SOCIETY OF VIRGINIANS. CARTER GLASS COLONY.

The Carter Glass Colony, Society of Virginians, was organized on 26 November 1935. Its membership was comprised of native-born Virginians, descendants of at least two generations of Virginians, or sons of the members of the Society of Virginians. "The objects of The Society [were] social, educational, cultural and patriotic," and plans for the society included costume balls, banquets, essay contests, meetings and conventions. Departments of history and genealogy were also planned. The Society and the Colony were organized in Lynchburg, Virginia.
