S.C.</sup> (adminsrs. of deceased James Chapman) are to defend a suit & charges made by Allen Chapman & William Allen <sup>executors of deceased Erasmus Allen</sup> on a debt. It seems that James Chapman made a bond at Chatham for 500 pounds specie (equal to 388 pounds, 17 shillings & 9 pence lawful N.C. money) on Sept. 10 1781 and hadn't paid it. His executors, Nathan & Elizabeth Shepard, also refuse to pay it. The bond: James Chapman of Culpeper Co. Va., is to deed over some land---probably 270 acres---which he got from Thomas Bryan & entered with Col. James Brandon E.R., when he got a full title---this is part of 640 acres) to Erasmus Allen of Amherst Co. Va. The suit seems to be started in Chesterfield Co. Court in South Carolina on March 11 1794. (More to it).

The Annals of Haywood County, N.C. (by W.C. Allen in 1935), page 607: "In Medieval England and Scotland, there were two lines of the Allen family. The Alans of Scotland were Gaelic, or Celtic; the Alynes, of Kent, southeastern England, were Norman-French. Representatives of both of these lines came to America between the year 1637 and 1750, and became merged as Allans, Allens, or Allyns. They were full Americans prior to the Revolution.

"Maurice Allen was the first of the name to set foot upon the soil of America. He came over from England with John White in 1587 and remained on Roanoke Island as a member of the "Lost Colony". The next of whom we have any record, was the Rev. John Allen, who graduated from the University of Cambridge with the degree of A.B. in 1615 and with A.M. in 1619. He was born in Norfolk, England, and came to Massachusetts in 1637. He was a Congregational minister and organized a church at Dedham, Massachusetts, which he served as pastor until 1671.

"Dr. Daniel Allen, a son of the Rev. John Allen, graduated at Harvard in 1675 with the degree of A.B. and with A.M. in 1678. He married Mary Anna Bendall. One son, Eleazar, also a graduate of Harvard, came to North Carolina in 1726 and lived in Wilmington until his death in 1750. He was a distinguished lawyer, and was for some years chief-justice of the province of North Carolina.

"About the same time that Eleazar came to Wilmington, James Allen, a kinsman, came from Prince Edward County, Virginia, to what is now Halifax County and established himself as a planter and slave owner on the Roanoke river. His son, also named James, succeeded his father as a planter and slave owner. During the American Revolution, he was an officer in the Continental army and served successively as major, lieutenant-colonel, and colonel of the Halifax Regiment of volunteers, the last position in 1781.

"George Allen, probably a brother of Colonel James Allen, was born in 1743. He, too, became a soldier of the Revolution, and some time either during or after the war, settled in Wake County. He married Lucretia Rieves, and the following children were reared: Benjamin, George, Rolica, William, Elizabeth, Robert, Susan,

Sergeant John Alling of Connecticut

AND Ely Rieves, The last mentioned married Catherine Smith and reared a family of twelve children, as follows: Margaret Emily, born 1823, probably remained in Wake County; George David Simpson, born in 1824, moved to Haywood County in 1858; Esther Eliza, born in 1826, married D.S. Reynolds, of Haywood County; Robert Smith, born in 1827, did not come to the county, Narcissa Amanda, born in 1828, probably remained in Wake County; Lucretia Catherine, born in 1830, probably married in either Wake or Iredell County; Christina Jane, born in 1833, and Cornelia Corlista, born in 1835, did not come to this county; Elizabeth Mahitabel, born in 1836, married Lafayette Moore and was the mother of Dr. J.E. Moore, long a physician of Canton; Philander Clark, born in 1838, left two children, George and Perry, both of whom live in Cecil township; Orlando, born in 1840, left six children, James, Thomas, Elizabeth, Lena, Rufus, and Effie, all of whom removed from the county; and William Ethelbert, born in 1822 and died in Haywood County in 1903, married May Elizabeth Williams.

"William Ethelbert Allen, the last mentioned of the children of Ely Rieves Allen and Catherine Smith Allen, was born in Iredell County where his father and mother were living. He removed to Buncombe County in 1858, and before and during the Civil War, he was Colonel of the Home Guards. He located in Haywood County in 1870, where he died in 1903. All of his children were born in Buncombe County, but lived most of their lives in Haywood. His two sons, Gay Leonidas and Robert Henry, now (1935) live in Canton. Ely Rieves Allen, William Ethelbert Allen's father, moved to Buncombe County in 1858 and died there.

"George David Simpson Allen, the second son of Ely Rieves Allen and Catherine Smith Allen, was born in Iredell County in 1824. He came to Haywood County in 1858 and located at Pigeon River (Canton), where he practiced medicine for a number of years before moving to Waynesville.

"While in Canton during the 60's and the 70's, Dr. Allen's practice covered a wide territory. He answered calls from both the East and West Forks of the Pigeon river, from Crabtree, Pines Creek, Cattaloochee, and Jonathan's Creek townships in Haywood County; Scott's creek, East LaPort, and Caney Fork in Jackson County; and some times trips to Turkey Creek and other places in Buncombe County.

"DR. RUFUS L. ALLEN, a son of Dr. G.D.S. Allen and Nancy Adeline Edmondston Allen, a daughter of Ninian Edmondston, was born on the old Edmondston estate in the upper Pigeon Valley, July 12, 1864. His grandfather was Ely Rieves Allen, who was born in Wake County in 1793. His great grandfather, George Allen, born in 1743, served under General Nathaniel Greene during the Revolutionary War.

"Dr. Allen was educated at the Waynesville Academy and Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee. He received his medical training at the University of Maryland, from which he was graduated in 1885 with the degree of M.D. In the same year, he located in Waynesville for the general practice of his profession. For forty-five years, he was one of the leading physicians of this part of North Carolina.

"In professional circles, Dr. Allen held an important place."*****

"Two other branches of the Allen family, who apparently are not related, have figured in the life of the county. William Allen, a soldier of the American Revolution whose name is on the marker in the court house square in Waynesville, came here in the early settlement days and was influential in the organization of the county. He was one of the ten of the Revolutionary soldiers, who are buried in Haywood County.

"Ernest L. Withers, secretary of the Waynesville Chamber of Commerce, is a son of W.A. Withers and Matticia Allen Withers, a daughter of William Allen and a great granddaughter of William Allen of the Revolution. Ernest Withers is prominent in the business and social life of Waynesville. He married Lillie Satterthwaite, a daughter of S.C. and Hester Ann Smathers Satterthwaite. They have two children, Hester Ann, a graduate of Agnes Scott College, and Ernest L., Jr., who is attending college (1935).

William G., Jas. V., Richard Allen & Col. James Allen.

"Richard Allen came from Rutherford County to the Allen's Creek section about 1846. He married Annie Walker and reared a large family. Three of his boys, William, David, and Jerry, left families, whose descendants are now living in and around Waynesville and Canton.

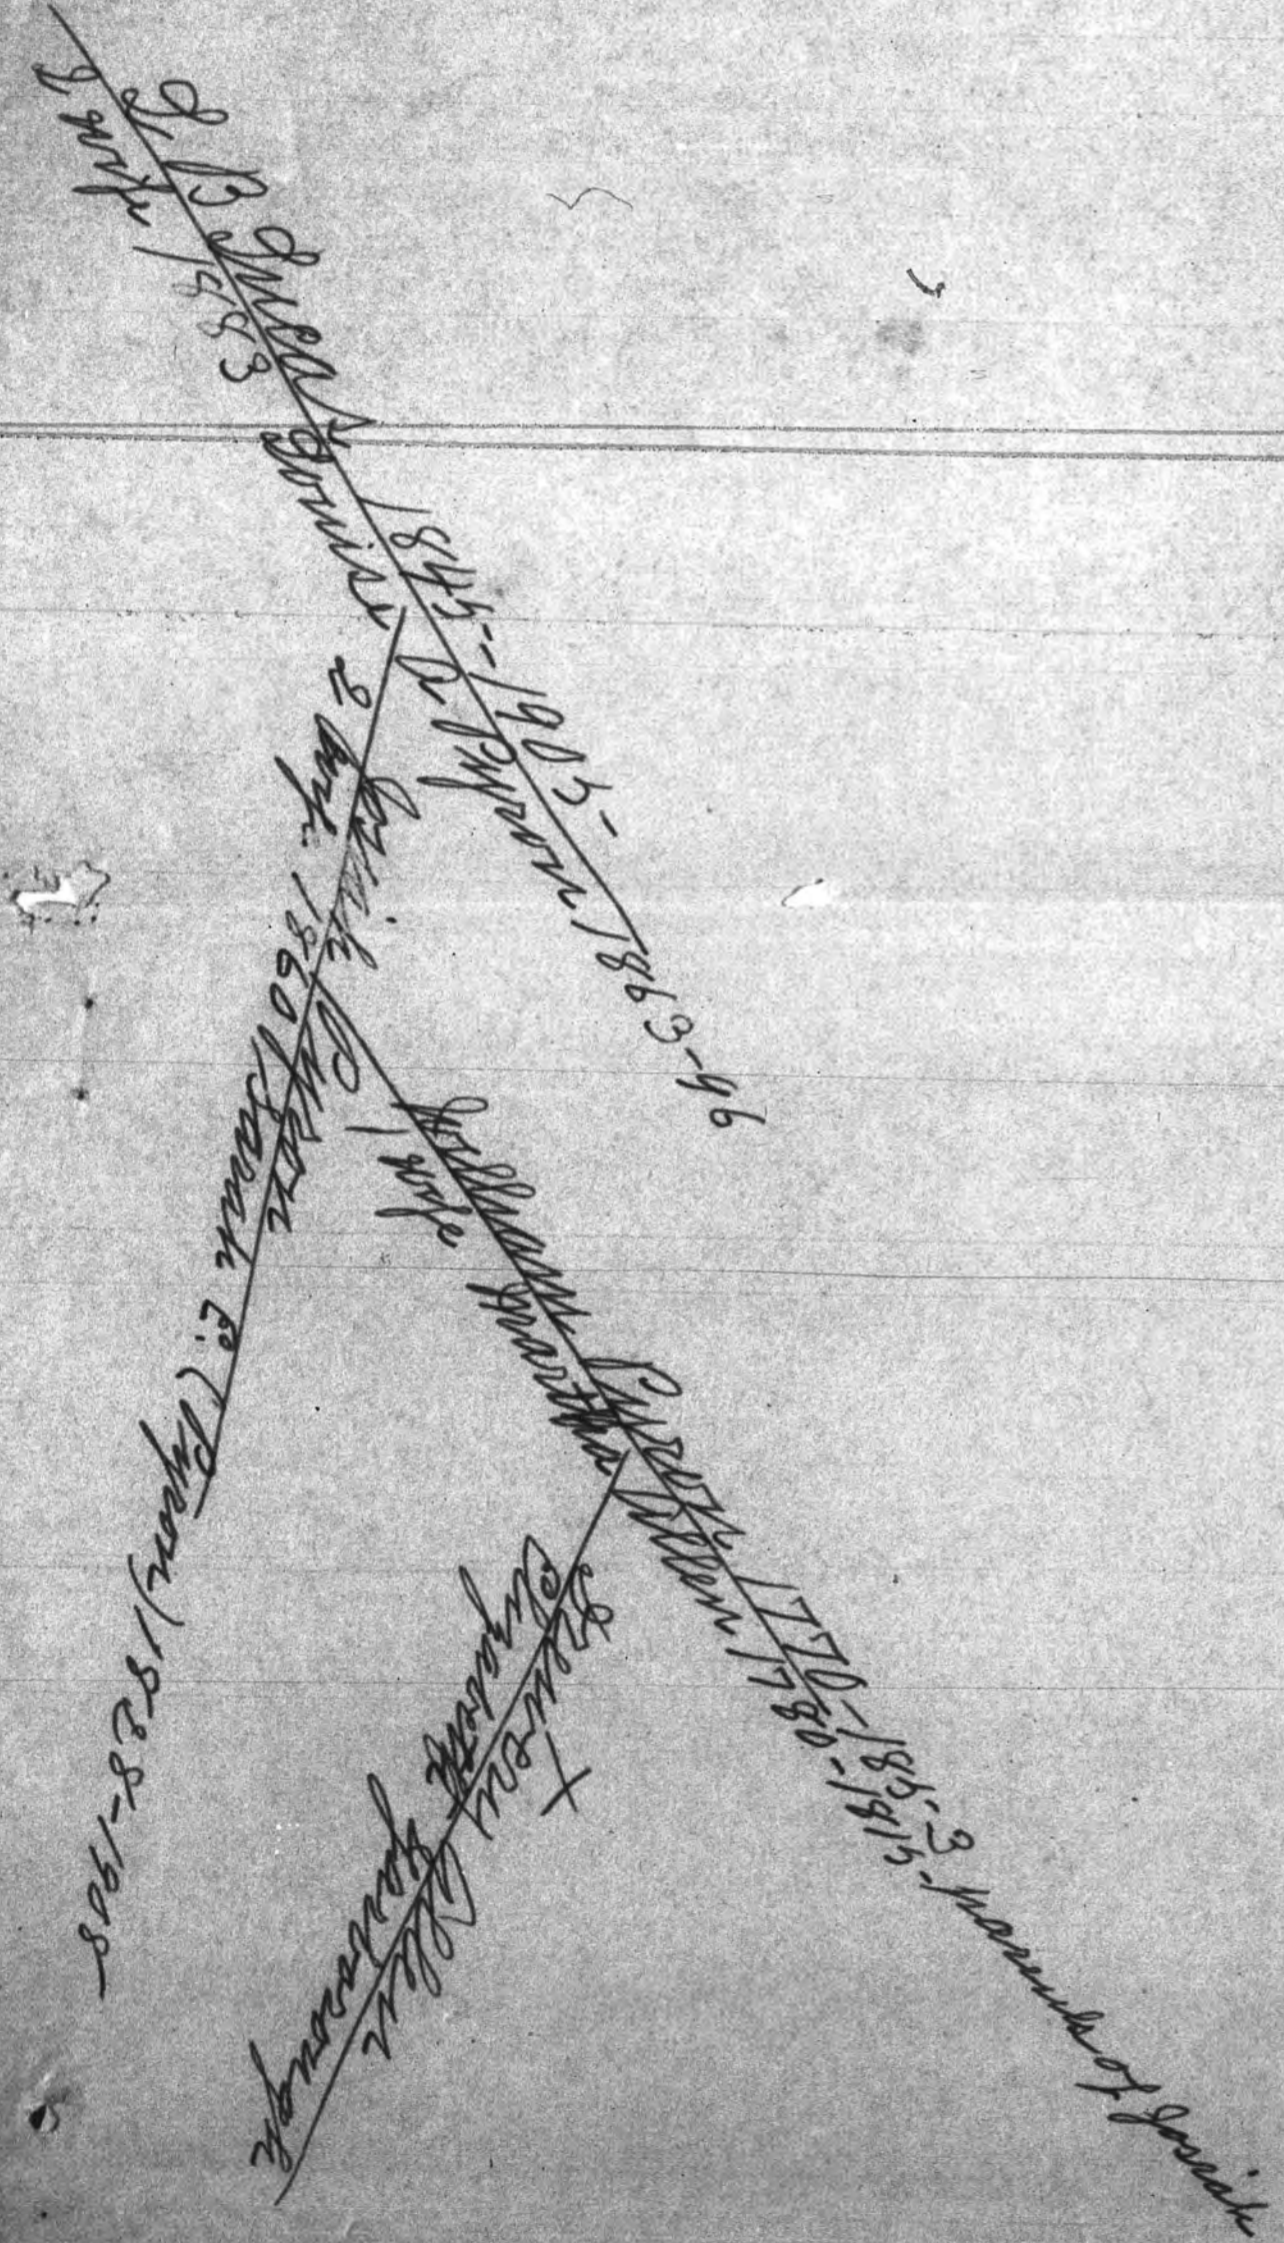

"Claude Allen, of Hazelwood, a son of John Allen, of Canton, is a great grandson of Richard Allen and Annie Walker Allen. He is a merchant of Hazelwood and an important figure in the affairs of that town.

"William G. Allen, the author of this work, came to Haywood County from Halifax in 1899. He was born in the last mentioned place, a son of James V. Allen and Maria Aaron Allen, both of Halifax. He is a grandson of John Allen and a great grandson of Colonel James Allen, who was the commanding officer of the Halifax Regiment during the last year of the Revolutionary War. He married, December 20, 1887, Cottie Wilkinson, a daughter of Jordan and Mary Jane Windley Wilkinson, both of Beaufort County, North Carolina. Their children are William G. Allen, Jr., of Raleigh, and Lillian May, who was, prior to her marriage to Humes H. W. Hart, of Cincinnati, an instructor in home economics at the University of Tennessee. They have two children, Humes, Jr., and Allen."

"Catawba Frontier 1775-1781 memories of Pensioners." (published in 1950, at 2223 Nebraska Ave., Washington, D.C.) by the compiler Mary Elmer Sagony, page 7: ALLEN, RICHARD 1775. In October or November he was 1st sergeant in Capt. Jesse Walton's company of minute men. To Salisbury, where they maneuvered 16 days, training and exercising soon, after which they returned home, arriving a few days before Christmas.

"1776. On Feb. 13 marched to Cross Creek having understood that the Scotch Tories were committing depredations. On the way they were joined by Col. Martin Armstrong at Old Richmond with Surry County militia. In Randolph County they were joined by Col. Alexander Martin of the Continental line with a small body of troops. Before their arrival a battle had been fought between Tories and under General Macdonald and militia under General Moore, in which the Tories were defeated with considerable loss, and a great number of prisoners taken. These were delivered to Capt. Jesse Walton and his company who were ordered as a guard to take them to Hillsboro. Before reaching there they were met by two companies of Light Horse under Captains Mebane and Shepherd, who took charge of the prisoners. Captain Walton and his company were discharged and reached home about March 29. They shot twice a week and continued to train and exercise themselves until their six months had expired.

Not long after this Allen was chosen ensign in Capt. Benjamin Cleveland's company and they received orders from Colonel Armstrong to go against the Indians who were committing great depredations on the frontier.

Soon after they returned they received orders from Colonel Armstrong to go in pursuit of Colonel Roberts (a Tory), who had embodied a number of Tories on the northwest side of the Blue Ridge. They were not able to overtake him until they had advanced considerably into Virginia, where they returned that he had disbanded his men, after which they returned home.

"1778. Early in the year Captain Cleveland was appointed Lieutenant Colonel, and Allen was made captain in his place.

"1779. In the latter part of the year a call came for troops.

to march to Charleston. A draft was made for one company from Wilkes County and also a draft was made for a captain and it fell to Allen. They rendezvoused at Hamblin's old store, Jan. 13, 1780.

1780. As soon as they could organized they went directly to Charleston, where they joined the Third S.C. regiment of militia under Col. Andrew Hampton. They were stationed about ten miles from the city, at Amotus Camps,

A letter from Mrs. G. Alan Carl of 246 Cherokee Road, Nashville 5, Tennessee, on Aug. 24, 1945, asking for information of George Brandon, born in 1703, probably in Scotland, made his will in 1772 in Rowan Co., N.C., & died the following year. She thinks he must have been the father of George, John, Christopher, Abraham, Jane, Mary, Eleanor & Sidney & the name of his wife Miriam(?) & that his eldest son, George the second must have married before his father's death & had George the third in Tenn. as did her husband, George III in 1844). She has no marriage bonds & to connect the links & would like a photostatic copy of the will of Geo. I.

She is also interested in the marriage record of John Dunn who married Mary Allen prior to 1802; also in the family of Jacob Nelson who taught school in Robeson Co., N.C. in the late 18th century & at Mt. Glio Academy in 1807—the name of his wife & children.
