitan Intercollegiate Squash League placed Adelphi first, followed by Stevens, Fordham, and Wagner.

Hawks Claw Lehigh, 10--1

The Seahawks broke into the win column Saturday with a 10-1 victory at Lehigh, boasting an eleven hit attack helped along by five Lehigh errors. Bruce Wilson turned in the best Wagner mound performance so far, allowing seven hits, striking out seven, and walking only three. He was never in serious trouble — the lone Lehigh score was unearned.

The Hawks scored a run in the first on Frank Lanza's double and Jim Powers' single, and added two more in the third. Steve Halperin singled home Lehigh's run, which was set up by a throwing error, in the third. Wagner came back with one each in the fourth, fifth, and eighth, and then erupted for four in the ninth, on one hit. When Powers was hit by a pitched ball and John Brady and Frank Melos walked, Lehigh brought in its fifth pitcher, Bob Bevin. A passed ball and a double by Harry Orlando cleared the bases, and when the relay went astray Orlando continued to third. He scored on an infield out by Bruce Wilson.

First sacked Powers retired the side all by himself in the ninth, nailing a line drive and catching the runner off base for an unassisted double play, and then gathering in a pop fly.

Frank Melos belted a tremendous triple in the fourth, that might have reached Wagner's left center field scoreboard.

Golfers Suffer First Loss, 6-3

Wagner's golf team dropped its first match to Fairleigh Dickinson on Friday, at the Riverdale Country Club. The score was 6-3.

Sophomore Jim Crowley was the only individual winner for the Hawks, stopping Larry Reynolds 3 and 2. Don Persichetty, Richie Granger, Howie Joerger, Al Sinclair, and Charlie Guercia all lost, but the doubles teams of Joerger and Crowley, and Granger and Persichetty took their matches.

This year's golfers will play a much extended thirteen match season.

THE WARMUP

by Scott Andrus

If it doesn't snow all spring — and at least for the time being the skies look pretty clear — athletes at Wagner will compete in their most active sports season in my recollection. The baseball team, which is one and two as we hit the presses, plans the busiest schedule, with twenty-three games. The golfers have thirteen dual meets on tap, while the tracksters will run in five team contests.

The baseball squad looks much improved over last year's outfit, particularly in hitting and fielding. They averaged two errors per game for the first three tilts, and amassed twenty-nine hits in that time. A number of freshmen have looked good in early play, among them hard-throwing Bruce Wilson and hard-hitting Frank Melos.

Wagner nines have rarely garnered good won and lost percentages, partly because they play in an awfully tough league. The Metropolitan Collegiate Baseball Conference contains such tough customers as St. John's, NYU, and Manhattan, but it looks as if this year's Wagner entry will produce some fine efforts.

Further west, on Fischer Field, the win-hungry track team is getting ready for its first meet Saturday. Last Saturday an intra-squad meet produced no standout times, but did provide some optimistic auguries for the season. The best efforts turned in were by Mike Walker in the half mile, and Don Cavalli in the discus.

The golf team, which made its tentative start last year with some success, has branched out. They have already played their first match — a loss — and look forward to a thirteen game schedule.

Hawks Drop Two: St. John's, Villanova

The Wagner baseball team opened its season with a well-played 2-1 loss at Villanova April 1, when a ninth inning rally fell short. Tony Devita, who relieved starting pitcher Matt DiTeresa in the third inning, was charged with the loss.

Trailing 2-0 in the final stanza, the Hawks almost got back the needed runs. Bruce Wilson opened the attack with a pinch hit single, and Ralph DiLullo followed with a double. After Pete Thompson and Jim Powers had flied out with no advance, John Brady apparently finished Wagner's hopes by striking out. The pitch got away from catcher Jack Fahey, however, and Brady got to first before Fahey could locate the ball. With the bases loaded, Harry Orlando hit the ball on the ground to Jim Hugard, who let it go through his legs, scoring one run, but Frank Melos ended the game by lining the ball to the pitcher.

The Wildcats' scores came in the seventh, on a walk to Bob Klinck, a double by George Emma which scored Klinck, and a single by Joe Cramer.

Ralph DiLullo had a good day for the Hawks, getting three hits in five at bats, and cutting down a runner at the plate with a fine throw.

The Wagner defense was a pleasant surprise; the Hawks didn't commit a single error. Wagner outhit Villanova, 10-8.

The Hawk nine played host to the Redmen of St. John's University Friday, and received a rude 9-2 setback. Ken Snyder went all the way for the Hawks, allowing four earned runs in the first inning, but hurling effectively most of the rest of the way.

The Redmen's four quick runs, which proved to be more than enough, came after the first man had been retired. Of the next six batters, two walked, two singled, and two doubled, to account for the four tallies.

The Hawks averted a shutout with two in the ninth. Paul Nuzzolese and Jim Powers singled, and Harp Junta forced the pitcher, who threw to first for the putout, with Nuzzolese holding third. Harry Orlando singled home the two runners.
