Hon. Charles Price of Salisbury, N.C.

Sketches of Prominent Living North Carolinians (by Jerome Dowd in 1868) page 140: "HON. CHARLES PRICE, OF SALISBURY, Was born in Warren county, 1847; son of J.M. and Martha Price. He did not receive a classical education, but by his own efforts he has become one of the best of lawyers and has as large a practice perhaps as any lawyer in the State. He came to the bar in 1868, but did not practice until 1877, having been in politics before that time. He was Senator for Rowan and Davie in 1872 and '73 and '73 and '74. He was member from Davie in the Convention of 1875. He was Speaker of the House in the session of '76-77.

He was in the Confederate army one year as Captain in the First Regiment Junior Reserves.

He is now partner of Hon. David Schenk and his assistant as counsel of the R. & D. Railroad. He is also counsel for the Charleston, Cincinnati and Chicago Railroad.

Captain Price is a very handsome, dignified gentleman and a first-class lawyer."

" Jane Price, daughter of John Davidson Price, married John Whitley. They raised two sons, viz; Decater and Robert Davidson Whitley. The husband and father died before the youngest son, Robert D. Whitley, was born; Robert Davidson, an uncle of Mrs. Whitley, took her and the children and contributed much to supporting the widow and orphans. The family moved to Alabama, and after several years Mrs. Whitley and her son, Robert D., returned to North Carolina. Mr. R.D. Whitley purchased the Long Creek mill farm and married Esther McCoy, daughter of Marshal McCoy, and built up a delightful home. After the close of the war his wife became an invalid, and lived but a few years. She was a finely educated lady, and was much beloved by her neighbors. Mr. Whitley acted wisely in selecting a second wife, Martha McCoy, a sister of his first wife. She proved a mother indeed to her sister's children. They are now past the meridian, but enjoy life, surrounded by a happy family of children and a host of friends."

Biographical Sketches of the Early Settlers of the Hopewell Section &c., (by Dr. J.B. Alexander), page 44: "As has been observed in a previous chapter, Robert Davidson, while living in Pennsylvania, had two children, viz; John and Mary. After reaching his majority, John and his sister left their mother in Rowan County, she having formed a second marriage, as already stated, and come to the western part of Mecklenburg. Some time after John married Vidæet Wilson, Mary married James Price. They lived near Baker's graveyard. But little more than a genealogy can be given of this interesting family. They had three sons and one daughter, viz; John Davidson Price Thomas Price, William Price and Rachel Price.

" J.D. Price married Jane Beatty. They had five children, viz; Rachel, married Ezekiel Alexander; Margaret married Ephraim Alexander; Mary, married John Potts; Jane, married John Whitley, and Kisziah, married George Little.

" Tom price, son of James and Mary Price, married Mary Duckworth. They lived fifteen miles northwest of Charlotte, on the Beattie's Ford road. William Price moved to Tennessee. Rachel Price married John Bell. This family is probably of more prominence than some others, and will be given a more extended historical sketch. They lived eight miles north of Hopewell Church, and four miles east of Cowan's Ford, on the Catawba river. Mr. Bell was a skilled blacksmith, and a high-toned Christian gentleman. His wife, Rachel, was all that a good husband could desire. They had a number of children, but one boy, John Bell, Jr., married Melissa Alexander, and they raised one son and two daughters. Polly, Jennie and Sally never married, but spent useful lives and were greatly beloved for their good works. To nurse the sick and wait on the suffering was their peculiar calling. Martha married James Goodman, a good, Christian man. They raised four sons and three daughters. Rachel Bell married Alexander Gibson, a good, Christian man.

" The descendants of Jas. Price and Mary Davidson were amongst our best people, noted for Christian integrity and charitable deeds. The son of Lamira Bell, who married David Fiddler, occupies the old homestead.
