JONES MEMORIAL LIBRARY 2311 MEMORIAL AVENUE LYNCHBURG, VIRGINIA 24501

(434) 846-0501

WARNER BROTHERS INVITATION, 1950

This item is a single invitation from Warner Brothers to attend premier performance of the Warner Theatre in Lynchburg, Virginia. Lawrence H. McWane, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce delivered the dedicatory speech at the opening on 22 August 1950. The former Trenton Theater at 1100-1102 Main Street had been remodeled on the exterior and interior to create the Warner Theatre.

[Invitation]

Warner Bros.

cordially invite you to attend

the premiere performance of Lynchburg's most modern and comfortable playhouse

the Warner Theater

Tuesday Evening, August 22nd at 8:15 o'clock

Doors open 7:30 p.m.

This invitation

Performance at 8:30 p.m.

admits two

* * *

[News article]

News, Lynchburg, Va., 22 August 1950 p. 9 col. 1

McWane to dedicate new Warner Theater

Lawrence H. McWane, Chamber of Commerce executive secretary, will deliver a short dedicatory speech tonight to mark the formal opening of Lynchburg's new Warner Theater, according to Henry A. Clark, manager.

The interior and exterior of the building, formerly known as the Trenton, has been completely remodeled.

The opening ceremonies will be followed by the first night movie starring Dennis Morgan and Patsy Drake in Pretty Baby. A Bugs Bunny cartoon and a Warner-Pathe newsreel are also on the program.

* * *