ARTHUR HUGH FRAZIER LETTER TO CARTER GLASS, 1918

Arthur Hugh Frazier, of the United States Embassy in Paris, writes to Carter Glass at the Hotel Meurice concerning a visit to the British front. Included with the letter are carbon copies of communications with Major R.V.C. Bodley, Assistant Military Attaché of the British Embassy, a telegram discussing a delay and a letter from the Earl of Derby suggesting an alternative date. In October 1918, Carter Glass, with Congressmen Byrnes and Whaley, planned a visit to the British front in France. The visit was delayed under the restriction of a 10-14 day notice. An alternative date of Nov. 2 was suggested by Lord Derby “instead of asking for the usual 10 days’ notice.”

ARTHUR HUTH FRAZIER, 1868-1963

Arthur Hugh Frazier was born Aug. 12, 1868, in Heidelberg, Germany. He was a graduate of Lehigh University and studied at University of Halle, the Royal College of Viticulture, and Fresimus Chemical Laboratory. He was appointed Second Secretary at U.S. Embassy, Paris, Feb. 11, 1914 and became Embassy Counselor in June, 1918. He was designated to attend supreme war council as diplomatic representative of U.S. in 1918. He served in the Diplomatic Service. Frazier later settled in Westport, Connecticut, where he died in 1963.
