

JONES MEMORIAL LIBRARY
2311 MEMORIAL AVENUE
LYNCHBURG, VIRGINIA 24501

(434) 846-0501

ALEXANDER W. TERRELL (1861-1942) ACCOUNT BOOKS

The collection includes accounts (1895-1916) from the practice of Drs. Alexander W. TERRELL and Samuel LILE, including those for St. Andrew's Home and Hospital. Drs. John W. CARROLL and John W. DILLARD were also associated with Drs. TERRELL and LILE during this period.

BOX 1 Bank Book and General Expenses (1895)
Journal (1896)
Index of Accounts (1896)
Ledger (1901) St. Andrew's Home and Hospital

[BOX 2] Ledger, Terrell & Lile (1896)

[BOX 3] Account Book, Terrell & Lile (1898)

[BOX 4] Account Book, Terrell & Lile (1898)

[BOX 5] Account Book, Terrell & Lile (1901)

[BOX 6] Account Book, Terrell & Lile (1904)

[BOX 7] Account Book, Terrell & Lile (1904)

[BOX 8] Account Book, Terrell & Lile (1909)

[BOX 9] Account Book, St. Andrew's Home & Hospital (1902)

[BOX 10] Account Book, St. Andrew's Home & Hospital (1906)

[BOX 11] Account Book, St. Andrew's Home & Hospital (1909)

[BOX 12] Account Book, Terrell & Lile (1911)

JONES MEMORIAL LIBRARY
2311 MEMORIAL AVENUE
LYNCHBURG, VIRGINIA 24501

(434) 846-0501

ALEXANDER WATKINS TERRELL (1861-1942)

Alexander Watkins TERRELL, son of Dr. John Jay TERRELL and Susan WADE, was born 11 July 1861 at Rock Castle in Campbell County, Virginia. He was educated at New London Academy and attended Randolph-Macon College at Ashland and the University of Virginia. He received his medical degree from the Hospital College of Medicine at Louisville, Kentucky, in 1886. He was elected a member of the Medical Society of Virginia in 1887.

Dr. TERRELL began his medical practice in 1886 in Campbell County with his father. In 1889 he moved to Lynchburg to make his home and where, several years later, he joined with Dr. Samuel LILE to found St. Andrew's Home and Hospital.

Alexander W. TERRELL married 6 November 1889 Lillian KING, daughter of Thomas Fitch KING and Elizabeth Annette HICKSON, of Micanopy, Florida.

During his career, Dr. Alexander W. TERRELL pioneered in the use of anti-toxin and other vaccines, was the first to use the X-ray as a diagnostic tool, and was physician for Randolph-Macon Woman's College for over fifty years. During World War I, he was chairman of the Medical Advisory Board.

A "leader in civic, cultural and church activities," Dr. TERRELL died 30 August 1942 and was buried in Spring Hill Cemetery in Lynchburg.

[Obituary, Alexander W. Terrell, Lynchburg News, 31 August 1942, p. 1 col. 2; Obituary, Lillian King Terrell, Lynchburg News, 29 December 1935, p. 1 col. 4; "Biographical Register of Members," Transactions of the Forty-Second Annual Session of the Medical Society of Virginia, 1911 (Richmond: Waddey, 1912), p. 400.]

JONES MEMORIAL LIBRARY
2311 MEMORIAL AVENUE
LYNCHBURG, VIRGINIA 24501

(434) 846-0501

SAMUEL LILE (1861-1923)

Samuel LILE, the son of John Allison LILE and Louisa Elizabeth MINOR, was born 16 March 1861 in Morgan County, Alabama. He received his medical degree from the University of Louisville in 1888 and passed the Virginia Medical Examining Board in 1892. Dr. LILE was elected a member of the Medical Society of Virginia in 1894.

Samuel LILE married 9 March 1886 Ann H. BOULDIN, daughter of Hilary BOULDIN and Fannie R. MINOR, of Morgan County, Alabama.

In 1892, Dr. and Mrs. LILE moved to Lynchburg, where he became associated with Dr. Alexander Watkins TERRELL in the founding of the St. Andrew's Home and Hospital.

A member of Court Street Methodist Church and a member of the Billy Sunday Club, Dr. Samuel LILE died 15 April 1923. He was buried in Spring Hill Cemetery in Lynchburg.

[Obituary, Samuel Lile, Lynchburg News, 17 April 1923, p. 8 col. 3; Obituary, Annie Bouldin Lile, Lynchburg News, 5 March 1917, p. 6 col. 4; Burial record, Diuguid Funeral Home, Lynchburg, VA, Book 19, p. 327 (17 April 1923); "William Minor Lile," Rosewell Page, ed., University of Virginia: Its History, Influence, Equipment and Characteristics, Vol. II (New York: Lewis Publ., 1904), p. 21; John B. Minor, The Minor Family of Virginia (Lynchburg: J. P. Bell, 1923), p. 21 (Microfilmed copy).]

JONES MEMORIAL LIBRARY
2311 MEMORIAL AVENUE
LYNCHBURG, VIRGINIA 24501

(434) 846-0501

JOHN WILLIAM DILLARD (1852-1930)

John William DILLARD, son of Capt. John James DILLARD and Elizabeth Haskins DILLARD, was born 12 August 1852 in Nelson County, Virginia. He was educated by private tutors and at Terry's Academy. He received his medical degree from the University of Virginia in 1875, and went to New York to pursue clinical work at Bellevue Hospital. He also studied at St. Thomas Hospital, London, England.

Dr. DILLARD was elected to the Medical Society of Virginia in 1876, and served as 1st Vice-President in 1890. He was also a member of the American Medical Association, the Piedmont Medical Society, the Tri-State Medical Society, and the Lynchburg and Campbell County Medical Society. He served as surgeon at Lynchburg for the Norfolk and Western Railroad for thirty-seven years.

John William DILLARD married 5 February 1880 Emma Tell WHITE, of Appomattox County, the daughter of Dr. Peter WHITE and Fannie RUFFNER.

Dr. John W. DILLARD established the Hygeia Hospital in Lynchburg, Virginia, in 1907. He operated the hospital for six years before purchasing a one-third share in the St. Andrew's Home and Hospital with Dr. Alexander W. TERRELL and Dr. Samuel LILE. Dr. DILLARD continued at St. Andrew's until its closing several years later. He continued private practice at local hospitals until his death on 17 May 1930. He was buried in Spring Hill Cemetery, Lynchburg.

[Obituary, Lynchburg News, 18 May 1930, p. 1 col. 4; "Marriage of John W. Dillard and Emma White," Lynchburg Virginian, 7 February 1880, p. 3 col. 1-2; "Biographical Register of Members," Transactions of the Forty-Second Annual Session of the Medical Society of Virginia, 1911 (Richmond: Waddey, 1912), p. 317; "John William Dillard, M.D.," History of Virginia, Vol. V (Chicago: American Historical Society, 1924), p. 311.]

JONES MEMORIAL LIBRARY
2311 MEMORIAL AVENUE
LYNCHBURG, VIRGINIA 24501

(434) 846-0501

JOHN WESLEY CARROLL, JR. (1879-1931)

John Wesley CARROLL, Jr., son of John Wesley CARROLL and Sallie Frances ADAMS, was born 25 August 1879, in Lynchburg, Virginia. He was educated in Lynchburg schools and attended the Virginia Military Institute. He received his medical degree from the University of Virginia in 1901. He did post-graduate work in surgery in the New York Hospital, the Post-Graduate Hospital and the Roosevelt Hospital. He returned to Lynchburg where he entered medical practice.

John Wesley CARROLL, Jr., married in Richmond, Virginia, in 1901, Margaret LAYMAN, daughter of James T. LAYMAN, of Indianapolis, Indiana.

During World War I, Dr. CARROLL volunteered in 1917 and received a commission as captain in the Medical Corps on 29 December 1917. He trained for a time at Camp Sevier, Greenville, South Carolina, and was called into active duty in 1918. While serving at Saint Denis, France, with Base Hospital No. 41, Dr. CARROLL was promoted to the rank of major of the Medical Corps on 11 November 1918. Upon his return to the United States, he was with the surgical staff at Camp Lee, Virginia, until receiving his discharge in 1919.

In addition to his medical career, John Wesley CARROLL, Jr., served as a director of the Lynchburg National Bank and the Lynchburg Trust and Savings Bank. He was a member of the Board of Aldermen for the City of Lynchburg from 1910 until 1918. He was also a member of the Lynchburg-Campbell County Medical Society, serving as president in 1918, the Virginia Medical Society, the American Medical Association, the Tri-State Medical Society, and the South Piedmont Medical Society.

Dr. John Wesley CARROLL, Jr., died 3 June 1931 in Richmond, Virginia. He was buried in the Presbyterian Cemetery in Lynchburg.

[Obituary, Lynchburg News, 4 June 1931, p. 9 col. 1; "John W. Carroll, Jr., M.D.," History of Virginia, Vol. V (Chicago: American Historical Society, 1924), pp. 525-526.]