Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church, South was organized in 1884, as an outgrowth of the Court St. M.E. Church, South. Eighty-nine members transferred, and the new church was dedicated in December of 1884. It was located on the corner of Floyd and 9th Streets, Lynchburg, Virginia.

On December 30, 1983, a fire destroyed the sanctuary, and the congregation merged with the Brookville United Methodist Church to form the Heritage United Methodist Church.
