DIAMOND HILL

The boundaries of Lynchburg's Diamond Hill roughly include from the Lynchburg Expressway to Twelfth Street, up Grace & 14th Streets to Wise Street and back down to the James River. Some of the streets within that area are Diamond, Opal, Pearl, Washington, Grace, Locust, Chestnut, & Plum, along with the eastern portions of Jackson, Madison, Harrison, Polk, Taylor, Monroe, and Wise.

The origin of the name is unknown and is the subject of speculation. One such suggestion is that the name was used due to the triangular shaped lots along the Campbell County Courthouse Turnpike.

SOURCE: Ruth H. Blunt, "The Seven Hills of Lynchburg," Lynchburg, IV (January-February 1972), p.19.

[It has also been suggested that the name "Diamond Hill" may have been given to the home of Edward Lynch, which was in the vicinity. Lynch used the name for his home in Ohio.]
