

New York, March 30, 1922

Mohls Continuous Cigarette Packing Machines

The Mohls Complete Cigarette Packing Machine can be supplied for making either minimum labor requirements are one person to remove the leaf from the tobacco head to some extent, depending upon the purpose for which the strips are to be used. The labor required on the machine varies achievements, much faster and greater production happily is combined with less trouble and reduced expenses for repairs.

The cigarettes may

109

TOBACCO

Now in the line

Competition makes the application of advanced methods to your business essential to continued success

Our latest model improved Stemming Machine equipped with Automatic Feed. Production 1,000 to 1,200 pounds net strips per nine hour day on flue cured or Burley tobacco.

The simplest, most economical and most practical way of stemming domestic leaf for the manufacture of cigarettes, smoking or plug tobacco.

Manufacturers using this machine have reduced their stemming cost by more than one-half and are securing a greater yield from every pound of leaf than formerly.

100 of these machines are operating daily in one factory.

Further particulars upon request.

over

THE TOBACCO STEMMING MACHINE CO.

LYNCHBURG, VA., U. S. A.

109